IN MEMORIAM.

MEETING OF THE SCHOOL BOARD Resolutions Passed and Speeches Made the Death of Peter McConomy-Merited Tributes to a Good

Citizen. A special meeting of the Lancaster school board was held Saturday evening to take action on the sudden death of Peter McConomy, late a member of the board. The following named members were Messrs. Brown, Byrne, Cochran, Darm-stetter, Eberman, Gast, Herr, Wm. John-son, J. M. Johnston, Marshall, McComsey, McCormick, Oblender, Ochs, Raub, Rei mensnyder, Richards, Ringwalt, Schwebel, Slaymaker, Smeych, Spurrier, and Levergood-president.

The President's Remarks. On announcing the object of the meet ing, President Levergood said he need not tell the members of the board of the amazement and distress with which the news of Mr. McConomy's death was re ceived, for it pervaded alike their hearts. He met him only a few days ago in ful vigor and health, and he then expressed his intention of being present at the meeting of the board on Thursday evening; but, alas, at the very hour the board was in session, and we were awaiting his arrival, he was passing through the valley o the shadow of death. He had known Mr. McConomy long and well, as he had known his excellent father before him, and it was no slight or undeserved praise to say that he had performed all his duties, in the school board and elsewhere, with as much devotion and wisdom as had marked the work of his distinguished father. The call for the special meeting, signed by W. O. Marshall, Luther Richards, A. K. Spurrier, Daniel Smeych, H. E. Slay maker, Wm. A. Morton and J. M. John stop, was then read. Rev. C. Reimensnyder moved that committee of three be appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the sentiments o the board on the sad occasion, which had called them together. The motion was agreed to, and the president appointed Rev. C. Reimensnyder, Wm. McComsey and J. Hay Brown, esq., as the committee.

The Resolutions. The committee retired and after a brief absence returned and reported the WHEREAS, This board has learned with profound sorrow of the sudden death of our late associate member, Peter Mc-ter as a man, and his wise counsels and valuable services as a member of this 3. Resolved, That we extend our sincere sympathy and condolence to his family in their deep affliction and bereavement, 4. Resolved, That we attend his funeral n a body on next Monday morning, Resolved, That these resolutions be published in our daily papers and a copy hereof be transmitted to the family of the leceased by the secretary of the board. The resolutions having been read Mr. McComsey, of the committee, spoke substantially as follows: He said many deaths had occurred mongst the members of the board during his term of service, but no death had touched him more deeply than the death of Peter McConomy, and he could scarcely realize that he is dead. Only the other evening at the meeting of a committee, of which he was a member, he was with us, apparently in his usual health and cheerful spirits, took an active part, and, as was his custom, manifested a lively interest in the subject under consideration. Having prepared the report of the committee Mr. McComsey had taken it to Mr. McConomy the day before his death for his approval when he expressed his entire satisfaction; thanked him for what he had done, and authorized him to attach his name to it.

Peter McConomy was dead. He had expected to see him as usual at the meeting of the board and when the roll was called had looked for his familiar, friendly face, but alas his seat was vacant, and there was no response. Little had he then thought that Peter McConomy was already in the shadow of death, and was at that moment passing "through the dark valley," in answer to the call of a higher power. Mr. McComsey said words but poorly expressed what he felt, and, he would only give utterance to his deep sorrow at the early death of Mr. Mc-Conomy, and leave others more able to speak of his life and character.

Mr. Byrne's Remarks Mr. Byrne moved the adoption of the resolutions. He said it was his good fortune to have known Mr. McConomy since 1877, and though he had not been so intimately acquainted with him as some of the other members of the board, he found him to be a generous, courteous, high toned and great hearted gentleman, and he deeply felt and sincerely mourned his loss to his family, to the board and to the community of which he was a so highly esteemed member. Dr. M. L. Herr's Tribute. Dr. Herr seconded the adoption of the resolutions. He had known Mr. McConomy intimately for many years-socially and in a business way, as well in his offi-cial capacity as a member of this board and in all those years he had never detect ed a flaw or a fault in his character. His gen''eness of manner, his generous benev-olence and charity, and his many other manly qualities made him universally beand his sudden and unexpected death causes the most poignant grief. an occasion like this, the speaker said, he was utterly unable to say what he would like to say in eulogy of Peter McConemy. Mr. T. B. Cochran's Remarks. Mr. Cochran spoke substantially as fol-MR. PRESIDENT: None knew him but to love him, none named him but to praise." As one of the younger members of the board I wish to add my tribute to that of others who have preceded me, to the memory of our late associate, Peter McConomy, and I do so with throbbing heart. My personal acquaintance with him probably dates back turther than that of any other member of the board; for we were boys together. Over twenty years ago we attended the high school in this city, and participated in the same boyish sports. And whenever I pass by the old school house and playgrounds on Prince street, I am reminded of the happy days of long ago, and of the faces that were then so familiar, many of which have passed from our midst. In time our paths diverged, and though we often met in the munity did not ?—can testify to his sterling integrity and worth as a citizen and to his earnestness and zeal in the cause of popular education. It was seldom that he took an active part in our discussions, but he was thoroughly conversant with the business of this body, and was constant business of this body, and was constant in his attendance on the committees, where the real work is done. His votes were not governed by prejudice, but by the dictates of a sound judgment. The last time I met him—and I shall not soon forget it—was at a meeting held one evening last week of the committee having in charge the advisability of erecting a new school building in the southern end of the city, as already referred to by Mr. McComsey, and, though the weather was bad and the distance long, he was at his post and took an active interest in the project, and his name appears attached to the favorable report. The records of his social life, of his business life and of his public life all merit the tribute of our affection, our praise and our respect. His whole career challenges it. And what more can be said—what bet-ter can be said? Nothing. It is of his official life here that we are called upon to speak. That other life—the home life—is sacred to his kin, and especially so to the widowed mother and stricken wife and children, to whom the dead son and husband devoted the strength of his manhood with a heart full of affection and kindness. They do not mourn him as a school director, but as the kind and well beloved son, husband and father. For such sorrow there may be sympathy, but there is no human consolation. To us remains the esson of his death—another illustration of inevitable fate. He has calmly met and peacefully passed the ordeal, suddenly as it came upon him, which is yet before each one of us, and from which there is no possible escape. It is only a mere point of time in which he has anticipated us; and so let each and all of us prepare for the dread summons that will call

's Sooner for some, later for others, But surely for all."

Rev. U. Reimensny der. Rev. Reimensnyder said: "I am not intimately acquainted with Mr. Mc-Conomy, but I often met him as member of the board. He seldom spoke, but when he did speak he spoke wisely and to the point. In common with those of you who knew him better I mourn over his sudden and unexpected removal from us. What an impressive illustration his death presents of the oft repeated saying: 'In the midst of life we are in death.' But beyond this life, there is an enduring substance. And amid the precariousne all mere wordly things what a satisfaction McConomy this board has lost one of its to know that there is a future life; an mmortality of being in the world to come Of this our departed friend was not unmindful. And let us prepare for the future and give earnest attention to the words of our great Teacher : 'In such an hour as ye think not your Lord doth come."

Other Speeches. J. Hay Brown, esq, spoke at some length in high praise of Mr. McConomy's potless private character, his probity as business man, and his earnestness in the performance of all the duties of life. He egarded Mr. McConomy's death as a pub

o calamity. Mr. Slaymaker said he heartily endorsed the resolutions just read, and all that had been said in eulogy of Mr. McConomy. He had often met him officially as a member of the property committee of this board, as he had met his father before him, and ligent and faithful in the discharge of his duties, and ever ready to lend his aid and advice in advancing the cause of the schools. In his death the school board death of the elder McConomy. He sincerely condoled with his family in the irreparable loss they sustained.

Mr. J. M. Johnstoner.

Mr. J. M. Johnston said he arose merely to endorse what had already been said in honor of the memory of Peter McConomy, a man than whom there were no others in our community more universally esteemed or more worthy of esteem. Some years ago, when that good old man, his father, who for so many years had been a leading member of this board, died, it had been When his report appeared in the proceedings of the board with his name attached the privilege of the speaker to propose the name of his son, Peter McConomy, as his successor; and though the board did not at that time see its way clear to thus fill the vacancy the people at the earliest op-portunity acted upon the suggestion and elected him to the seat so long and worthily tilled by his father; and it may be added no less worthily filled by the son, who was a man without guile, whose gentle manner, cheerful humor and sound sense won the hearts of all who came in contact with him. The question was here called on the adoption of the resolutions, and they were adopted by an unanimous vote. On motion of Dr. Herr the board adjourned to meet in common council chamber on Monday morning at 9 o'clock, to attend in a body the funeral of Peter McConomy. Mrs Langtry's first appearance in public was as a reader; she read "Curing a Cold," by Mark Twain. In a recent interview she said that she does not approve of his way, but for herself uses Dr. Buil's Cough Syrup a sure cure every time.

A POLICEMAN'S DUTY. Policeman ED. K. HEATH, 29 North Street Portland, Me., May 11, 1883, writes: "I have been troubled for a good many years with inflammation of the bladder, dating as far back as during the time I was in the army. I suffered with dull, heavy pains in the back and kidneys too intense for me to describe, and tried several remedies that were recommended, and was examined by one of our best physicians, who pronounced it inflamma tion of the bladder; and I went to the hospital for treatment, but all medicine and treatment had seemed to fall. I was recommen to try Hunt's Remedy, ss it nad been used in several such cases here in Portland and vicinity. I purchased a bottle at Smith's drug store here, and found after using the first bottie that it relieved me greatly, and after using several bottles found that it did me more good than all other medicines and treatment I have received combined. And to add to my good opinion of Hunt's Remedy, I beg to state in closing that my wife has been for a long time troubled with a weakness and inflammation of the bia der. with a complication of othe diseases peculiar to women. After using only two bottles she has been completely cured and I can say that my wife is loud in praise of this wonderful medicine, and I would highly recommend it to all who are suffering from kidney diseases or diseases of the bladder.'

PORTLAND, Mr., May 11, 1883.

I hereby certify that I know the facts of the sickness of Mrs. E. K. Heath, and that they are correctly stated in the foregoing certifi-cate, and her cure was accomplished by the use of Hunt's Remedy.
