A TRAGIC EVENT.

A Father's Despair and Self-Inflicted Death, His Son's Final Rescue, Too Late to Save His Parent.

The graphic occurrence that is described below is one of the most remarkable episodes in the domestic history of America. It is absolute truth which can readily be verified.

The inhabitants of the pleasant town of Cortland, N. Y., were shocked one morning by the announcement that Mr. Clinton Rindge, one of their most prominent citizens, had committed suicide. The news spread rapidly and aroused the entire neighborhood where Mr. Rindge was so well and favorably known. At first it seemed impossible that any one so quiet and domestic could do so rash a deed, and the inquiry was heard on every side as to the cause. The facts as developed on investigation proved to be as follows:

Mr. Rindge was domestic in his tastes and took the greatest enjoyment in the society of his children and pride in their development. And indeed he had good reason to be proud for they gave promise of long lives of success and usefulness. But an evil day came. His youngest son, William, began to show signs of an early decay. He felt unusually tired each day, and would sometimes sleep the entire afternoon if permitted to do so. His head pained him, not acutely, but with a dull, heavy feeling. There was a sinking sensation at the pit of his stomach. He lost all relish for food and much of his interest for things about him. He tried manfully to overcome these feelings, but they seemed stronger than his will. He began to lose flesh rapidly. The father became alarmed and consulted physicians as to the cause of his son's illness, but they were unable to explain. Finally severe sores broke out on the arms and he was taken to Buffalo where a painful operation was performed resulting in the loss of much blood but affording little relief. The young man returned home and a council of physicians was called. After an exhaustive examination they declared there was no hope of final recovery and that he must die within a few days. To describe the agony which this announcement caused the father would be impossible. His mind failed to grasp its full meaning at first; then finally sentence of condemnation fell on his ear in all its awful meaning. In an agony of frenzy he seized a knife and took his own life, preferring death rather than to survive his idolized son. At that time William Rindge was too weak to know what was transpiring. His face had turned black, his breath ceased entirely at times, and his friends waited for his death, believing that the fiend Bright's disease of the kidneys, from which he was suffering, could not be removed. In this supreme moment William's sister came forward and declared she would make a final attempt to save her brother. The doctors interposed, assuring her it was useless, and that she would only hasten the end by the means she proposed to employ. But she was firm, and putting all back approached her brother's side and administered a remedy which she fortunately had on hand. Within an hour he seemed more easy, and before the day was over he showed signs of decided improvement. These favorable signs continued, and to-day William B. Rindge is well, having been virtually raised from the dead through the marvelous power of Warner's Safe Cure, as can be found y verified by any citizen of Cortland.

Any one who reflects upon the facts above described must have a feeling of sadness. The father dead by his own hand, supposing his son's recovery to be impossible; the son restored to health to mourn the loss of his father and the agonized relatives with a memory of sadness to forever darken their lives. Had Clinton Rindge known that his son could recover he would now be alive and happy, but the facts which turned his brain and caused him to commit suicide were such as any one would accept as true.

However sad this case may be, the truth remains that thousands of people are at this moment in great danger. Could all as William Rindge and in as great danger of causing misery if not death to their friends. Liver and kidney diseases in a become the most common and most dangerous of any or all modern complaints. They are the most deceptive in their beginnings and horrible in their final stages. They are far more deceptive than consumption, and can rarely be detected even by skilful physicians unless a microscopic analysis be resorted to and few doctors understand how to do this. Their slightest approach, or possibility of approach should strike terror to the one who is fastened as well as to all his friends. These diseases have no distinct symptoms, but come in the form of lassitude, loss of appetite, aching muscles and joints, dull headaches, pains in the back, stomach and chest, sour stomach, recurring signs of cold, irregular pulsations of the heart and frequent dizziness. If neglected, these symptoms are certain to run into chronic kidney and liver or Bright's disease from which there is only to be a great amount of agony and only one means of escape, which is by the use of Warner's Safe Cure. The importance of taking this great remedy upon the slightest appearance of any of the above symptoms cannot be too strongly impressed upon the minds of all readers who desire to escape death's untimely path and prolong life with all its pleasures and blessings.

THE TOBACCO MARKET.

WHAT IS DOING AT HOME AND ABROAD

A Good Deal of the Weed Brought to the Warehouses—The Condition of Trade in New York and Elsewhere.

A great deal of '83 tobacco was brought to our warehouses last week, but not in such quantities as came in for some weeks previous. There are two reasons for the falling off of receipts: First, the warehouses are piled full of loose tobacco, which must be cased before there is room for the receipt of more; and, second, the bulk of the crop has been already bought, and growers cannot therefore jostle each other with their deliveries as they did for some weeks past. Following are some recent sales and deliveries:

John Moore & Co., bought in Penn township from Aaron Mumma an acre at 10, 5, 3, 2; from John H. White, 4 acres at 15, 5, 2; from Abram Snavely, 2½ acres at 13, 4, 2; from Abram Grabill, of West Earl, 6 acres at 15, 3, 2; from John Summers, 2 acres at 11½, 6, 3

A. M. Fenstermacker, of Millersville, is credited with the following among other purchases:

A. M. Zerphy, 2 acres at 11, 2, 2; of Christian Charles, 3 acres at 12, 2, 2; of Christian Charles, 3 acres at 8, 2, 2, 2; of Christian Charles, 4 acres at 11, 2, 2, 2; of Christian Charles, 3 acres at 6, 2, 2; of Phares Swarr, 1 acre at 9, 2, 2; of John Stump, 3 acres at 12, 6, 2, 2; of J. J. Bassler, 2 acres at 8, 6, 2, 2; of Henry F. Eshbauch, 2 acres at 6, 2, 2; of J. K. Fisher, 1 acre at 8, 2, 2; of John Fry, 1 acre at 7, 2, 2; of Benjamin Shenk, 6 acres at 8, 2, 2; of Benjamin Shenk, 2 acres at 7, 2, 2; of L. H. Mann, 3 acres at 9, 2, 2

The demand for old tobaccos of the crops of '81 and '82 continues active, and our packers are rapidly reducing their stock at remunerative prices. The sales during the past week aggregated about 400 cases of '81 and 200 of '82.

The young plants for the '84 crop are as yet mostly under cover, the weather having been too cool to expose them. It is believed that the amount of seed sown is larger than ever before, and that nearly every planter has secured a portion at least of Havana seed. It will be several weeks, however, before a general setting out of the young plants takes place. Farmers will not, of course, forget that a much larger number of Havana seed plants can be set on an acre of ground, than of the ordinary seed leaf. We doubt the propriety, however, of setting 8,000 or 10,000 plants to the acre, as recommended by a Wisconsin contemporary, and which will be found printed below.

The New York Market.

The Tobacco Journal of New York prints a long editorial in the course of which it states that during the week there was manifested a startling predilection for '83 Wisconsin Havana seed, which sold at prices ranging from 30 to 40 cents per pound and 1,000 cases were sold at private rates. Meantime there was considerable manouvreing going on in '83 New York State Havana seed, '83 Housatonic Havana seed, and also in '83 Housatonic native seed, packers anticipating a rise in all these grades, and no distant day. The Journal adds: "Laying aside the possibility of a reduced import duty on Sumatra, the question is in place: How high will the prices go for the '83 Havana seed crops? We hold that, provided the duty on Sumatra remains at 75 cents, it can be sold in our market at $1 65 to $1 75. The particulars of the first auction sale at Amsterdam have now arrived. The tobacco realized from 2 to 2½ gulden, equal to 80 to 95 cents. Taking from this the difference in weight amounting to 10 per cent., a correspondling reduction is had. Therefore this tobacco might be laid down here at about $1.50 and sold at about $1 75. This tobacco is lighter in color than that of last year, but this is no drawback; very dark colors are no longer desired by the trade. The great preference for '83 Wisconsin Havana seed lies in the fact that it is not too dark. Three pounds of Sumatra at $1 75 is $5 25. If the Havana seed of the '83 crop reaches 33 to 35 cents, the wrappers will stand from 50 to 55 cents. The manufacturer figures a use of 8 pounds of '83 Havana seed per thousand cigars. It will be observed that the difference between the costs of both articles is comparatively small. The preference is in such case for Sumatra. Therefore, the gentlemen with golden dreams who see some 40 cents dangling around their '83 Havana seed, will please wake up and partake of a little reason. Amidst the hubbub in New Havana seed, the native seed has almost been lost sight of. The disagreeable experience with the '82 Connecticut deters many from approaching the '83 stock. It certainly is better than its predecessor. The 83 Pennsylvania is being shown already in the market. Those who wish to see it popular show fine examples. Others show rotten ones, claiming the whole crop to be like it. From our observation we judge it a good investment. It was bought cheap, because a good deal of it was rotten. That which is good was secured at such prices as to be sure of sale from 12 to 18 cents. Money will be made on these investments. The whole purchase of the '83 Pennsylvania resembles the one of '79 Pennsylvania in so many particulars that the chances for a profitable result for the packers are very good indeed. Of the '83 Ohio crop very little is shown in the market and no especially commendable features are discernable.

"In '82 tobaccos business was quiet. There were sales of about 200 cases '82 Pennsylvania at 18 to 20 cents; '80 and '81 Pennsylvania are advancing in price, and with difficulty only cheap lots can be obtained. It is quoted at 12 to 15 cents for wrappery lots. In '82 Havana seed stray small parcels were sold at figures reaching 25 cents. Quite a demand exists for the so called '82 "Little Dutch" fillers; the price realized in several instances were as high as 24 cents. The total sales of the week will sum up about 2,500 cases.

"Sumatra—Owing to the high figures asked for New Havana seed, the market for Sumatra was exceedingly active, resulting in sales of 600 bales. Prices $1.20 to $180.

"Havana—Market moderately active. Sales 500 bales at 31 cents to $1.30."

Gans' Weekly Report

Following are the sales of seed leaf tobacco reported by J. S. Gans' Son & Co., tobacco brokers, No. 131 Water street, New York, for the week ending April 28, 1884:

1,364 cases 1883 Wisconsin Havana, 22@30c; 300 cases 1882, Wisconsin Havana, 25@50c.; 481 cases 1882 Pennsylvania, 4½@16c.; 150 1881 do., 6@10c.; 200 cases 1880 do., 11@12c.; 100 cases 1882 New England, 11@20c.; 50 cases 1882 Ohio, p. t. Total, 2,645 cases.

Philadelphia Market.

The Philadelphia correspondent of the New York Tobacco Leaf reports the trade in manufactured tobacco during the week as only moderate, though prices remain firm. Transactions in smoking tobaccos, snuff and cigars are satisfactory.

Business in cigar leaf is not lively, for the reason that dealers as a general thing have not got the stock desired. All the '82 leaf of every description is fast going into the hands of manufacturers, so that the '81 crop of a necessity must be bought on the market, and will in a very short time demand a price which heretofore was considered improbable. Wrappers are growing daily less, so much so that it looks as if Havana seed packers had made no mistake in their purchases of the 1883 crop, which cost an unusually high price. Sumatra sells, because purchasers cannot do as well otherwise. An unusual quantity of Cuban stock is being sold at much higher figures than customary.

How Many Tobacco Plants to the Acre.

Edgerton (Wis.) Tobacco Reporter.

The question is frequently asked: "How many Havana tobacco plants shall I set on an acre of land?"

An acre of land is 208 feet square, and is also 2,304 inches square. An acre contains 160 square rods. An acre also embraces 43,520 square feet, and 6,296,880 square inches.

If Havana tobacco plants are set out on one square acre of land, 64 rows (3 feet and 2 inches apart between the rows) are necessary to fill the acre, and 125 plants are necessary, 20 inches asunder, for each one of the 64 rows, thus requiring 8,000 plants to be set out an acre in the manner described.

A square acre set out with the rows 3 feet and 2 inches apart and 18 in the rows, takes 8,890 plants. In this instance it requires 64 rows to fill up the plot of ground, and 139 plants to each row.

In order to grow a beautiful, fine, and profitable leaf it seems necessary that our grower should put their plants close together—say about 10,000 to the acre, and thus raise tobacco equal to the Sumatra wrappers.

The Duty on Sumatra Tobacco.

The attorney general, in an opinion regarding the duty on Sumatra tobacco, holds that "customs appraisers may examine the package containing the leaf tobacco, and in cases in which it appears that it has been packed with the purpose of evading the law, they may separate that which is plainly fit for fillings only from that which may be fit for wrappers, and assess on them the duty applicable to each class of tobacco."

What is Known About Insanity.

St. James' Budget.

Experts agree that the subject of insanity is still plunged in semi obscurity. The greater number of authorities are of opinion that the only successful treatment is of a negative kind; that the mind must be placed, as it were, on crutches and all irritations removed, so as to allow nature to right herself by a series of efforts from within. The patient usually arrives at an asylum in a frantic condition, due sometimes to personal outrage and rough usage to mental irritation of a temporary sort. If irritation is kept up, febrile excitement glides into inflammation of the brain, and that ends in paralysis. If taken in time, early symptoms may be treated by soothing methods before the tissues become inflamed. Or, if this be impossible, then inflammation must run its course, watched carefully, like fever for a crisis. If through careless ness the crisis be allowed to pass unobserved, alas for the victim! Imbecility supervenes—chronic dementia. The patient is insane for life; or, in cases of extreme rarity, wakes at last after a nightmare of years, lamed and shattered. Insanity is a prolonged sleep walking; a condition of torpor peopled by dreams, from which the sleeper may awake or not. If the brain can be lulled to complete rest by science, it may awake whole. And yet the mad house inmate, who above all things should find repose in his seclusion, generally seeks for it in vain.

The æsthetic movement in England has entirely died out, because—Well because people think there is more good common sense in taking a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup than in carrying a lily.

Vital Questions!!

Ask the most eminent physician

Of any school what is the best thing in the world for quieting and allaying all irritation of the nerves and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always?

And they will tell you unhesitatingly

"Some form of Hops!"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all of the most eminent physicians:

"What is the best and only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; such as Bright's disease, diabetes, retention or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"—

"And they will tell you explicitly and emphatically "Buchu."

Ask the same physicians

"What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia; constipation, indigestion, biliousness, malarial fever, ague, etc.," and they will tell you:

Mandrake! or Dandelion?"
