FLINE & BRENEMAN.

A Good Game at Bending. Yesterday afternoon several hundred people went to the park to witness a game between the Lancaster club and the Philadelphia Reds, or reservo team of the League club. The weather was very cold, and the audience were chilled to the bones. The game was anything but interesting and, indeed, at times it was very tiresome. Both clubs played loosely, but the visitors showed up very badly, and if yes terday's playing is a sample of what they can do, their manager had better call them in and give most of them their releases. The Lancaster put McCoy and Shannon in at the battery. The latter was a new man as the battery. The latter was a new man and being unable to hold the balls the pair were taken out, and in the fifth inning Peak and Richardson were put in, showing better results. For the visitors Gallagher pitched the first couple of innings, when Cabill took his place, Donohue catching for both. The batting of the clubs was almost equal, the home nine being the beavier.

Game was called shortly after 3 o'clock by Weitzell of the Lancaster team, who umpired. Neither nine stored in the first inning. In the second Gallagher secured the first run for the visitors, after making a hit, coming in on Tanner's out at first. The third inning gave both clubs blanks. Cahill, of the Reds, reached first in the fourth inning on slow fielding and scored on a passed ball. Meister took his base on balls coming like Cahill. Gallagher's ball was well fielded by Hiland, who threw it to first, where it was muffed by Peak, and the run was made by Daniels' out at first Shannon made a two bagger in this inning and got the first run for his club on Richardson's single to center field. The Reds did not score again during the game. In the sixth inning Holland reached his base on a hot ball to third and came in on a passed ball. Hofford took his base on balls and McCoy got there by being struck by a pitched ball. Both came in on Richardson's hit. In the eighth inning the home team succeeded in making four more runs by fair batting and miserable fielding of the Reds. The latter seemed to have lost their heads in this inning and played very wildly. None of them seemed able to hold the ball or threw it, the playing of Tanner at first being notably bad Hiland's playing at second was the feature of the Lancaster the Hnited States court because the decided the court because the court b game. He made several very difficult fly catches, one being taken with one hand At the bat he was very strong and secured a two bagger. The score by inning , was Waltill.

The Reading Times attributes the defeat of the Ironsides club there yesterday by the Actives of that city to the careless play of Higgins, who dropped two flies at second base. It declares that the batting of the Reading team was something ter rifle, Fiele being hit for twelve singles with a total of eighteen. Schappert struck out eight men and assisted in putting out ten others, yet an error of an overthrow ball to Boyle at first permitted the Ironsides nine to send two men over the home plate. Pyle struck out four men but the Active team sized him up early and downed him often thereafter. The Times says:

The game opened nicely with the Actives at the bat. Pyle's skeleton figure appeared in the box for the Ironsides and Oldield caught him superbly. Boyle's magnificent drive to middle field gave him second, and Cullen, who sized the sphere up every time he bandled the ash, not only sent Boyle over the home plate but came fence. He tried to make second but selece. He tried to make second but slipped up in the undertaking. For the Ironsides, Hamilton got to base on balls but Derby's drive of the ball to Cullen completed the career of both. It was a double play. McTamany secured a base hit and also third base on an overthrow by Schappert and secured the first run. In the second inning Jacoby hit to near the middle field fence, but was caught at thire? So was Gagus at second. The inning ended with Halpin going out on a fly pop to Higgins. The Ironsides with Greene, Higgins and Bradley going out in regular order, took the field again.

The Actives had three men on the bases in the third inning when Friel took the bat. The audience looked for big things, but they never came. Friel struck out, and the ball, rapidly fielded to first by Oldfield, caught Cullen as another victim. Grady having headed the list of outs. It this inning Higgins began his great muff act, dropping two fly balls. The Ironsides did well in the seventh inning. Oldfield hit safe. Green followed. Higgins drove the ball to centre, Oldfield scoring, and by an overthrow to third Greene added another run. The Actives came in with a business air in the eight inning. Though McLaughlin went out on a fly Boyle made a two base hit to left field fence. Friel followed with a two base hit to centre field. Jacoby kept it up with another two base hit, Boyle and Friel scoring. Culien and Halpin were the remaining outs. The Ironsides in their share of the eighth added another run by Derby. The ninth inning ended for the Actives in a double play on Schappert and Grady, Gagus going out on a fly tip. The Ironsides went out in regular order— Higgins, Bradley and Pyle being the

In some suits brought before Alderman McConomy by the Delaware River & Laneaster railroad company, against the de faulting subscribers to its stock, Constable Henry Nagle charged full mileage for serving the summons in each of eight cases. Counsel for the defense opposed the charge of full mileage in each case maintaining that the distance charged for had not been traveled, and offered to pay full mileage in the first case and 45 cents for each of the others. In court on Saturday counsel for the plaintiff moved to strike off the appeals because the full costs had not been paid; Judge Livingston gave the defendants fifteen days in which to pay the full amount of costs. Constable Nagle thinks of making application for the office of tipstaff on the ground that he can travel more miles in one day and put in more days in a month than Jake Hollinger.

The case of Lemon S. Groff vs. Mose Newburger & Son, which has been on trial in the United States court, Philadelphia, for several days past, came to a conclusion to day when a verdict was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for $961.77, that being the full amount claimed. This was an action to recover the value of a crop of tobacco. The case was first brough the United States court, because the de-fendants, non-residents of the state, feared the local prejudice against leaf tobacco between purchasers and favoritism to the grower. B. Frank Eshelman and J. H. Heverin, esqs, represented the plaintiffs, and J. L. Steinmetz and David W. Sellers, appeared for the defense.

Nine of the gasoline lamps were out in different parts of the city, the "last lamp on South Queen street" being one of them, as usual.

The New Street Ballway.

A large force of men are at work constructing the new stree; railroad leading from Centre Square via East King, Duke, Walnut and the New Holland turnpike to McGraon's park. They are now working on Walnut street and the New Holland turnpike, and have nearly a square of the track laid. The treuches for the ties are being rapidly dug, and about five weeks more, it is thought, will witness the com pletion of the track laying.

"Lights o' London,"-To-morrow and Thurs-day evenings this attractive melodrama will be presented for the first time in this city. There will doubtless be a large crowd present. The play is full of rien and variou featares, has a strong plot and plenty of sensa-tional situations, which go to make it a great Invorte with the public. The company presenting it is said to be very strong and capa-ble, and the characters are said to be taken with splendid ability.

COYLE HANGED. AFFORTS TO PROVE HIM INSANE

The Jull Yard Crowded to See the Execution -Ooyle Dies With Scarcely a Straggle and at Peace With the World.

GETTISBURG, Pa., April 22.-John Coyle was hanged here at 11:27 this morning.

The insanity experts, who came here Monday, announced that Coyle was suffering from depression of the skull, caused by a blow, and was insane. This was communicated to the governor, but he refused to interfere. Coyle was accordingly informed last night that all hopes had gone, but he slept well and ate breakfast at ten o'clock this morning. A large train brought many people into town and at an early hour five hundred had crowded into the jail yard.

into the jail yard. On the Gallows. Coyle walked to the gallows with his spiritual adviser. The district attorney announced, on behalf of the condemned man, that Coyle died at peace with all men. After prayer and banediction Coyle was swung into eternity and died with scarcely a struggle. The body will be given to his mother to be taken to Marietta for burial. for burial. A Sketch of the Murder and Trials.

[John Coyle, jr., lived with his parents, who kept the "Ferry House," in York county, on the side of the Susquehanna opposite Marietta. His parents were aged, he was the only son and the whole family had the reputation of being a vicious and immoral set. Young John was extremely handsome, but was lustful, hot tempered and addicted to rum. Emi ly Myers, his victim, aged about 18 years, was a servant in the employ of the Coyle family; she was handsome, and the younger Coyle became enamored of her She repelled his addresses, but according to his testimony, consented to become his wife. On the morning of the 80th of May, 1881, the girl was called by Coyle's mother 1881, the girl was called by Coyle's mother to get up and milk the cows. At the stable door she met Coyle, who said to her, "I came out to see if you would be as good as your word; you promised to marry me; will you be my wife?" She replied: "No; I won't have you nor any other man." Coyle said, "I'll shoot you, for no other man shall have you." Pointing to her breast she said: "Shoot me—shoot me man shall have you." Pointing to her breast she said: "Shoot me—shoot me quick." Coyle then shot her through the heart. He then turned the pistol upon himself, inflicting two slight wounds upon his person. He made no effort to escape but returned to the house and gave an account of the shooting, and was conveyed to the prison at York. Oa the 10th of June, 1881, a bill for murder was found against Coyle. The case was continued to October term, 1881, for trial, and on the 19th of October, 1881, the trial was ordered and a jury empanelled after the return of three special venires. On the 26th of October, 1881, the verdict of the jury was rendered as guilty of murder of the first degree. The case was carried to the suprem; court at Philadelphia in May, 1882. The prisoner's defense was insanity. The supreme court reversed the lower court for the use of a single word "clearly" instead of the cheen extend but quiet; Extras, 1545-16c. neart. He then turned the pistol upon oourt reversed the lower court for the use of a single word "clearly" instead of "fairly" in speaking of the measure of proof necessary to establish insanity. The Distorbances Sweep Under Many Towns and Create Great Alarm, London, April 22 -At half-past nine this morning an earthquake shock of considerable force was felt in the eastern counties of England. Locali ties in Essex and Suffolk were the scenes of the greatest disturbance. At Ipswich, the capital of Suffork, the shock was so severe that the walls of the houses were perceptibly shaken; plates were rattled and belis rung. The people have been thrown into such a state of conster nation that business is temporarily sus pended. An Awful Soment to Colchester. The shock was still more severe at Colchester, in Essex. The concussion lasted half a minute. The first symptoms of the disturbance were a deep rumbling sound, portentious and awe inspiring. This was speedily followed by quaking and shaking of many buildings. Church bells rang as though swayed by unseen hands; tall chim-neys of factories crashed in ruins to the earth and other lofty structures were destroyed. One of the loftiest spires in the city, 150 feet high, fell with an awful crash. In one part of the city fire broke out. In private houses the greatest confusion prevailed. Tables were overturned chairs swayed and nodded and then all fell sprawling on the floor. The china and glassware rattled together and was shat tered to pieces, while the pictures and or naments on the walls tell to the floor. Mer, women and children rushed terror stricken and shricking into the street, where their agonized cries and pale faces made a most impressive scene. Other Towns Shanen. At Chelmsford, likewise is Essex, only about 30 miles from London the shock was also severe, and people were filled with terror and dismay. At South End, the watering place near the mouth of the Thames, the earth trembled for miles ar und. The windows of many dwellings were broken, chimneys were dashed to the earth and crockery and glassware smashed. At Shoeburgness, a few miles beyond South End, the shock was distinctly felt. It was also perceptible at Bury street, Edgemonds; while at Maldon, 10 miles east of Chelmsford, the town hall and private houses were swayed several times. The wave passed from south to north. the Snock Felt in London.

The Globe says that the shock was felt in the Strand, in London. A business house, it asserts, was perceptibly rocked; so much so that the employes were affected and rushed into the streets. The duration of the shock at Ipswich is estimated at three seconds. The earthquake has caused a general
