OUTICURA REMEDIES.

Now is the Time to Cure

It is at this season when the blood and perspiration are loaded with impurities, that Disfiguring Humors, Humiliating Eruptions, Itching Tortures, Salt Rheum or Eczema Psosasis, Tetter, Ringworm, Baby Humors, Serofula, Scrofulous Sores, Abcesses and Discharging Wounds, and every species of Itching, Scaly and Pimply Diseases of the Skin and Scalp are most speedily and economically cared by the Cuticusa Remedies. IT IS A FACT.

Hundreds of letters in our possession (copies of which may be had by return mail) are our authority for the assertion that Skin, Scalp and Blood Humors, whether Scrofulous, Inherited or Contagious, may NOW be permanently cured by Curioura Resolvant, the new Blood Purifier, Diuretic and Apperient, internally, and Curioura and Curioura Soat, the great Skin Cures and Beautifiers, externally, in one half the time and at one half the expense of any other season.

GREATEST ON EARTH.

CUTICURA RAMEDIES are the greatest medicines on earth. Has the worst case Salt Rheam in this county. My mother had it twenty years, and in fact died from it. I believe Uticura would have saved her life. My arms, breast and head were covered for three years, which nothing relieved or cured nutil I used the Curicura Resolvant internally, and Cuticura Soar extern lly.

J. W. ADAMS, Newark, O. GREAT BLOOD MEDICINES.

The half has not been told as to the great curative powers of the Curicua Remedies. I have paid hundereds of dollars for medicines to cure diseases of the blood and skin, and never found anything yet to equal the Curicus Remedies. GHAS. A. WILLIAMS.

Providence, E. I.

OURE IN EVERY CASE. Your Curioura Remedies outsell all other medicines I keep for skin diseases. My customers and patients say that they have effected a cure in every instance, where other remedies have fatied.

After a Kainy Ride a Country Physician Tells What He thinks of Some l'eople.

"I wish to gracious some people would earn when they need a doctor and when they don't," exclaimed Dector E-, as he entered his house in a cozy little village in the interior of the state of New York, after a tedious night ride of many miles "I have been down among the mountains to see a man who the messenger said was very sick and not likely to live until morning, unless he had immediate help; and found him suffering from a rather sharp attack of colle, which his family might have relieved in ten minutes, it they had a grain of sense and two or three simple remedies in the house. But no; they must remain ignorant as pigs, and when the least ache or pain takes them, send for a docwhich he will deliver, carefully weighed and screened, to any part of the city at the lowest market rates. Orders by mail or telephone tor, whether they ever pay him or not." " Why, Doctor, what kind of simple reme dies, as you call them, do you expect people to keep in the house ?" asked his wife, as she poured him a cup of hot tea.

"In this case," answered the Doctor, "if they had only put a BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER on the man's stoma h, he would have been all right in an hour and saved me a dreary 1ide."

In all ordinary complaints it cures at once All diseases are eliminated from the system by what may be roughly called expulsion or extraction, or by a union of the two process-Benson's Plaster promotes both. It incites the torpid organs to act and sends its healing, soothing influence through the myr-lad pores of the skin. All other plasters oblige the patient to wait. They give him hope for to-morrow. A NIGHT TRIP

ACROSS THE SUSQUEHANNA RIVER Novel Method by Which Lower End Chi-

zens Cross to York County-Ferrying With a Sled.

The Susquehauna at this time is Irozeu at Peach Bottom, from the Big Island to the York county shore. The ice is from 12 to 20 inches thick and perfectly safe for travel either on foot or by horse. The safety on foot, however, is quainfied by the safety on foot at the safety of the rains that have come since the ice was formed, and an occasional overflow of water, has made it very slippery. The "thoroughfare," as it is called by the rivermen, which is that part of the river between the Big Island and the Lancaster county shore is not frozen, and has been unusually high this winter, on account of all the current flowing through it, dammed from the other side. Crossing the lor-Bound River

One day last week I crossed to York county, and informed one of the ferrymen, whom I met in the middle of the river, mail bag over his shoulder and as bow legged as if he had been accustomed to sitting astride a barrel, that I would recross to the county of the Red Rose that night, and would want a boat to cross the "thoroughfare." After coming to an agreement about the boat, he journeyed on toward the rising and I toward the setting sun. To tell the truth, I was in constant fear that my individual sun would set every next minute, for my feet seemed de termined to go each his own way and never twice in the same direction. It is a small matter to walk across a patch of ice ten feet or so in extent and not fall, but when it comes to a stretch one and three fourth miles long it is business. But I did it. My gyrations, though, were wonderful, and if I had left any tracks they would have rivaled a crazy quilt for rookedness.

When I reached land again I drew a ong breath of relief, which is somewhat paradoxical for a Lancaster countian to do n York county.

The Return Trip. Returning to the river about seven o'clock in the evening, I made inquiry about getting over. A ferryman said he would show me the track over the ice. When we reached the shore, moved no doubt by my piteous and profane lamen tations concerning the sorry time I had coming over, he threw out the informa-tion that he would "push" me across the ice for a quarter. I assured him instantly that I was his man, whereupon he inquired.
" Do you mean it ?"

"Certainly," I replied, shaking some keys in my pocket. "That will only take you to the island," said he and for the boat there?" "Yes, yes," I answered, "I have another quarter, for there ; come on." "Here's at you' said he.

After a time, which I spent very pleasantly, keeping my feet warm and looking at the moon and stars shining and spark ling above me, and the beautiful sleeping river, my guide produced a kind of sled made of iron and pieces of boxes, with a low box on top for a seat, which he managed to tumble off and roll around in some water on top of the ice before it was ready for my occupancy. Making the Start.

The guide walked behind and pushed the sled by haudles attached to it, somewhat like the handles of a plow without the curve. My locomotive came to a stop soon, and after a long and loud "Whew !" informed me that he could haul four passengers, and baggage, I think, (although I'll not be certain about the baggage) on his sled at once; and it was an ever recurring problem to me the rest of the journey to figure out where those four passengers would put their legs, if they were nearly as long as mine. "Flyin" Over the loe.

I think my guide was one of those unfortunate fellows who look upon the cup when the wine glistens red. I'll not be certain either about the wine, for the man's unaccountable behavior may have been on account of sheer thirst, since the river was frozen, and I'm too much of a Democrat to be unjust to any man, especially to a thirsty one. At any rate my companion had somehow or other developed a liking to ask you over and over the same unimportant questions, and seemed perfectly satisfied to receive each time the same unvarying, boiled down answer. Another propensity he possessed was playfulness. Ever and auon he would strike up a run and I would con gratulate myself that now I would soon be home to my sisters and supper. When we would thus acquire considerable speed, he would without warning give me an extra sudden push, which would simultaneously find my head jerking back toward Delta, my feet kicking toward the stars and my car striking off on a tour of exploration from the line of travel, I didn't know toward what gaping air hole in the ice. Then my friend would come up puffing, out of breath, his creepers grinding into the ice, informing me it I had not leaned off to one side the sled would have gone straight. I bore it in silence. I never talked back to a ferry man but once and got left that time.

After puffing and blowing and walking around me my worthy pusher would nake ready to start again by asking me f we weren't "just a flyin'?" Reflections Born of the Occasion, Then as we moved along so smoothly and quietly, with the great plain of ice shining in the moonlight, reaching out before and around us, I would fall to wondering if that very beautiful star, a little to the south of east, that seemed all in motion, dancing to the charm of its own wonderful beauty, was not the star that we love so well, that came before the wise men from the east, and "stood over where the young child was." And then, those other stars, farther down on the eastern horizon, how like gems I thought, they shone in the crown night had dropped upon the dark, outlined, high hills of the distant shore. Then I thought how fascinating it was thus to ride above the angry harmless river, in the language of Byron, to "lay my hand upon its mane," with all night's beauty bending, smiling kindly above me, loving God through the perfection of His night ; wendering, as my sled shot away from another unexpected push, whether we really would run into an air hole, and trying to imagine the sensation of plunging into it, down under the ice, leaving but a bubble, born of my groan,

"Coldly The rough river ran."

while onward so

Then wondering who would miss me the most, my sisters or some one else's sisters, what friend would speak of me the kindliest-what I would find beyond ! how these whom I had known would remember me, whether they would be

"Owning my weakness,
My evil behaviour,
And leaving, with meekness,
My sins to my Saviour?" A Talk with the Guide. Again I was guided back to the track, and again my guide walked around me and Well 2" Ain't you Mr. Drumore," said he.

"Ain't you Mr. Drumore," said he.
"I am—yes."
"I thought so," he continued, "and I tell you if it hadn't just a been you, you'd never a caught me out on this here river to night, you wouldn't. Pardner told me you were a comin' and I was a goin' to see you over—ain't we just bin a flyin'?—and if it hadn't bin you Mr. Drumore, as did soon, safely, not finding "pardner' there with his boat, I drew the inference that my popularity did not influence the whole ferry as much as it did my pushing

"Why, he's not here !" said he.
"No," said I.
"Hold on, I'll bring him."

So, with a hand on either side of hi mouth he sang out :

"Yo, ho o o o, bo o at !"
And back came the answer, like an echo, faintly : " Al | | | | right !"

A few dips of the oars in a master's bands and I was in the boat; a few more and I was out. A little silver.

" Thanks !" " Good night !" DRUMORE.

Speining Reform. toston Bulletin.

"Margery," said Ethelbert, as they sat on opposite ends of the Turkish divan, "why am I like the letter Q?" and a silence fell, broken only by the melodious cough of Margery's warranted New England throat. "Because, dear," added Ethelbert, "I feel that I am useless without U." "I thought," said Margeny, "it was because—Q—never—begins-kissing." They spell it "quiss" now.

"Mrs. Partington, what do you use for a very oad cold?" asked Mrs. Dull. "Handkerchiefs, ma'am," answered the axed dame, looking over her spectacles. Handkerchiefs are a desideratum in the event of a cold, but a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is a necessity, because it not only relieves, but cures the worst cold or cough.

RAILROAD EMPLOYEES.

The leading business men of Providence R. I., compose the Hunt's Remedy Co., and they guarantee all testimonials published by them to be genuine. The following dates May 4, 1883, from Mr. W. H. Blanchard, Lowell Mass., is but one of the thousand remarkable cures that are being made by this wonderful medicine. Mr. Blanchard says : " I have been greatly troubled for over six years with acute idney disease, with severe pain in my back and hips. I was formerly employed on the Boston and Lowell Railroad, but was obliged, owing to the constant jar, to give up the railroad business, as many others have been obliged to do, on account of kidney disease. I have tried many medicines, but received no permanent relief. A friend recommended me to use Hunt's Remedy. I purchased a Pottle of one of our druggists in Lowell, and commenced to improve at once and after using two bottles I was entirely free from all pain, and consider myself cured, and I cheerfully recommend this wonderful medicine, Hunt's Remedy, to all the suffers from kidney and tiver disease."

AT LIBERTY.

For a number of years I was afflicted with kidney and gravel disease, and suffered with pains in my limbs and back at times so severe-ly that it seemed that I could not endure it. used several so-called cures recommended for these diseases, but they did me no good. A friend of mine that had used Hunt's Re medy, and pronounced it the best in use, urged me to try it, and I purchased a bottle at George E. Hall's drug store in Manchester, and before I had used one bottle I bagan to feel much better, the pains in the bladder and kidneys were reduced a good deal, and after using five bottles I found that Hunt's Remedy had done all that it was recommended to do It had removed all the pain, my appetite improved, and I gained several pounds in a few weeks I have renewed vigor and strengh for one of my years (51), and I can only thank the proprietors of Hunt's Remedy for my good health of today, and you are at liberty to publish this, that it may be the means of some ne being cured by the use of your truly wonderful remedy.
