

Lancaster Intelligencer.

TUESDAY EVENING, MARCH 25, 1884.

Keep Cool.

Eric county declares itself for Mr. Randall for president, and Mr. William L. Scott to represent her in the national convention, which he will do very well, being an old hand at the business.

THE MONTGOMERY COUNTY DEMOCRATS.

The Montgomery county Democrats, who send a large delegation to the state convention, instructed their representatives to-day for Mr. Randall.

THE GREAT HUBBUB ABOUT THE TARIFF.

The great hubbub about the tariff has enabled Mahone, Keifer & Adams, to sneak to their covers unobserved.

MASSACHUSETTS HAS JUST PASSED A LAW PROVIDING FREE TEXT BOOKS FOR SCHOLARS IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

MASSACHUSETTS has just passed a law providing free text books for scholars in the public schools. Supplementary legislation is needed for offering prizes of apples, cakes and candy to all who use the text books.

SCIENTISTS MAY DIFFER ON THE QUESTION WHETHER THE GARDEN OF EDEN WAS LOCATED AT THE NORTH POLE, OR THE JUNCTION OF THE TIGRIS AND THE EUPHRATES, BUT THERE IS LITTLE DIFFERENCE OF OPINION ON THE ASSERTION THAT LANCASTER COUNTY WILL NOT BE A POLITICAL EDEN FOR THE NEXT THREE WEEKS TO COME.

IT IS SOMEWHAT REMARKABLE THAT LITTLE ATTENTION IS PAID TO GLADSTONE'S ILLNESS, NOTWITHSTANDING THE FACT THAT HIS RECOVERY IS MUCH SLOWER THAN WAS EXPECTED.

RECENT ADVICES AS TO THE EFFECT THAT HE COULD NOT ATTEND EVEN A CABINET COUNCIL IN HIS OWN HOUSE AND HAD TO RETIRE INTO HIS PRIVATE CHAMBERS.

UNREASONABLE RETALIATION.

Senator Vance, of North Carolina, has written a very sensible report on the bill to authorize the president to retaliate upon Germany for her exclusion of American pork.

PERSONAL.

RAYARD IS THE CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT OF THE MEMBERS OF THE VIRGINIA ASSEMBLY.

THE ENGLISH CRISIS.

GLADSTONE'S ILLNESS ADDING NEW COMPLICATIONS TO THE ENGLISH CRISIS.

THE PROPAGANDA.

REPORTED CONTINUATION OF THE AMERICAN QUESTION IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

CONDITION OF THE CROPS.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE ON THE CORN, WHEAT, RYE AND COTTON CROPS.

THE TONGKIN TROUBLE.

INTERVIEW WITH MARQUIS TSENG.

The first and only utterance of opinion on the Tongkin question which has been made from the Chinese side since the capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot was made to a cable news correspondent by Marquis Tseng, the Chinese ambassador at Paris.

It was not a question which has been made from the Chinese side since the capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot was made to a cable news correspondent by Marquis Tseng, the Chinese ambassador at Paris.

It has not affected the situation in the slightest degree, as far as China is concerned. The French are practically as far from the Tongkin coast as they were a day before they entered Bao Ninh, and it is not likely that they will ever get much nearer.

How do you account for the easy capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot? It was not a question which has been made from the Chinese side since the capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot was made to a cable news correspondent by Marquis Tseng, the Chinese ambassador at Paris.

Where will the next stand against the advance of the French be made? It was not a question which has been made from the Chinese side since the capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot was made to a cable news correspondent by Marquis Tseng, the Chinese ambassador at Paris.

How do you account for the easy capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot? It was not a question which has been made from the Chinese side since the capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot was made to a cable news correspondent by Marquis Tseng, the Chinese ambassador at Paris.

How do you account for the easy capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot? It was not a question which has been made from the Chinese side since the capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot was made to a cable news correspondent by Marquis Tseng, the Chinese ambassador at Paris.

How do you account for the easy capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot? It was not a question which has been made from the Chinese side since the capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot was made to a cable news correspondent by Marquis Tseng, the Chinese ambassador at Paris.

How do you account for the easy capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot? It was not a question which has been made from the Chinese side since the capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot was made to a cable news correspondent by Marquis Tseng, the Chinese ambassador at Paris.

How do you account for the easy capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot? It was not a question which has been made from the Chinese side since the capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot was made to a cable news correspondent by Marquis Tseng, the Chinese ambassador at Paris.

How do you account for the easy capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot? It was not a question which has been made from the Chinese side since the capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot was made to a cable news correspondent by Marquis Tseng, the Chinese ambassador at Paris.

How do you account for the easy capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot? It was not a question which has been made from the Chinese side since the capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot was made to a cable news correspondent by Marquis Tseng, the Chinese ambassador at Paris.

How do you account for the easy capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot? It was not a question which has been made from the Chinese side since the capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot was made to a cable news correspondent by Marquis Tseng, the Chinese ambassador at Paris.

How do you account for the easy capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot? It was not a question which has been made from the Chinese side since the capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot was made to a cable news correspondent by Marquis Tseng, the Chinese ambassador at Paris.

How do you account for the easy capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot? It was not a question which has been made from the Chinese side since the capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot was made to a cable news correspondent by Marquis Tseng, the Chinese ambassador at Paris.

How do you account for the easy capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot? It was not a question which has been made from the Chinese side since the capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot was made to a cable news correspondent by Marquis Tseng, the Chinese ambassador at Paris.

How do you account for the easy capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot? It was not a question which has been made from the Chinese side since the capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot was made to a cable news correspondent by Marquis Tseng, the Chinese ambassador at Paris.

How do you account for the easy capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot? It was not a question which has been made from the Chinese side since the capture of Bao Ninh by General Milrot was made to a cable news correspondent by Marquis Tseng, the Chinese ambassador at Paris.

COMMONWEALTH NEWS.

DEATH IN A BIRK BEAR POTTSVILLE.

The Terrible Accident by Which Two Men Lost Their Lives—Burglars to "Scram."

A terrible mining accident occurred Monday afternoon at a colliery on the north side slope of the Sharp mountain, near Pottsville.

The news spread rapidly and in a few hours a thousand people had flocked to the scene.

Monday a heavy fall of rock occurred in the slope behind him. He called to his sons to run for help, and they returned with a rope.

The news spread rapidly and in a few hours a thousand people had flocked to the scene.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

COMMONWEALTH NEWS.

DEATH IN A BIRK BEAR POTTSVILLE.

The Terrible Accident by Which Two Men Lost Their Lives—Burglars to "Scram."

A terrible mining accident occurred Monday afternoon at a colliery on the north side slope of the Sharp mountain, near Pottsville.

The news spread rapidly and in a few hours a thousand people had flocked to the scene.

Monday a heavy fall of rock occurred in the slope behind him. He called to his sons to run for help, and they returned with a rope.

The news spread rapidly and in a few hours a thousand people had flocked to the scene.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

The store of Mr. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow, a nephew of General A. C. Crow.

ANOTHER BIG FIRE.

A Tobacco Warehouse and Its Contents Destroyed by the Flames—Losses Estimated at $200,000.

One of the most disastrous conflagrations which ever occurred in the rural districts of this county happened last night in the village of Monterey (Griff's Store P. O.), in Leacock township, two miles northeast of Bird-in-Hand station, on the Pennsylvania railroad.

The contents of the warehouse consisted of about 450 cases of packed No. 10 tobacco owned by O. H. Saylor, and a few acres of tobacco the property of farmers in the neighborhood and stored there by them.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

ANOTHER BIG FIRE.

A Tobacco Warehouse and Its Contents Destroyed by the Flames—Losses Estimated at $200,000.

One of the most disastrous conflagrations which ever occurred in the rural districts of this county happened last night in the village of Monterey (Griff's Store P. O.), in Leacock township, two miles northeast of Bird-in-Hand station, on the Pennsylvania railroad.

The contents of the warehouse consisted of about 450 cases of packed No. 10 tobacco owned by O. H. Saylor, and a few acres of tobacco the property of farmers in the neighborhood and stored there by them.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.

The fire broke out between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from the stream of flames of the case and the place where the fire was first discovered it is believed that the destruction was caused by the building taking fire from the pipe of a stove in the building, which had been in it during the day.