" Virginius."-This great play will be pre-sented in the opera house this evening by

Frederick Warde. The Brooklyn Eagle says

Mr. Frederick Warde presented hims alf as Virginius before an audience notable for its culture and intelligence, and the coldness of its criticism. Mr. Warde not only essayed a formidable undertaking but displayed an artistic courage of by no means small propor-tions. That he was undoubtedly successful in breaking down the tey reserve of his anditors, compelling their sympathy, awakening their admiration and arousing their enthusiasm to a point bordering closely upon a personal ovation, indicates more clearly than any lengthy description of the performance in detail the extent of the artistic triumph that attended his efforts. His Virginius is an intel lectual conception. The settings of the stage are said to be admirable, and the costumes historically correct and exceedingly beauti

wm. M. Busting has sold his farm, containing 160 acres, in Colerain township, to his brother Walter, and intends to quit farming. Dr. C. II. Stubbs, of Fulton township, was stricken with paralysis at an early hour on Monday morning last. One side is disabled and his speech is somewhat impaired.

Captain C. B Hebble, of Virginia, formerly of Quarryville, erected a steam saw mill on Joseph G. Moore's place in West Nottingham, and is converting the timber into bending stuff, posts, &c.

Improvement is to be made on the Peach Bottom railroad as soon as the spring opens. The ties and road bed are renewed and put in order where needed and general repairs made all along the line. The new schedule for the spring will embrace a train leaving the river early enough in the morning to connect with the preser : 6:30 train at Oxford for Philadelphia. This will be a great advantage to the Laucaster county people and also to York countains who want to reach Oxford and the city early in the forenoon.

An Old Citizen Found Dead, About 4 o'clock last Monday afternoon, William McFadden, an old and well known citizen of Little Britain, was found dead near Fairmount school house. He had been engaged in cutting wood-the axe was near by, his hat by his side and ap parently without a struggle his spirit had taken its flight. The body was carried to the residence of J. L. Walker, where an inquest was held by Deputy Coroner Morrison The jurors were T. M. Patter-sou, Frank Greenleaf, Robert Cleedenin, Robert Jackson, William Evans and Washington Walker; Dr. J. W. Zell physician, The verdiet rendered was death from apoplexy. Deceased was last seen alive about 1 o'clock, at which time he left Fairmount store, after carefully placing his walking cane behind the door. remarking that he would call for it; being in his usual health and more than gen erally cheerful spirits. He was in the 78th year of his age. Interment at Mt. Hope, M. E. church on Thursday.

Silver Wedding in Dramore. The silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. George Evans was orlebrated on Saturday, March 1st, 1884, at their residence by their neighbors and friends coming en masse and taking them by storm, they not know ing of the affair until the company arrived. A sumptuous banquet was spread and well appreciated by all. Addresses were delivered by Rev. J. M. Galbreath, Rev. J. B. Turner, Wm. S. Hastings and Dr. J. M. Deaver, also Ross A. McCommon, who was the groom's best man twenty-five years ago. A letter was read from Rev. F. C. Porter, D. D., of Lafayette college. Easton, Pa., who married them a quarter of a century ago, and E. T. Evans, a brother, of Sh. Joseph, Missouri, and a poem by Mrs. N. D. Webb, of Drumore, was read by Mr. Turner. The happy couple were the recipients of quite a number of haudsome gifts from their children and others.

SERIOUS DEIVING ACCIDENT,

A Lady's Leg Fractured and Lacerated, On Monday as Mrs. Hohn, of Millers ville, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Henry Seckman, was driving on the hill road near Harnish's mill, Conestoga town her horse became unmanageable. Mrs. Hohn in jumping from the carriage, got her leg caught between the spokes of the wheel, and as the wheel revolved, the cap of her knee was torn off, the small bone of the leg badly fractured, and the tendons and muscles about the knee badly lacerated. On being extricated she was carried to Mr. Seckman's house, not far distant, where she still lies in a rather critical condition, not being well enough to be removed to her home. Dr. J. C. Gatchell was called in and rendered all possible surgical assistance, and it is hoped the injured leg may be saved. A Poor "Rip Van Winkle" Company. Last evening J. M. Hickey's dramatic company appeared in the opera house in the old and well worn play of "Rip Van Winkle." Owing to the low prices there was a large audience present. The company, like many of those presenting "Uncle Tom," is composed of cheap material, and it seems to have been organized for small towns. The star is Orlando M. Blake, who appears in the title role. He is a fair actor, entirely unfitted for the part, being unable to speak in the dialect necessary for the character. Mr. Blake's support was poor and the audience was disap-pointed at the presentation of the play.

The Insurance Case Still on Trial. The trial of the Gottschalk-Lederman insurance case was resumed this morning. The first witness called by the defense was E. E. Snyder, who testified that he was at the store on the night of this fire ; he entered from the rear after prying the door open; the fire was in the south vestern corner ; Chief Engineer Howell had a piece of wa ding, which he handed o witness, who smelled it and thought it and been soaked with coal oil.

Chief of Police Daighler was recalled and testified that the goods that were washed out of the store by the water on this night were picked up by the police and firemen and were carried to a closet n the Grape hotel.

Joseph Goodendorf testified that he sarried one box of goods from the hotel back to the store. Fred'k Wolf testified that he passed by he store a little before 11 o'clock, and then all was dark : witness was boarding at the Grape and got to the fire before the alarm; was at the north window when Herman

Gottschalk came with the key and said :

"I did not do this; my God, I am ruined" this was before the door was opened and nobody had charged Gottschalk with having done anything; as he was being carried across the street he kept talking.

Jacob Bateman, a hoseman of No. 1 engine company, testified that he was at the fire, when Gottschalk came up and said "My God, I did not know anything about this; I am ruined;" witness was right near to him at the time; afterwards some one accused him of firing the build

BUDGET OF FOREIGN TRANSACTIONS The Latest Movement in the Court Scandal at Berlin-London Detectives After Dynamiters-Matters in the LONDON, March 5.-Nellis, the Irish informer, who surrendered the other day to the Greenerk police and who professed to give the names of the murderers of the Earl of Leitrim, is believed to be a lunatic.

Detectives After Dynamiters. The efforts of the police to discover the authors of the recent dynamite outrages continue with unabated zeal. It appears perfectly certain that they are upon the right trail and they are constantly bring ing new facts to light which they believe will assist them in soon placing the con pirators in their hands.

It has now been learned that three men landed at Southampton February 20 from the steamer Ronau, which left New York February 10. Two of them were gentle men-like in appearance, the other rough and sailor-like. They purchased two portmanteaus, one of which has been identified as that found at the Charing Cross station filled with explosives, the other as that found at the Victoria station. A portion of an overcoat found in the Charing Cross bag is similar to a garment worn by one of the three men. Asking Satisfaction.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 5 .- Earl Dufferin, the British ambassador, has asked the Porte for satisfaction for the manner in which the officials of Smyrna have been treating the foreign coasting vessels They have prevented steamers from embarking passengers and have removed the union jack from the English vessels. Berlin's Court Scandal, BERLIN, March 5 .- The Princes: Marie Anna, who some weeks ago left her husband, the Prince Frederick Charles, and took refuge with her family at Anhalt on account of the prince's alleged indiscretion with one of the court ladies, returned to Berlin yesterday and rejoined her husband. The latter met her at the railway station, and later in the day she was received by the emperor and empress. In the Soudan.

CATRO, March 5 .- General Graham has arrived at Suakim. The troops are embarking for Trickitat for Suakim. The cavalry, before leaving Tokar, discovered that Osman Digma is stationed ten miles from Suakim.

RECENT ELECTIONS.

What Brought Senator Edmunds to a Remarkably Full stop.

Senator Edmunds a short time since gave a political dinner with the purpose, it is said, of commending himself to certain important parties as a presidential candidate. The subject he brought before the guests was the necessity of reviving in some form the Morroe dostrine. He was proceeding to enlarge upon this at considerable length, but was cut short by the somewhat sharp questson of William Walter Phelps, who asked:

"Why, if you hold these views, Mr. Edmunds, did you not sustain Blaine in 1881 when he endeavored to enforce them so pointedly?"
