ANOTHER TRAGEDY.

The Sad Suicide of a Young Farmer.

near Hollinger's tannery. Mr. Harnish's son, Jacob M., took his own life by shooting himself. For some years past the young man has been suffering from a Bad Record for Both Electric and Gasocomplaint of the liver, and although did not have much pair, it depressed his spirits, and he was melancholy at times. For three years he was employed in Hollinger's leather store in Philadelphia, but came home last summer on account of would benefit him. He did not seem to improve, however, although at some times was much better than at others, and then appeared to be lively and in good spirits. When suffering from his complaint he would again become meiancholy and low spirited. Several nut and Mary, poor; Lame and Lemon, promised his wife and 14mily that he would do nothing rash if he could possibly guard against it although the could possibly Lime and Chestnet Plans. guard against it, although he felt so badly at times that he scarcely thought it worth while to live. This morning the deceased was feeling reasonably well, and while the other men were engaged at threshing he remained in the house reading. His wife and a younger brother were with him for a About 19 o'clock his wife went to the wash house and as soon as she had gone the husband went up stairs. Shortly afterwards his mother came in, seeing that he was not in the dining room started to look for him. She went to the garret and there found him lying dead upon the floor. There was a terrible wound in the left groin, which had been made by a shot from an old musket that was lying beside the body. It is supposed that young, man was taken with one of his melancholy fits and, losing all control of himself, committed the fatal deed. He had several old army muskets, which he had purchased in Philadelphia; and, taking one of them to the room of his brother, he had quickly leaded it with powder and shot. He then went to the garret and, placing the muzzle of the gun to his left side, pulled the hammer of the weapon with his foot, from which he had taken the shoe. The weapon must have been very close to the body, from the ap-pearance of the wound and the fact that the clothing was scorched by the powder. The young brother of the deceased, who was in the house, states that he did not hear the report of the gun. Coroner Shiffer was notified of the affair and he held an inquest on the remains, the ver-dict being in accordance with the facts. The deceased was 25 years of age last December, and on the 1st of January of this year was married to Emma Zercher, of New Danville. His father recently purchased a fine large farm for him at Newark Delaware, which he had stocked. The young man had been with his parents since his marriage, but had intended to remove to his new home in a few weeks, Last week he and his wife and father were in Philadelphia, purchasing goods to go to housekeeping. Jacob was a man of ex-cellent habits and was beloved by all who knew him, not only in his own neighborhood, but in the community at large; and all speak of him in the highest terms of praise. The sad affair has cast a gloom over the entire community, and the family of the deceased have the sympathy of many friends.

Forty Hours Devotion. The services of the forty hours devotion began in St. Joseph's Catholic church at the high mass yesterday, and will continue until Wednesday morning. Services will be held this evening and to morrow evening as well as morning services on both days. The devotion commemorates the forty hours during which the body of the Saviour remained in the sepulchre, and to its due observance are attached many spiritual privileges.

A Successful Creamery.
Kirkwood creamery started operations about two weeks ago, and is now running some 3,000 pounds of milk every morning and shipping 150 pounds of butter daily. The butter is of fine quality, and is bringing good prices in Philadelphia and Baltimore. The waste is being sold to farmers, but the intention of Mr. Truman, the proprietor, is to go into the feeding of hogs as soon as he can erect the buildings.

A MISSIONARY INCIDENT.

Showing the Privations Endured by Mora-vian Rissionaries in India. The following incident in the life of Lord Lawrence, while governor general of India, is related as having occurred a few months after his arrival there in 1864. The story has never before appeared in print, and it well illustrates the hardships encountered by the Moravian missionaries in the for East :

A small brotherhood of Moraviau missionaries had been stationed for some years past at Laboul, on the borders of Thibet, and about 100 miles from Sanla, where the governor general was then residing. Their isolated position, their extreme poverty, and their self denying labors amongst semi barbarous people were known only to a few, and when Sir John Lawrence's staff told him how they were accustomed to work in the fields as common peasants, to manufacture their own paper and to make their own clothes, and expressed a wish that one of the body might be invited for a few days to "Peterhoff," the governor general's house at Sunla, a cordial assent was given and an invitation was sent out by special messenger.

The missionary selected by the brethren walked the whole distance on foot. His dress was a coarse suit of brown camel's He had no shoes; only sandals made of hemp and coarse string, and his mediately after the congregational meet-ing, at which important business is to be coffee pot in one pocket and his Bible in the other. Dr. Farquhar, the surgeon of the viceroy, an eminently kind hearted man, supplied him, on his arrival, as best be could, with the dress suit required for dinner, and attended to all his other wants. In the course of conversation, Sir. John elicited that the greatest hardship pext after the severe cold which the missionaries had to endure, was the want of medicine, and their inability to carry on at her home on Saturday evening. A the work of translating the Bible during pleasant evening was spent, the usual the long six months of winter, since they supply of good things for the inner man had no lamps or candles. A stock of quinine and other medicines was at once obtained from the government dispensary, and a large quantity of half burnt wax boom in the coal business. Coal dealers candles, amounting to several thousand pieces, which had been accumulating in the storeroom of the government house, at the Franklin house on Saturday, March | was ordered by the private secretary, with Sir John Lawrence's permission, to be melted down in the bazaar, sud formed into candles of convenient size.

Eighty people will leave Marietta, on Tuesday, March 18, for Abilene, Kansas, where they will reside permanently. They comprise husbands, wives, children and single persons, and the men are all farmers of means, who go to the western country to find cheaper land and more profit-able farming. Most of them, too, belong to the religious denomination of Dunkers, who already comprise a large part of the population of Dickinson county, Kansas.

A STORMY DAY.

Thunder, Lighteing, Salo, Snow, Hall and Wind. Sunday was a disagreeable and stormy day. There was a cold, drizzling rain in the morning, which increased in violence as the day grew older. In the afternoon there was a considerable fall of hail, fol lowed by snow, which fell to the depth of an inch. It was of a fleecy, feathery character, and as it lodged upon the boughs and branches of the trees made them look very beautiful. After sundown a gale of wind sprang up, swept the snow clouds in beauty and brightness. In the southern portion of the county early Sunday afternoon there was a heavy rain and hall storm, accompanied by thun-der and lightning and followed by snow.

Three Columbia Representatives

On Saturday Aquilla Frisby, Solomon Morris and John Patterson, three gay mokes from Columbia, came to this city and got drunk. They traveled around the town cutting up capers and finally turned up at the residence of Wm. Butler, also colored, on Church street, where they behaved badly, one of them threatening to do Butler harm. They then were arrested and held for a hearing before Alderman

A. F. Donnelly to day.

At the hearing this afternoon it was shown in evidence that Morris had been found in bed with Butler's wife, and when the husband attempted to put him out of the house Morris threatened to do him bodily barm. The alderman committed Morris to answer at court for fornication and surety of the peace, and committed the others to jail for fifteen days each for drunken and

m4-lwdnodAw RESCUED FROM DEATH.

The following statement of William J. Cough in, or somerville, Mass., is so remarkable that We beg to ask for it the attention of our read ers. He says : "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs, followed by a severe cough. I soon began to less my that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the City Hospital, While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a balf-dollar. I expend-ed over a bundred dollars in doctors and medteines. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope but a friend told me of DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I laughe at my friends, thinking my case incurable, but I got a bettle to satisfy them, when to my surprise a d gratification, I commenced to feel better My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to Jay I feel in better spirits than I have he past three years.

194 SECOND AVENUE, NEW YORK, May 1, 1883. My specialty is diseases of women and children. I like Alloock's Ponous Plasters because they are so quick and efficient, and never irritate or mark the tenderest skin. I have found them most useful in my practice, and they are certainly the best plasters now made. To illustrate : My son of ten years of age took a bad cold and coughed incessantly ; no medicine would relieve him; after sor twelve hours I applied an Allcook's Porous PLASTER to his throat and upper chest. The cough ceased entirely in an hour, and the next day the boy was well.

I told the case to a gentleman who suffered in the same way ; he, too, was cured in twenty our honrs of his cough by Allcock's Ponous PLASTERS. Another patient suffered from pain in the small of the back-Allcock's Posous Plastes was applied at night, and next morning the pain had ceased. Again, a young lady suffering from Neuralgia Pains around the heart, by my advice used Allcock's Ponous PLASTERS, and was entirely cured in three days. Finally, a lady came to me with Cold Feet, which constantly recurred night and day -this sometimes is a symptom of Uterine Congestion-1 applied an Allcock's Porous PLANTER to the sole of each foot, and her feet got and continued warm. She wore the Plas
