THE MANICURE MANIA.

Rosy Nails, With a suggestion of Monograms and Crazybones.

Philadelphia Press.

"Manicure?" said a Press reporter to a lady who was speaking of a craze that is taking hold of the fashionable people in this city; "what does it mean?"

"Why, it's the event of the day. You are far behind the times if you cannot on each polish surface of your eight fingers and two thumb nails show a well defined crescent. Heven't you heard! A suite of rooms handsomely furnished has been thrown open to a suffering public right on Chestnut street. The surgeon, as he calls himself, is a German with an unpronouncable name, blonde hair and mustache. He attends to the chiropodist part of the business in one of the rooms, while a sprightly little lady with eyes and hair as black as night does the manicure in the other room. I was attracted to it by their comical sign—a foot all over horns on one window, with the word chiropodist under it in gilt letters, and on the other window a hand with the significant word manicure under it.

"See my nails, ain't they lovely; and my—my—well, my feet are beautiful, you ought to see them. At the first visit I didn't mean to be treated," she continued, "but my feet are wonderfully improved since I had them cured. I can walk a couple of miles now, and before I suffered unspeakable torture on walking as many blocks. As for my fingers, don't they speak for themselves?" and, sure enough, ten prettier, more transparent, pinker, almond shaped backgrounds to a pearly white crescent never were shown.

"I can do it myself now, only my right hand gets the best of me. It dosen't positively hurt, but it isn't the most comfortable operation in the world. The first time, you see, they push and punch and scrape away all that flesh that grows down over the nail and hides its beauty. As the edge harden they trim them off with very sharp, fine cuticle scisors, each time leaving a longer and clearer nail until sufficient of the white crescent is brought to view. This half moon ought to show unmistakably on everyone's nails, and certainly it makes an agreeable contrast to the stubby, square, bitten off, bang nailed fingers we so frequently see. I know a young lady, the daughter of one of our most illustrious statesmen, who died from the effects of biting her nails. The fine particles got down her throat, or wind pipe, I have forgotten which—at any rate several eminent physicians agreed that her death was the result of biting her nails. They profess to cure this vicious habit. I believe they put something on them very, very bitter and disagreeable to the taste, and this, together with the pride of being beautiful, does wonders. I couldn't help reverting to Mark Twain in his famous Turkish bath calling frantically for a jackplane if they wanted to whittle him down any finer. I wondered what he would say to the manicure. It takes probably half an hour to treat the hands. After pushing and trimming and filing and emery papering, the nails are bathed with a liquid that removes all blemishes. Then is applied a bright pink ointment, a powder, the polisher and, finally, a soft brush, to remove the particles which have been loosened by this vigorous application. Nothing now remains but to pay your dollar and admire the result. It costs only seventy five cents after the first treatment, and you can purchase the necessary outfit and treat yourself after that. Altogether, it's a fine thing, to my mind. I wonder what next; who knows, it may become fashionable to have your monogram printed on your crazy bone."

Chronic Costiveness Cured by Brandreth's Pills.

BULLY BUENO MILLS, ARIZONA TER., January 24, 1883.

For the last two years I have been greatly troubled with costiveness, often ten or twelve days elapsing without any movement of my bowels. I have tried many remedies, but none with succes, until I used your VEGETABLE PILLS—taking three pills and increasing one each night until I took nine, then decreasing one each night. Since then my bowels have continued regular each day, and my headache, sour stomach, and generallassitude have left me, and I feel like another man—which is entirely owing to your pills—and I would not be without them in this new country. A. M. HEATH.

"For want of a nail the shoe was lost, for want of a shoe the horse was lost," says poor Richard; and for want of Day's Horse and Cattle Powder many horses, cows, sheep and hogs are daily lo t. Price 25 cts. per package of one pound, full weight.

SKIN CURE.

[From the Springfield Republican]

A GENEROUS ACT.

That Will be Appreciated by All Who Care for Their Complexion and Skin.

It is not generally known that the nervous system has a wonderful influence over the skin, but this is a fact known to medical men who have given much of their time to the study of diseases of the skin. No one can have a clear and fair complexion unmixed with blotches or pimples who is very nervous.

Whatever tends to a beautiful condition of the nervous system always beautifies the complexion and removes roughness and dryness of the skin. Some skin diseases are not attended by visible signs on the surface, but an intolerable itching that renders life miserable.

We copy the following deserving and interesting compliment from the Tribune which says: "Dr. C. W. Benson's New Remedy, 'SKIN CURE,' is received by the public with great confidence, and it is regarded as a very generous act on the doctor's part to make known and prepare for general use his valuable and favorite prescription for the treatment of nervous and skin diseases, after having devoted almost his entire life to the study and treatment of nervous and skin diseases, in which he took great delight. He was for a number of years physician in charge of the Maryland Infirmary on Dermatology, and anything from his hands is at once accepted as authority and valuable. The remedy is fully the article to attack the disease, both internally through the blood, and externally, through the absorbents, and is the only reliable and rational mode of treatment. These preparations are only put up for general use after having been used by the doctor in his private practice, for years, with the greatest success and they fully merit the confidence of all classes of sufferers from skin diseases." This is for sale by all druggists. Two bottles, internal and external treatment, in one package. Don't be persuaded to take any other. It costs one dollar.

OH, MY HEAD!

WHY WILL YOU SUFFER?

Sick headache, nervous headache, neuralgia, nervousness, paralysis, dyspepsia, sleeplessness, and brain diseases, positively cured by Dr. Benson's Celery and Chamomile Pills. They contain no opium, quinine or other harmful drug. Sold by druggists.

Price, 50 cents per box, two boxes for $1, six boxes for $2.50, by mail postage free.—Dr. C. W. Benson, Baltimore, Md.

C. N. Crittenden, New York, is wholesale agent for these remedies. m14 MW,S&W
