Also, that two more members be added by the board to the building committee to take the place of three of the members whose term of office as school directors expires with the present school term. Both of the committee's requests were compiled with by the board. Mesers Markel and Auwerter were added to the building committee,

The board decided to attend the high school commencement in a body, and to invite the new members elect to accompany it. Superintendent Ames was granted per mission to absent himself from the schools on May 21st, to attend the commencement at the Soldier's orphans' home at Mount

A number of bills were ordered to be paid and the board adjourned. Primary School Examinature The examinations at the primary solice taught by Miss Carrie Hoffer were held yesterday, a number of visitors being present. Unlike the usual dull exercises these were pleasant and entertaining, no less to pupils than visitors. The terrors of examination day seemed but to exist for the pupils, a fact which reflects great credit on the teacher's method of conducting it. The aptness with which very young pupils replied to really diffi-cult questions proved how thoroughly they were drilled in their studies by their teacher. Superintendent Ames briefly ad dressed the school at the conclusion of the exercises, and complimented Miss Hoffer by saying that her exercises for the day had been possessed of an individuality of their own.

THE INTER-COUNTY BRIDGE Failure of the County C malestoners to Meet. Some of the West Chester newspapers complain that the Langaster county commissioners did not meet the Chester county officials at Ross' fording on the Octoraro last Wednesday to view the proposed site of the inter county bridge. Of course they didnt. Our commissioners have sense enough to keep out of the Councilmen Borger and Riddle. A resolu wet. That one of the Chester county tion had come over from common council, from this narrative in one of the Chester dailies.

On Wednesday the county commissioners had made an appointment to go to Ross' Fording, on the Ostoraro creek, by way of the W. C. & P. and B. C. rail roads. Mesers. Reynolds and Jam's boarded the train, but found MacFeat was not about. The latter rushed to the station just in time to see the cars pulling out. He met Sheriff Baker on his return, who thought he could land him at Chadds Ford before the train reached there, and at once had his little mare harnessed to the carriage and they started off. The mare appeared to know there was some thing to be done, at once took the bit in her mouth, started off at and kept up a high rate of speed the entire distance, rewas reached in 35 minutes, which was

LANUASTER VICTORIOUS

Laying Out the Chester Club by 16 to 2-Notes of the Game. Notwithstanding the muggy weather, threatening sky and bad condition of the Lancaster grounds, Manager Hargreaves, of the Chester club, insisted on a game yesterday, the contest being witnessed by a small audience. The game was rendered very unfuteresting by the chilly atmosphere and the inexcusable errors by which it was marked. Many of the latter were doubtless due to the very bad condition of the grounds. The Lancaster nine had a great batting picnic in Connaham's pitching, making 16 hirs off him with little difficulty. The visitors found Wetzell's curves hard to master, making but four singles during the game.

For the Chester John son played a great game in left field. Farmer was con-spicuously weak behind the bat, having ten passed balls, five of them whin there was a man on third base. Game was called at the end of the eighth inting on account of darkness, Mr. McTamany, of the fronsides, made a very satisfactory umpire, his decisions being Appended is the a implate score :

In our report of the proceedings of councils, published yesterday, there was an omission, which does injustice to Select Councilmen Borger and Riddle. A resoluboard got there under difficulties appears to provide a horse and carriage for the use of West | the water works superintendent. Messrs. Riddle and Borger opposed the resolution on the ground that it was not needed, and the superintendent of water works could better afford from his salary to furnish his own horse and carriage than either the street commissioner or chief of fire depart ment, whose salaries are less. The resolution to furnish the horse and vehicle passed notwithstanding the opposition of the entlemen named, and it was not until then that Mr. Borger offered and Mr. Riddle supported a resolution to feed and able the street commissioner's borse.

NICHOLA RECAPTURED.

The Young Herse Thist raken Into Curredy in Philadelphia, Philadelphia Press.

James Nichols, a daring young horse thief, was captured Thursday night, in Philadelphia, by Detectives Miller and Wolf. Nichols, who is only 20 years old, stole four horses in West Chester about six months ago and started with them to his home in Laucaster. He was appre-hended, however, by Chief Police Deichler, who made an effort to take him back to West Chester for trial. The train was speeding along at the rate of forty miles an hour, and Chief Deichler felt that there was no danger of an escape by his prisoner who sat next the window.

In spite of the train's great velocity. Nichols, taking advantage of a momentary turning of the officer's head, burled himself like a flash through the glass. By the time the train had stopped be bad disap peared. He then came to Philadelphia, is wife following him, and rented a house in the rear of 1338 Cherry street, where he claims to have since been leading an hon est life. When he saw them he ran up stairs and secreted bimself on the third floor, but was soon dragged out of his hiding place and taken to the Central sta-tion, where he will have a hearing Friday morning.

An associated press dispatch from Philadelphia this afternoon states that Nichols was arraigned at the Central station this morning and committed to the custody of an officer from Chester county.

The bail stones were about as large as peas and after the storm bailstones were gathered up by the shovelfull. No damage was done,
