Death of Jonn W. Michael from His Isjaries-The Regular Monthly Meeting of School Board. Mr. John W. Michael, who received

fatal injuries from an engine in front of the P. R. R. depot here yeste:day, died last evening at 4:50 o'clock. The funeral will be held to morrow afternoon in Lancaster, the friends from Columbia leaving here in the 12:25 p. m., over the Pennsylvania railroad.

The terrible accident was witnessed by a thirteen year old son of Mr. Michael, who fied to his home terror stricken and broke the awful tidings The injured man was first taken into the P. R. R. depot and thence to his home. As no reaction took place, no surgical operation was per-formed on the mutilated limbs, death being a certainty. Deceased was born Aug. 26, 1826, and was therefore nearly 58 years of age. He had been brakeman, conductor and lastly baggage master on the Pennsylvania railroad for a period of His awful death has caused a gloom to spread over the entire commun-

Its Appual Meeting The annual election for officers of the Lancaster county pharmacutical association took place at the stated monthly meeting of the society Thursday afternoon and resulted in the selection of the follow ing officers for the ensuing year : President-Dr. H. B. Parry. Vice President-John R. Kauffman. Secretary-A A. Hubley.

Treasurer-H Z Cochran. Executive Committee-Charles A Hein Thomas B. Bechtold, Dr. M. L.

Reeder, Millersville. The procedings of the association were as usual interesting and instructive to the members. A new adulteration mentioned in a recent journal was noted and commented upon, viz : that of cream of tartar with tartaline, an acid sulphate of potash, the letter substance having been used either as a substitute for, or an adulterant of, the various grades of commercial cream tartar. A paper was read upon the properties and characteristics of Ceresin, a substance prepared from Ozokerite, which has be n introduced as a substitute for wax, resembling as it does, that body very closely in appearance and properties. A number of specimens of simple cerate prepared with varying proportions of Ceresin in lieu of tavern keeping business at Sporting Hill, wax were exhibited. The president was authorized to appoint three members to represent the association at the meeting of the state Pharmacutical association to be held in Wilkesbarre in

On Tuesday noon Henry S. Burns, re siding on Sporting Hill, while on his way home, via the railroad track, and in attempting to cross the bridge at the southern end of Manheim, fell through the bridge into the water, and but for Abram Helt, who saw him fall and ran to his assistance, Mr. B. would undoubtedly have been drowned. After being extricated and the proper restoratives applied, he was taken to the Washington house, where he remained until the evening, when he was conveyed home. It is said that he is now all right again.

THE BRIDGES ACROSS THE OCTORASO. chancel has been laid a large and hand-When They Were Built, By Whom and Their Costs.

The West Chester Republican publishes the following interesting account of the bridges that span the Octoraro creek where the latter forms the dividing line between Lancaster and Chester counties : Mercer's Ford bridge is over the creek on the line of the Laucaster county and Weat Fallowseld township, Chester county, and is an inter county structure. It is a covered bridge on the Burr patent, 85 feet span and was built by a Lancaster county ontractor for $1,700; one half the cost being paid by each county, and was erected in 1880, during the term of Commissioners Zook, Elliott and Otley.

Steelville bridge crosses the creek from West Fallowfield township into Lancaster county. It is a covered bridge of 68 feet span and was built jointly by the com-missioners of Chester and Laucaster counties in 1847, at a cost of $905, one half of the expense being borne by each county. Andrews' bridge crosses the creek from Upper Oxford township into Lancaster county, and is a stone arch bridge of three spans each, about 40 feet. It was built about 1814 and cost $6,500. Bell's bank bridge, or Hodgson's Ford bridge, is from Upper Oxford to Lancaster county, on the road leading from Phila-delphia to McCall's Ferry. It is a covered bridge of the Burr patent, with a span of 110 feet, and was built in 1861. The first bridge was built by Robert Russell and Robert Jackson by contract with the commissioners of the two counties in 1850, at a cost of $1,739. In 1861 it was rebuilt by contract with Commissioners Hartman, Bateman and Windle, at a cost of $1,279. one-half of the cost being borne by each county. Long Ford bridge crosses the creek from Lower Oxford township into Lancas ter county. It is an iron truss bridge, 40 feet span, built by the Canton bridge company, of Canton, Ohio, in 1876, at a cost of $510, each county paying one half the cost.

Worth's bridge crosses the creek from Lower Oxford township into Lancaster county, on the road leading from Mt. Vernon to Union Meeting House in Lancaster county. It is a covered bridge of the Burr patent, 51 feet span. Mount Vernon bridge is over the creek from Lower Oxford into Lancaster county. It is a covered bridge of the Burr patent of 90 feet span. It was built by Jacob Kauffman by contract with the commis stoners Beck and Crouse of Chester, and the commissioners of Lancaster county in 1865, at a cost of $2,650, one half of the expenses being paid by each county.

Pine Grove bridge crosses the creek at Pine Grove rolling mills, (not now in existence) in West Nottingham township, to Lancaster county. It is a bridge of the Burr patent of 175 feet span, and was built in 1846 by contract of the commisstoners of the two counties, by Robert Russell and Jos. Elliott, for $2,889. The stone arch over the rolling mill head race was washed away in the flood of August, 1867 : Commissioner Crouse, Charlton and Hill made a contract with Euos Pennock the same year to rebuild on the Chester county side of the creek.

Kirk's bridge crosses the crock into township It is a covered bridge of 150 feet span and was built in 1828 by Robert Kirk.

Blackburn's bridge crosses the creek nto Lancaster county from West Nottingham township. It is an iron bridge of 125 feet span, and was built by the Keystone Iron Bridge company, at a cost of $2,742, in 1876, one half of the cost being paid by each county.

Lees bridge, formerly Carter's Ford bridge, crosses the creek from West Nottingham township into Lancaster county on the road leading from New Texas to Rising Sun, Maryland. It is a covered bridge of 125 feet span, and was built by Robert Russel and Jacob L. Kirk in 1819. Dancaster and Chester counties, those of the latter county being David Byerl, Daniel Thempson and John Hannum. The bridge cost $1,793 one half being paid by each county.

GOOD PRIDAY.

Schools and Banks Closed-Solemn Services in the Churches. Tu-day being Good Friday when the Christian world commemorates the crucifixion of the Saviour, the banks and the schools were both closed. Nearly all the Christian denominations observe the day with more or less solemnity. In the Epis copal churches, generally, services consisting of morn ag prayer, the litany, and instruction and evening prayer are held, whilst in some High or Ritualistic Churches, a special service cailed "The Three Hours' Agony," composed of a series of short discourses with meditations on the scenes of Calvary, is also employed for the fuller solemnization of the Atone

In the Catholic churches the services all have striking reference to the solemn event commemorated. The alters are stripped of their ornaments and the images and crucifixes are draped in pur-The Passion according to St. John is read and the adoration of the cross follows. The sacred Host which had been conveyed to the repository on Maundy Thursday is conveyed back in selemn procession to the tabernacle on the main altar to the tuneful strains of the choir chanting the hymn, " Vexilla Regis Prodeunt."

The services in the turee Catholic churches of the city were well attended, the full form of the ritual being carried out in each. At 3 p. m. to day the stations of the cross were recited in the same churches.
