JOR REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE Events Along the Susquehanza-Items Interest In and Around the Borough

Picked up by the Intelilgencer Reporter. Election day passed off without any fighting. Towards the latter part of the afternoon drunken men were seen every-where. The result of the election does not change the face of affairs very materially from what they stood last year. The Democrats retain control of council and gain the school board, while the Republicans secure the Second ward justiceship and elect a chief burgess.

The surface of the elected school directors, and return Horace Bucher to council. John Beck is elected chief burgess by the Democrats, who also take possession of the constableship in the person of John Bell. The Republicans content themselves with a judge of elections, C. Nagle filling that position after the present holder retires.

The Borough News in Brief. Mr. Daniel Stape and wife celebrated their golden wedding last evening. About 65 guests were present, some being from neighboring cities and towns. Rev. Henry Wheeler, of Philadelphia, was among the crowd that came to congratulate the aged The house was handsomely ed. The refreshment table was leaded with all of the delicacies of the sea-

Some excitement was created in town yesterday afternoon by the report that a horse thief was in town. Investigation revealed the fact that the supposed thief was a law abiding resident of Mountville. Lectures and dramatic entertainments are following in close order here. What with balls, fairs, &c., the people's money is kept flying about lively.

BURTHDAY OFLEGRATIONS

A Graceful Tripute to a Beloved Teacher. On Feb. 7 Prof. Wm. M. Nevin, LL. D. of F. & M. college, celebrated his 78th some of the alumni of the college through the Ladies' Mite society of the Reformed church at Carlisle. The idea was suggest ed by the interest which the professor exhibited, during a recent visit to that place, in seeing the progress of its making; and when the matter was brought to the attention of the alumni, their responses were hearty and liberal. The gift was accompanied with the following poem by one of his many grateful pupils, warm admirers and sincere friends who remembers his labors with affection and cherishes his friendship with pride :"

Bright as the quilt may this day be, Happy and of practusing.

The Response.

In his letter acknowledging the rece of the testimonal Prof. Nevin said :

'The poem in the Scottish dialect, written by one of the alumni and received by with the quilt, setting forth the superiority, in all respects, of this modern covering to the boasted tartan plaid of the Scottish Highlanders, which might dare to vie with it in its varied bues, brings vivialy to my recollection the cloak of Highland plaid the students used to wear at Dickinson college some sixty years ago, of whom I was a promising one, so admirably fitted and convenient for throwing around one's shoulders and self with small clothing underneath, at five o'clock in the morning, to hurry us down stairs and he in the chapel at proper time for our morning prayers; after which, on return ing to our rooms and throwing ourselves on our cots, still enwrapt in our cloaks, we could still have a very comfortable little nap before the bell rang us up again for breakfast. Never then did I think I would live to see the day when I should have th pleasure and comfort of throwing around my shoulders or over my bed, presented to me by the alumni and ladies of some sixty years between, a silken quilt of such exquisite texture and hues as this, so far surpassing any plaid that any bare legged Highlander ever wore, in which, in these, my latest and declining years, I can wrap myself around and indulge in pleasant

Rev. Dr. J. W. Nevin, LL. D., is eightyone years old to day; but there will be no The Equine Paradox.

There was another large and pleased audience gathered in the opera house last evening, despite the rain and the election, to witness the entertainment given by Prof. Bartholomew's horses. The animals were suffering from a slight indisposition last evening, the result of unfavorable cir cumstances, and did not appear as lively as they usually are. However, this matter is not serious, and the performance this evening will be doubtless marked by the usual vivacity. The astonishing features of this performance should be seen. The Northern Market. This morning the directors of the Northern market house, held a meeting and decided to re-erect the building as soon as possible. A plan was adopted and bids will be received up to March 1st. Appointed Clerk. Charles S. Carpenter, son of the late Wm. Carpenter, was yesterday appointed to a clerkship in the Lancaster county national bank.

AS OTHERS SEE US.

Lancaster and the Surrounding Country. W. Buck in Bradford Argus. Lancaster, although the richest agricultural county in the commonwealth, is comparatively little known to the majority of the people of the northern portion of the state, mainly for the reason that Philadelphia and the cities and the anthra cite coal region receiving its largest share of the produce of that section, while this finds its markets in Philadelphia and New York. In consequence, our knowledge of this county is confined to the somewhat limited information that Lancanter's chief distinction consists in being able to fur-nish heavy Republican majorities, and having been the home of James Buchanan and Thad Stevens. On account of this I have concluded to write something of the material interests of this wealthy county, trusting that it may be of some interest to your readers. The surface of the county for ten miles about the city is rolling, with on occasional elevation, rendering the views of the well cultivated fields, interspersed with small fields of timber, particularly attractive to the eye, and relieving the monotony. The laud is underlayed at the depth of a few feet with an excellent quality of limestone, which renders the recuperation of the soil of comparatively small excellent. of the soil of comparatively small expense. The result of this is that thirty-five bushels of wheat to the acre is only an average yield, while all the cerials are grown in the largest quantities per acre. The price of land has reached $250 and $300 per acre; and I was informed that the value of land rendered anything in the way of of land rendered anything in the way of ordinary farming too expensive, in conse-quence tobacco raising is the great agri-cultural product of this section, and the value of this crop, in Lancaster county, when ready for market, without being manufactured, reaches annually over three million dollars, more than is pro-duced in the Connecticut valley, which has a national reputation as a tobacco growing region. Several million dollars is invested in warehouses and in the manufacture of tobacco and eigars, which gi employment to something over one thousand workmen. Robrerstown and Mountville are two pleasant and thriving villages situated respectively three and five miles from Lan-caster, on the Columbia turnpike, a very fine road but severely afflicted with toll gates, which come with great regularity and at very brief intervals, besides the charges are extravagantly high; if this road was located in the northern counties somebody would soon ascertain whether there was not some way to reduce them and it is quite surprising that the people of this section have not done so. We drove out by Wheatland, the home of Buchanan, which is an old fashioned residence, with chimneys, the place contains ten acres, and the house is shaded by birthday, and it was made the occasion for the presentation to him of a very bandsome and elaborate sik quilt from most naturally select. The place descend ed to his favorite niece, Harriet Lane, now Mrs. Johnston, who presided at the White House during Mr. Buchanau's term as president.

About one mile west of the city is located the Lancaster watch manufactory, which consists of several substantial brick buildings, well painted, giving them a neat and attractive appearance. The quality of watches made here are said to be second to none in the United States.

We called upon Mr. John S. Hoover, who reaided about a mile from the village of Mountville. Mr. H. lives in a fine brick farm house. His generous hospital ity will not soon be forgotten. He is one the largest tobacco raisers in the country, the largest tobacco raisers in the country, and has a herd of beef cattle that is the finest I ever saw. They are steers three years old, and now average eighteen hundred pounds. Mr. Hoover is a representative Democrat, and is the county is ever fortunate enough to be divorced from Republican supremacy, he will come to the front as the representative of the live, progressive Democracy of the country. progressive Democracy of the country. The court house at Lancaster is a good building, but the offices of the prothono tary and register are small and cheerless, very unlike what one would expect to find in such a large and wealthy county. The prothonotary and register are gentlemen whom it is a pleasure to meet, and they certainly deserve more agreeable sur soundings in their official quarters. I am indebted to Mr. E. L. Hambright for many courtesies extended, whose hos pitality and congeniality have only to be known to be appreciated.

OBITUARY.

Death of a Weil Known Citizen.

George Schulmyer, who lived on the corner of Frederick and North Queen streets, and who was one of the best known citizens of Lancaster, died at 10 a m, to day, after a three weeks' illness of pleurisy and pneumonia. He was born in Heidleberg, Baden, and came to America about thirty years ago. He was a rope maker by trade and worked at that call ing for a number of years; he first went into the coal business with Philip Finger, and then with A. W. Russell, in whose partnership he continued to his death. He was also largely engaged in building, and owned considerable real estate at the time

Mr. Sohulmyer was a member of Hebel edge of Odd Fellows; of Teutonia No. 165 Knights of Pythias; he was a stockholder of the Mænuerchor association, and a member of the congregation and treasurer.

In the Balsam my Eatr has stopped falling out, and I find that it is a perfectly harmless and agreeable dressing. 19 Imd5 &cow W member of the congregation and treasurer of the building committee of St. Stephen's Lutheran church. He had served in the common council of this city from the 9th Deceased was 59 years old and leaves widow, four daughters and one son, the youngest of his family being 17 years of age. He was an estimable man; highly respected by all who knew him and a representative of the best type of our Ger-man-American citizens. His funeral will take place from his late residence No. 602 North Queen street, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the Lancaster cometery.

LOWER END NEWS.

Condensed From the "Oxford Press." Mrs. John Swisher, of Kirkwood, is suf ering with a broken leg, the result of a fall some time ago. Geo. S. Truman's creamery at Kirkwood is in successful operation and is now re-ceiving about 2,500 pounds of milk per Geo. W. Runner, of Little Britain, has an ewe which for the past two years has given birth to three lambs each year, and this year has produced four. They are all fine, strong and healthy lambs and the whole family is doing well.

At the public sale of John Jackson &

Brother, Little Britain township, the following prices were obtained : Twenty-six head of cows, fresh and springers, averaged $55.12 per head; 3 Jersey cows were bid to $101, $85.50, $78, and withdrawn; oxen, $196, $93; bulls, $52.50, $50, $35.50. 50, $190.50; two year old colt $30; hogs, $3.50 to $14.25.

Mrs. Esther C. Hallowell, who died recently in Franklin township, Chester county, aged 86, was the mother of Lucro-tia M., wife of Samuel P. Baily, of Gap, Lancaster county, the widow of the late Joseph Hallowell. Their wedded life ex tended over a period of more than fifty years. On March 21, they celebrated their godien wedding. Scarcely three years later her husband died, in his 85th year. Since then she has continued to man ar live at the old homestead, with the exception of a few years spent with her daughter, Mrs. Baily, at the Gap. Holes in the Streets. A sewer has caved in near the corner of Mary and Chestnut streets and it should be repaired at once. There is also an ugly sink on Rockland street near Vine, and another at the corner of Dorwart and Manor street, from the sewer caves.

Court of Common Plens

BEFORE JUDGE PATTERSON. This morning at the opening of court the case of Julius Lederman and Herman Gottschalk, trading as Lederman & Gotts-chalk, now for the use of Simon I. Kuhn, assignee, vs. the North British and Merassignee, vs. the North British and Mer-cantile insurance company, action on insurance policy, was attached. The plaintiffs to this suit were engaged in the dry goods and notion business in Loeb's building on North Queen street in the spring of 1882. They had their stock insured with companies represented by Bausman & Burns for $24,000 on stock and $1,000 on fixtures. Of this amount $5,000 was in the company of the defendant and the remainder was divided among five other companies. On the 30th of May the stock companies. On the 30th of May the stock was destroyed by a fire, the origin of which is unknown. It was claimed that at the time of the fire the value of goods on hand was $26,637.57, and their actual loss was $22,817.23, on stock. This snit is brought to recover from the defendant their proportion of the latter amount, with interest from August 29th, 1882. BEFORE JUDGE LIVINGSTON.

The whole of yesterday afternoon was taken up with the hearing of witnesses for the defense in the will case of John Green-burger vs. James H. Beam. They testified that Catherine Beam was not of sufficient capacity to make a will and undue influence was exercised by plaintiff over her so that she made the will in his favor.

In rebuttal the plaintiff then called witness to show that deceased was of sound mind and that she made the will in favor of the plaintiff because she had a good home with him. On trial.

Slight Accident.

This afternoon a car of the train drawn by engine No. 757, jumped the track at the switch at Robrerstown. The accident was caused by a loose wheel and little damage was done. Frederick accommo-dation west was obliged to take the south

RESCUED FROM DEATH The following statement of William J. Cough in, of Somerville, Mass., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for it the attention of our read ers. He says; "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs, followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the sum-mer of 1877 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half-dollar. I expended over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicines. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope but a friend told me of DR. WM. HALL'S RALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I laughe at my friends, thinking my case incurable, but I get a britle to satisfy them, when to my surprises d gratification, I commenced to feel better My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to lay I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years. "I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with Diseased Lungs will be induced to take DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, and be convinced that CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done me more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness. My cough has almost entirely disappeared and Lahall soon be able to go to work.

Then it was this remedy that saved you "Then it was this remedy that saved your life, doctor?" Yes, I can testify from a grateful heart that It is invaluable for men or women who are depressed by reason of disappointments and reverses; who are losing flesh and strength and who must find relief or a fatal termination awaits them. I prescribe this great remedy to my patients constantly and the wonderful effects I observed in my own case I see repeated in their experiences. It is this that makes me certain I can endury the cares of the great Sanitarium I am about to establish."
