

COLUMBIA NEWS.

OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE. A Handsome Lodge Room—Recent Building Operations—A Boy Nearly Suffocated. The improvements which have for some time been going on in the lodge room of the Columbia lodge, No. 50, I. O. O. F., were finished today. Mr. H. C. Young repaired the room and in this respect is equal to the G. A. R. room. Sauerberger & Son furnished the handsome Brussels carpet, which was laid by Mr. E. E. Carter. In the center of the room is a splendid Smyrna rug, 4 1/2 feet in size, which is a present to the lodge from Mr. W. H. Sauerberger, one of its members. This lodge room there is now none more handsome in town.

THE ELECTRIC LIGHTS. How to get at their illuminating power. The Intelligencer has frequently asserted and many citizens believe that the electric lights—contrasted to furnish 3,000 candle power—do not give over one fourth of that much light. In council on Wednesday evening Mr. Riddle said that he could not, and he did not suppose that there is a citizen in Lancaster who can tell what the real lighting power of these lamps are, whether they give 2,000 candle power or not. With regard to this representative of the Intelligencer has interviewed Mr. Jas. R. Smedberg, M. E. gas engineer and contractor, whose attention having been called to the above remark of Mr. Riddle, the above mentioned skilled gas engineer one of the most important subjects of study is Photometry, or the measurement of light. The ordinary standard, among English and American authorities, is a candle consuming 120 grains of spermaceti in the hour, and technical comparison with the standard candle is a B. C. which I learned professionally thirty years ago. I am very much at the service of our city authorities in case they care to have the light giving power of the electric arcs accurately determined. In proof of his knowledge of the subject Mr. S. produced a letter from Charles H. Knowlton, president of the Manhattan gas light company, which says of him: "I have known him many years. He is a gentleman of marked ability, and thoroughly master of his profession. As an engineer he stands at the head. I commend him to your kind attention."

AN UNUSUAL POSITION. The Sanitary Engineer published at New York, is the leading journal of its class in this country and is handsomely printed and well edited. The increasing interest taken by the public in sanitary science gives to this journal an ample field for useful work. In those days when so much plumbing is necessary to make a dwelling comfortable and convenient to the modern taste, and when so often disease and death are the consequence of a bad plumbing, it is of the highest importance that a knowledge of what is necessary to safety in plumbing should be generally diffused; and it is in this end that the Sanitary Engineer, edited by Myron W. Wood, Fort Wayne, Indiana, is the western agent.

SECOND EDITION. FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 4, 1884. OVER THE OCEAN. THE REMAINS OF THE DEAD PRINCE. Landed From Cannes at London To-day Amidst Great Pomp and Ceremony—Other Foreign Notes of Interest. LONDON, April 4.—The landing at this city today, of Leopold, Duke of Albany, the deceased son of Queen Victoria, was attended with much pomp, elaborate display and solemn ceremony. The remains were brought from Cherbourg, France, having been taken from Cannes, where the prince died, and were conveyed across the channel on board the English yacht Osprey. The Prince of Wales, the Crown Prince of Prussia, Frederick William, and a number of other princes, escorted the body to Windsor Castle, where it was met at the railway station by the queen, who was greatly affected, but bowed up under the sore trial bravely. There was a great silent throng of sympathizing people at the landing of the yacht, and along the railway to Windsor many testimonies of regard for the dead prince and sympathy for the queen, his mother, were apparent. The weather was brilliant and most delightful. Prince Leopold will be interred to-morrow, and among the many attestations of respect will be the closing of the stock exchange during the day.

Failure of a Baltimore Firm. BALTIMORE, April 4.—Sneed & Burns, hardware and grocery store, made an assignment to-day for the benefit of their creditors. Liabilities under $10,000. Cased Publications. ALTONA, Pa., April 4.—The Daily Times (Democrat) of this city, ceased publication to-day. Features of Notion Dealers. PITTSBURGH, April 4.—Geo. W. Clay & Co., wholesale notion dealers, have failed. Liabilities, $22,000; assets, $30,000. WEATHER ESTIMATIONS. WASHINGTON, April 4.—For the Middle Atlantic states fair weather, north to southwest winds, slight rise in temperature; on Saturday, cool fair weather is indicated. That the accumulation of wealth in business neither dulls nor entirely absorbs the intelligence nor relaxes public spirit is shown by the intimate connection of manufacturing and commercial firms with recent political history, and the immense amount spent on the institution of the great towns on the North and Midlands, England. Mr. Gladstone, as every Englishman knows, is the son of a Liverpool merchant, while Mr. Bright lives close to his mill on the fringe of the moor at Rochdale. Mr. Forster is a prominent member of the firm whose enterprise has brought wealth into the retired region of Upper Wharfedale. Sir Charles Dilke is the grandson of a miller, and is actually owner of the Alkborough. Mr. Chamberlain has only within a few years retired from the manufacture of wood screws, as they are called, in order to devote himself to political life; Mr. Mundella, manufacturer, hon. member of Parliament, is a coal merchant and iron manufacturer, and is one of a long list of peers who, like Lord Londonderry, "cut" their own clothes, or let them be given to them, like those of Lord Lonsdale and Middlebrooke. Lord Ardilaun is a brewer, like Mr. Stansfeld and Mr. Bras; Lord Wimborne is an ironmaster; Lord Jersey is a banker, like Sir James Lubbock, the bridge builder, and Rothschild, and the well known names of Miffin, Colman, Palmer, Fairbairn, Feiler, Henry, Holder, Hope, Jardine, Latham, and others too numerous to mention testify to the close alliance between trade and the public life of England.
