

COLUMBIA NEWS.

from our Regular Correspondent.
Miss Lizzie Willis, who was visiting the Misses Pickens, has returned to Millford, Del.—The wife of Rev. John McCoy, of Franklin, Pa., formerly of Columbia, is visiting Mrs. Gao, Crane—Inspector Gen. Godard and Maj. Wm. Moorhead, stopped at the Franklin House.—Mr. Etinger, of Troy, N. J., has become foreman of the mounting department of the stove works.—Mrs. Geo. Mason is visiting Lancaster friends.—Mr. Christian, of Philadelphia, has returned home after a week's visit to Columbia.—Samer Bleitz, of Bleitz Bros., came of age yesterday, and was presented with a gold headed cane by his sister, Mrs. Geo. Mason and Miss Amanda Baker.—Samuel Grove's funeral to day was largely attended.—Jacob Read's remains were buried in Mt. Bethel cemetery.

Gold for Forgery.
John Becker was before Alderman Ford, to day to answer for attempting to pass a forged check for $175 drawn on his order and signed by John Masser of Salisbury. He was locked up for a hearing to-morrow afternoon. He declared he is innocent.

SUNDAY USE.
The Lancaster & Miller's Hardware company will commence running a car on Sunday as follows: We will leave Millerville on Sunday, May 4, at 3 p.m. and 4 p.m.; we will leave Lancaster at 8 a.m., 12 m., and 3 p.m. m.

Acknowledgements.

The managers of the Home gratefully acknowledge the following donations: John F. Long's Sons, 26 boxes of potash; Jacob Hauseman, 25 bushels of potatoes; G. Zahn's annual Easter gift of cinnamon cake.

Runaway Accidents.

Patrick Kohan was thrown on the P. R. Railroad at Bridge street yesterday while driving a horse attached to a cart.

The horses became fastened about the man and he was dragged some distance before the horse was stopped. He received a painful cut on the head. Kohan had in company another team driver, who was also knocked down and run over by his own cart, but he escaped without much injury. The horses of both teams became frightened by an engine blowing off steam. Kohan and his companion were both very drunk. They were en route from German town to the vicinity of Gettysburg, where they intend working on a new railroad.

A runaway dog created much excitement on the streets yesterday. She jumped into the river and swam all the way across before overtaking and overtaking her.

Wanted steady and more active; Extras, 18c; Southern, 16c.

Runaway Accidents.

The White Horse—The Pittsburgh Dispatch says: "The opera house held the largest audience of the season last night when Bartley Campbell's 'White Slave' was played upon the boards by a strong company. The play was discussed sufficiently a year ago. It is of little interest, reminds one of the old days of the theatre, and seems very strong in situations." The play will be given in the opera house this evening. The company have a whole calendar of comedy, and the cast includes Miss Virginia Buchanan and other Lancaster favorites.

Runaway Accidents.

Columbus, the Spaniard and Olive branch of Old Ireland, will be on the stage at Shakspeare's next week in H. C. Wood's on Wednesday, May 16, party at Indian Head yesterday will be repeated with dancing music.—What has become of the conunpliated tea break company? Seven weeks inventory will be completed to-morrow and work resumed next week.—R. & C. Rail road, wharves at the basin are being repaired.—King's new store will have the fashionable colored glass on the top of the show windows.—The upholsterers have gone on an expedition to Washington to clean out the old fashioned walls which impeded the passage of the shade.—C. M. Michael's store was rounched last night of several dozen pairs of shoes by the thief who prided open the front door.

Runaway Accidents.

"On the Story month of May."

The wedding of Harry S. Brubaker, of Lincoln, and Miss Carrie Regar, daughter of Cyrus Regar, of Denver, at the residence of the bride's parents on Tuesday evening, April 29, was an interesting social event and was witnessed by a very large company. Mr. M. L. Weston, of Lincoln, was groomsman, and Miss Emma B. Wolf, of Denver, bridesmaid. The presents were numerous and valuable. Mr. and Mrs. Brubaker left on Wednesday morning with the last train on a wedding tour.

A wedding in Boston.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

Last evening Miss Jessie Lee, an only daughter of the well-known Lees of Germantown, was married in a quiet ceremony by Rev. Dr. McNeil, in St. Mark's church, this city, to Mr. Thomas Weller, of Philadelphia. The bride was dressed in a very handsomely arranged white satin gown with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.

Another May-day was here.

For the second month of May.

A number of Lancaster folks were in Reading for the annual gathering of Elmer E. Phillips, of New York, and Miss Lettie Smith, of H. C. Wood's, in the parlor of the residence of George W. Kim. The bride looked lovely in a solid-colored silk costume, beautifully trimmed with lace and flowers, and the groom wore a full dress suit of black. There was a sumptuous entertainment, the presents were of fine beauty and the wedding journey took in Lancashire.