An interesting Scene on the Banks of the Schwylabil in Reading. Reading Times.

A crowd of people gathered at Lotz's dam, on the Schuykill yesterday, to wit-ness the interesting ceremony of baptism by immersion performed by the pastor of a "Winebrenarian" church in Lancaster county. The river was high, and the river ran muddy, with occasional pieces of driftwood and specks of ice. After the recital of brief religious exercises, one of the deacons of the church waded in the water, and with a cane examined the bottom in order to secure a favorable locality for the performance of the ceremony. After selecting the site, the pastor went into the water, and then the ceremony of baptism was performed, each of the seven candidates being immersed separately. At the conclusion of the rite, a prayer was offered and a hymn was sung, those who were immersed standing in their dripping clothes and joining fervently in both prayer and song. The line of march was then taken up, the participants in the cereemony walking three squares to the house of one of the brethren of the church to change their baptismal robes for dry clothing. Among those who viewed the immersion with open mouthed wonder and undisguised astonishment was a crowd of Italian and Hungarian laborers on the Schuylkill Valley railroad. The seven were members of the Winebrenarian meeting, this city.

Good Grounds for Continuance. The first case called for argument was that of Alexander Harris, administrator of Bernard Short, deceased, vs. Thomas Bancy, rule to show cause why fi fa should not be stayed and the judgment upon which it was issued marked patd and satisfied. The counsel for the defense stated that additional evidence was to have been taken in the case, but in the meantime Short was killed and Baney lodged in jail as his murderer. The case was then continued.

system. Thency its great power over discates which derive no benefit from all other forms of treatment. As a blood purifier and spring medicine it surpasses all other compounds, it acts gently yet freely upon the bowels, over-coming constipation, dyspepsia, sick head-ache furred tongue, biliousn as, torpality of the liver, high colored or thickened urine, in a very few doses. It excites the apetite, in-creases the flees, hardens the muscles, and solidifies the bones. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the material functions. It purifies the fema e system of ulcerative weaknesses and cellifulting hum-ors, it expels the first symptoms of heredi-tary humors and diseases in children and youth. It is wonderful in rerv as debility, emacistion and dropsy. It expess the cause of rheumatism and gout and invariably cures. The best 25c Coffee in Lancaster. Always Fresh iterated.
