THE PHILADELPHIA BUIDGE.

Mr. Malone Before the City Conneils, In the Philadelphia city councils yester day a communication was received from the chief commissioner of highways enclosic a schedule of the bids received for the construction of the new bridge over the Schuylkill river at Market street. The bids were as follows: H. Clark & pleted in sixteen months . R. A. Malone of Lancaster, $1,000,000 in eigh onths, and Alexander McGaw and as Smith, of Philadelphia, $1,197,132, in twenty mouths. A single bid was reuntil the money should be appropria-ted by councils. He replied that his bid was made on a cash basis, and he would not make any different arrangement with out the privilege of making another bid. Mr. Clark, of H. Clark & Co., said that he was prepared to go on with the work and receive the money from the city as it could be obtained. Mr. Smith, representing himself as Mr. McGaw, said that their bid had been made on the expectation of completing the work as far as the money would go, and then wait for a further appropriation, and would enter into a contract not to hold the city for any money beyond what may be appropriated from year to year. The matter was referred to a sub-committee, consisting of Measra, Lex, Banca, Bardsley, Malone, Marshall, Rowan and Snowden, with instructions to consider the bids under the agreements a stated, and report at a future meeting

A FIRM OF SWINDLERS A Washington Boro' Party Taken in.

Philadelphia Times.

Detectives have been looking into the case of C. Comstock & Co., 146 West street, who have been receiving a good many letters from all over the country. There is a firm by that name, but its address is not 146 West street, which is a saloon. Further investigation showed that two men had desk room in a loft over the liquor store. They were George Bennett and James Commerford. both ex convicts. Their scheme was to write country dealers for a price list and samples of their goods. When the list arrived they marked off such articles as they desired and ordered them. As the firm of Cornelius Comstock & Co, is marked A 1 by Bradstreet the goods were generally sent, although the address of the genuiue firm is not 146 West street. When the exconvicts got the goods they stored them or sold them. Among their victims are Brown & Co , Commerford were arrested to day. In for 20 days. Hutton's pocket book was 1873 Commerford was in business in Baltimore and in the confidence of a hotel|keeper there named Yost, who introduced him to Unger & Co., brokers. Commerford drew a check on them for $43,000. They telegraphed to Yost, asking if it would be safe to cash it. He answered, "All Right," and they paid Commerford the money. He get away with it, too; but eight menths later was captured and imprisoned. Burnott has served two terms in Pennsylvania for similar swindling schemes.

Freight Wreck.

Yesterday afternoon a freight wreck occurred on the Pennsylvania railroad, at Chester Valley intersection, just east of Downingtown. A wheel of a freight car on a west bound train drawn by engine No. 35 was broken. Five cars were thrown from the tracks, and they had to be tossed to the sides in order to move trains. It was three and a half hours before the tracks were cleared and all evening passenger trains were late.

ROWDYISM.

A Row Raised by a Drunken Gang There was a good deal of drunken and disorderly conduct in the vicinity of the Pennsylvania railroad passenger depot late night and early this morning. A last gang of four or five men who had been drinking freely, got to quarreling among themselves. R. H. Hutton accused Jeff. Stevens of stealing his pocket book containing $5. The party went into the City hotel and being disorderly were requested to leave. Some of them refused to do so, whereupon Policeman Weidler was called of Washington bero', Pa., C. THURSDAY MVENING, FEB. 14, 1884 FROM WASHINGTON.

NEWS OF INTEREST AT THE NATIONAL OAPITAL. The President Receives Visitors and Tells When He Spent the Happiest Days of His Life-The Danville Riots

Investigation, Washington, Feb. 14.—Members of the national educational convention, now in House to day and paid their respects to the president. The visitors were presented to the president by Gen. Eaton, commis-sioner of education, and chairman of the convention. Commissioner Eaton, addressed the president, briefly reviewing the objects of the convention The president responded, welcoming his visitors and saying that "the happiest hours of his life were when he was a school eacher. The experiences of those years n the cultivation of the youthful minds were of greatest value to him now in dealing with children of a larger growth." He promised his hearty cooperation in the efforts of the convention in the cause of popular education.

Toe Danville Riots. Washington, Feb. 14.-The investigation of the Danville election riots was begun here this morning. Several colored witnesses testified to the shooting of colored men on the 3d of November, at Danville, and the consequent fear of the negroes to vote at the election a few days later. One of the colored witnesses was a policeman, on duty at Danville at the time of the riot. He said he saw the whites shooting down negroes in the street, but made no arrests, being afraid to do so.

The Greety Relief. Chief Engineer Melville has been sum moned here by Secretary Chandler to assist n fitting out the proposed Greely re-ief expedition. Carpet Manufacturers in Washington. A number of carpet manufacturers from various parts of the country appeared before the ways and means committee to day and argued against any change in tariff on wool and woolen goods. Senator Sherman on the Tariff.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.-The Mail and Express will print an interview with Senator Sherman this afternoon on the tariff question. The senator thinks Congress ought to let the subject severely alone, He said further that "the laws enacted by the Republican party for the past 14 years show that it has been from the beginning and is still in favor of protective duties with a view to diversify our industries. It was almost certain that were the Demo crats in power they would take ground against all systems of protection." He thought that "free trade, as expressed by college professors and political theorists would be utterly destructive to business interests of the country and would produce the same stagnation in trade and financial ruin that followed the tendency to free trade in 1837 and 1857.

Condensed Telegrams. The Ohio river at Cincipnati rose all last night, and at 9 a, m. registered 71 feet. The weather is cold. At other places the river is stationary or, falling. The misery, destitution and distress are dreadful. Relief is being given.

The New Jersey Legislature to day passed a bill forbidding corporations to acquire further real estate until they have filed an agreement to comply with the tax laws. The Susquehauna at Wilkesbarre has feet above low water mark, and rising an inch an hour. The west side banks are inundated. No serious damage is apprehended. The Postal Telegraph Cable Company.

Prople's Parsonser. accused her neighbor of having sent the print, while the latter protested that she had also been the recipient of an uncomplimentary valentine and declared that Louisa had been the sender. Their recriminations led to blows. During the fight Barbara is said to have chewed Louisa's thumb between her teeth, and when the latter broke away she was struck with a club. Her opponent, it is said, then left the house with the declaration that she would settle the fight with a hatchet. Before the threat was executed, however, the woman clinched again, and during the struggle Louisa drew a revolver. A moment later it was discharged and the Miner woman fell. The noise of the fight attracted a crowd in front of the house, and when Louisa rushed into the street she was surrounded and given into the custody of Offi cer Carroll. She was taken before a mag-

POISON IN A PIR.

A Miner Charging Ha Wite With Attempting to Kill Him. An attempt to take the life of her husband by poisoning was made on Tuesday by the wife of Charles Chamberlain, a miner, living in Kingston. He had been at work as usual and at noon took his dinner pail and sat down to eat. Besides a quantity of bread the pail continues. a quantity of bread, the pail contained a large piece of raisin pie, and this Cham-berlain intended to eat first. As he took it out of the pail it broke and a por-tion of the upper crust felt off, when he saw, by the dim light of his lamp—for he national educational convention, now in was at work 700 feet below the ground—session in this city, called at the White that the fruit was thickly sprinkled with a that the fruit was thickly sprinkled with a green powder. He put the pail away, and in the evening took it to a doctor, who pronounced the substance to be Paris green. A further examination of the pail's contents showed that every piece of bread and butter had received a slight sprinkling with the same powder.

Chamberlain stated that his wife put up the dinner and no one else had touched it. His wife bears a very bad reputation. This morning Chamberlain caused his wife's arrest. She denied all knowledge of the matter, but it has been discovered that she bought some of the poison a few days before.

Trapped His Wife. A resident of Collinsby, Ontario objected to a young man paying his respects to his daughter, and set a large rat-trap at the spot over which the lover would surely ass. The parent was not aware that his wife was visiting when he set the trap. About 11 o'clock at night he was aroused by the screams of his wife, who had one of her feet caught in the trap, but she was released by the lover, who was in the par lor at the time, before the husband arrived. The young man is now a welcome visitor at the house.

Two Men Drowned. Frank Heinberger and John Seeman were drowned while attempting to cross the Monongahela river at Port Perry. They sought to land above an empty coal barge lying on the other side. The steamer Dexter, which had been lying further up stream, began working ahead just as Heinberger and Seeman were cross-ing the bow of the barge beneath, which they were drawn by the combined action of the current and that of the Daxter. They made desperate efforts to row their skiff beyond the barge, but found it impossible
