LEOPOLD'S DEATH.

THE GRIEF OF HIS QUEEN MOTHER

Without Warning-A Sketch of the The cause of the Duke's of Albany's death was effusion of blood into the stomach and lungs. There were no unusual premonitions, but the symptoms had long been threatening. He was subject to occasional attacks of internal hemorrhage. He was the only one of the royal dukes who had any brains. The queen has made no public sign as yet of how she has been affected by the death of her favorite son, but an incident which occurred Friday afternoon at Windsor Castle has led to much unfavorable comment. Ex-Empress Eugenie received the news of the prince's death at Chiselburst and remembering how promptly the queen had

The meeting between the two widowed and bereaved mothers is said to have been most affecting. It is already announced that neither the queen nor Princess Beatrice will attend the wedding of Princess Victoria of Hesse. The Prince of Wales was visiting the Earl of Sciton and rewas visiting the Earl of Selton and received the news on Aintree race course. He returned at once to London The Spectrum and Callander were weighed for a race, but the Duke of Mon-trose and Sir. George Chetwynd refused to run them. Earl Granville announced the death to the lords and mar-quis of Hartington in the commons. Addresses of condolence will be moved on

A Sketch of the Prince's Life. The death of Prince Leopold George Duncan Albert, Duke of Albany, is of importance as an event in the English royal family rather than on account of any special interest attaching to the life just ended. Victoria's husband, Prince Albert died December 14, 1861. Princess Alice, the only child beside Prince Leopold that the queen has lost, and who was the wife of Louis IV., Grand Duke of Hesse, died December 14, 1878. And the queen, suffering from the loss of her faithful at-tendant, John Brown, is now called to part with her youngest, a favorite son. Prince Leopold was born April 7, 1853. ENGLISH POLITICS. The Government Defeated in a Test Vote-The Franchise Bill. In the House of Commons, Mr. Albert Pell, Conservative, moved a resolution in favor of the relief of local taxation. The Secretary Frelinghuysen received the following telegram Friday evening from W. W. Astor, United States minister to trade.

Italy:
ROME, March 28.—Frelinghuysen, Seretary, Washington: College exempted from Propaganda sale. Aston.

The attention of President Arthur was called several weeks since by Cardinal McCloskey and other eminent Roman Catholic prelates in this country to the proposed sale, by order of the Italian gov-ernment, of the Propaganda property at Rome, including the American college. The Propaganda property was levied upon by the Italian government under the laws of 1886 and 1873. Proceedings were in-

By direction of the president the secretary of state addressed a note to Mr. Astor, the United States minister at Rome, instructing him to lay the facts in the case before the government of the king of Italy and endeavor to obtain, if not a perpetual abandonment, of the impending sale, such a stay of proceedings as would enable the friends of the college in this country to determine whether any remedy could be devised. Mr. Astor was further informed that while the American college is technically held by the Propaganda, it is virtually American property, that it has been built up and supported by money from this country, and that its sale would sacrifice

From Mr. Astor's telegram to the secre ary of state it appears that the representations which the former was directed to make to the Italian government have had the desired effect, and that the American college will be exempted entirely from the impending sale of Propaganda property.

EIGHT MEN HANGED.

t Beavy Day's Work for the Gallows to O. W. Sample, Dan Dowd, William Deane, James Howard and Dan Kelley were hanged at Tombstone, Arizona, Friday, for the Bisbee murders. The five bandits marched up the steps of the scaffold with-out flinching and all declared their innosence. Heath, who was lynched on February 22, was, they say, also inneent. They bade their friends good bye. They expressed faith in the Christian religion, and requested that their bodies be delivered to Father Gallagher. Nothing occurred to mar the sheriff's plans. The murderers were all dropped off together, and with the exception of Dowd died with out a struggle.

Over one thousand persons witnessed the execution. A large balcony had been erected outside and overlooking the jailyard, the builder intending to charge $1.50 admission. The mob became indignant and tore the balcony down. In the row which followed seven persons were injured. One man had his leg broken and another his arm. The balcony would have seated five hundred persons. With this exception everything passed off quietly. Other Murderers Hanged.

Francisco Perres was hanged in Placer ville, Cal., for the murder of William and Jacob Wirges. William R. McDowell was hanged in San Bernardino, Cal., for the murder of Maggie O'Brien on January 30, 1883.

DARKER'S TONIO.

Put a Brand on Him. "Women are a necessary evil," he said, bringing cown his fist hard on the counter to emphasize the heartless remark. It was in the village store at West Milton, Saratogo county, and the speaker was the central figure of a group of buchoic philosophers. He was homely, slovenly and sixty. "There's where I differ from you altogether," said Mr. George T. Graham, of the same place. "Women are mostly what men make 'em. When husbands are brutes wives will tall into submissi nake home hot for the men; and they're unnatural in either character. Love them, and natural in either character. Love them, and especially be good to them when they're sick, and you'll have no trouble. There's my own wife, now. She's suffered a good deal with dyspepsia, nervous prostration and other allments that took the bloom off her cheeks and the spring out of her steps. Well, she saw an advertisement of Parkin's Tonic, and thought it would be just the thing for her case. Gentlethe spring out of her steps. Well, she saw an advertisement of Parker's Tonio, and thought it would be just the thing for her case. Gentlemen, I sent live in the safer a bottle. She took it. I sent again after more so several times. Trouble? Why, if you could see how much good it has done her you would say that women are the greatest of God's blessings, and Parker's Tonio its the next."

This preparation, which has been known as Parker's Ginore Tonio, will hereafter be called simply Parker's Tonio. This change has been rendered necessary by substitutes imposed upon their customers by unprincipled desiers under the name of ginger; and as ginger is really an unimportant flavoring ingredient, we drep the misleading word.

There is no change, however, in the preparation itself, and all bottles remaining in the hands of dealers, wrapped under the name of "Parker's Ginger Tonio," contain the genuine medicine it the signature of Hiscox & Co. Is at the bottom of outside wrapper.
