of a Peer Marrylog an Invalle

One of the most fashionable and at the same time one of the most strangely as-sorted marriages of the Loudon season was solemnized Saturday morning at St. Peter's church, Eaton Square, Belgravia The bridegroom was Sic John Lubbook, baronet, a partner in the immensely wealthy banking house of Roberts, Lub book & Co., M. P. for London university, a fellow of the Royal society and a well known dilettante scientist, especially in the domain of entomology and natural history. He is a rich willower, just fifty years of age, very tall and thin, has a thin, piping voice, weak, squinting eyes and has been for years a martyr to gout, which confines him to his bed most of the time. His last appearance at the House of Commons was at the time of the division on the vote of censure last Tues day night, when he left his sick bed and hobbled on crutches to his place in the House, to give his vote to the government. He managed to discard his crutches and marched bravely down the aisle of St

She is both young and beautiful and was superbly dressed in a robe of ivory satin brogade, trimmed with orange blossoms and lilies of the valley, and garnished with pearl and diamond stars, the costume being valued at $3,000.

BATTLING IN A BOAT.

An Eloping Young Woman Sees Her Father and Her Lover Drowned. On Thursday evening, near White Sul-phur Springs, Va., Miss Ella Farrer, daughter of J. H. Farrer, eloped with a young man named John Biggs. They left the Farrer mansion, in the southern part of the county, in a buggy and drove towards the Green Brier river, intending to cross and be married on the other side. Mr. Farrer, who was absent from home, re-turned shortly afterward and immediately gave chase, accompanied by his son. They overtook the couple just as they had got to a skiff to cross the river. Mr. Farrer, who was in a towering rage, called on them to stop, and, receiving no reply, leaped into another boat and gave chase The fugitives were overhauled in the mid dle of the river and the elder Farrer leaped into the boat and grappled with Biggs. Young Farrer meanwhile seized the girl and drew her into his boat by force. The father and lover wrestled fiercely in the frail craft, which finally capsized. They clung to each other as they went under and thus each insured the death of the other. The younger Farrer tried to aid them unsuccessfully and then took his sister ashore. Biggs body was found, but Farrer's has not been recovered. The attentions of Biggs to Miss Farrer, who was greatly his social superior, were has caused intense excitement throughout the county, the Farrers being widely known. They are wealthy and promi-

THE EDNA TATE MYSTERY

Two Claimants for the Body of a Beautiful Girl Who Died in a Hotel. The remains of the beautiful young girl known as Miss Edna Tate, who was suffocated by gas on the 9th instant, at the Niagara house, Baltimore, have been identifled and claimed by two different persons. A few days ago a young man named Roberts called at the hotel and said he had been directed by H. C. Roberts, of Pana, Putnam county, Illinois, to pay all the expenses attached to the burial of Miss Tate; that she was a niece of Mr. Roberts; but further the young man refused to converse on the subject of the girl's name, or history. The body was accordingly buried and Miss Tate's effects. consisting of valuable clothing, costly jowels and $25 in money, were delivered to young Roberts. Subsequently the authorities received a letter from Mrs. Gundolph, who resides near Mount Crawford, Rockingham county, Va. Mrs. Gundolph stated in her let ter that her daughter Jennie, aged nine-teen years, disappeared two wooks ago and that from the description of Miss Tate she was led to believe the deceased was ber daughter. She enclosed a photograph of her child, which the hotel proprietors and all who had seen Miss Tate declared emphatically was that of the dead girl Communication between Mrs. Gundolph and the authorities followed, and the result was the remains were disinterred and sent to Virginia. A telegram was received stating that upon examination it was as-certained that the dead body was not that Miss Gundolph. It is likely the corpse will be returned to Baltimore.

MRS. LANGTRY WINS.

The Jury Not Susceptible to Her Charms But Firm for the Elght.

Mrs. Langtry was defendant in a civil suit in New York on Friday, and a morning paper, in its report, intimated that the jury was well pleased with her. She got a verdict in her behalf. Saturday she was defendant in another suit, Arthur Elwood, an actor, having sued her for $67 salary. Mrs. Langtry was present again and appeared very charming, but the jury frowned on her and kept a watchful eye on the reporters to see that the frown was taken down. At one point something laughable was said. Everybody laughed except the jury, who frowned and glanced at the reporters again. At the close of her testimony Mrs. Laugtry looked be-seechingly at the jury and was shocked at the stony stare she encountered. The jury consulted for twenty minutes and returned looking cross. The foreman arose and said: "Mrs. Langtry, according to a morning paper, enchanted a jury yesterday. In view of this fact, I wish to L. Gansman& Bro. PIANOS AND ORGANS We find a verdict in favor of Mrs. Lang-try because we think she has justice on her side. We don't believe in fasoination her side. One of the jurors—a stout man with a public to understand as much.

SHOT BY UNSEEN THIEVES.

A Drover's Wite Mortally Wounded and Her Ashael Smith, a drover, living opposite the depot of the Erie railroad at Turners, N. Y., returned from Monroe, Friday night with $225 in his possession, which he had drawn from a bank. He drove directly to his barn and was just about to light a lamp when he heard something like a club whiz past his head.

A moment later a pistol shot rang out on the air, and his wife exclaimed "I am shot." Before Smith could turn around two men rushed forward, and throwing a horse blanket over his head went through his pockets, securing the money and a watch. During the soufile the watch fell to the ground and was afterwards found.

The men then fled, warning him to give no outery under penalty of death. As soon as they disappeared Smith went to the depot and gave the alarm. His wife was found helpless, the bullet having struck her in the back, shattering the spine and paralyzing the lower part of the

The man calling himself Sir Charles Neville, Bart., and also claiming to be the long lost Sir Roger Tichborne, and who has been in jail in Toledo on a charge of bigamy, bad a preliminary examination and was bound over to the common pleas in the sum of $1,500 The case caused considerable commotion. Nevillo's last matrimonial alliance, which is supposed to have been his tenth or eleventh, was with a young lady of Detroit of highly reputable family connections.

THE M. P. CONFERENCE.

sites in the Election of Missionsry Sec-In the general conference on Saturday, here was not harmony among the dele gates upon the question as to who should succeed Dr. Fowler to the office of secretary of the missionary society. The day previous the air was full of rumors that Rev. "Chaplain" McCabe would be the man, and that he would be elected with out any difficulty. Late on Friday night there was a meeting of prominent men connected with the missionary society for "consultation, etc.," the import of which was "who will be the best man to elect ?" The delegates interested were of the opinion that some change in the programme was necessary, and several prominent men were mentioned. Rev. J. H. Vincent, D. D., was offered the posi tion, but would not consent to have his name placed in nomination. Others were consulted, but nothing definite was reached by the time the session opened, and the matter was quietly postponed until Monday's session. There being nothing else to do, the conference discussed the resolutions before it, and adjourned at an early hour. The debate upon the subject of ordination of women to preach was concluded. It is the decided opinion of the convention that their ordination would be fraught with danger. The Presbyterian General Assembly, On Satu day a special committee was appointed to prepare a memorial minute on W. G. Case, of California, who died on the way to the assembly. The moderator appointed a committee of forty-two on reduced representation, of which the Rev. Dr. Mutchmore, of the synod of Pennsylvania, is chairman. A series of overtures were received and regularly referred. The twenty uinth annual report in relation to the relief fund for disabled ministers and the widows and crphans of deceased ministers was submitted by the secretary, Rev. George Hale. It was discussed at great length and finally adopted. A letter was received from the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, and was referred. A committee of tifteen was apwarmly opposed by the family and much bitterness of feeling ensued. The affair pointed on the matter of insurance for ministers and to report at the next assembly. A resolution deprecating the publication and sale of Sunday papers and the

This has been decided on in lieu of the annual examination at the school, and Philadelphia has been selected for the exhibition because a very large majority of the friends of the school are Philadel phians. About 350 of the pupi's will par ticipate in class exercises, singing, recitations, etc., designed to fairly illustrate the character and scope of the school work and the capacity and proficiency of the scholars. A full exhibit of articles manufactured in the industrial departments will be made, including a wagon which is exclusively the work of three of the Indian boys. The Indian boys' brass band will perform several airs, and well known gentlemen will make addresses. Captain Pratt will state that 144 of the students have been placed in positions in this state, principally with

A Baptist Minister's Experience. "I am a Baptist Minister, and before I ever thought of being a clergyman, I graduated in medicine, but left a lucrative practice for my medicine, but left a lucrative practice for my present profession, 40 years as 20. I was 100 many years a sufferor from quinsy: "Thomas' Eclectric Oil cured me." I was also troubled with hoarseness, and Thomas' Eclectric Oil always relieved me. My wife and child had diplatheria, and Thomas' Eclectric Oil cured them," and it taken in time it will cure seven out of ten. I am confident it is a cure for the most obstinate cold or cough, and if any one will take a small teaspoon and half fill it with the Oil, and then place the end of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon into the head by sniffing as hard as they can, until the Oil falls over into the throat, and practice that twice a week, I don't care how offensive their head may be, it will clean it out and cure their catarrb. For deafness and earache it has done wonders to my certain out and cure their catarrh. For deafness and earache it has done wonders to my certain knowledge. It is the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I have ever felt like recommending, and I am very anxious to see it in every place, for I tell you that I would not be without it in my house for any consideration. I am now suffering with a pain like rheumatism in my right limb, and nothing relieves me like Thomas' Eclectric Oil."

From Bath, Me., we have received, under date of May 15 1881, the following statement of Geo. W. Harrison, the popular proprietor of "The Restaurant": "A few years since I was troubled so severely with kidney and bladder affection that there was brick dust deposits in my urine, and continual desire to urinate. with severe, darting, sharp pains through my bladder and side, and again, dull, heavy pressure, very tedious to endure. I consulted one of our resident physicians, but I received no benefit from the treatment, and fearing that my symptoms indicated 'Bright's Disease,' the most dreadful of all diseases, I made up my mind that I must obtain relief speedily or would be past cure. I consulted my drugglat, Mr. Webber, and after ascertaining u symptoms, he recommended the use of Hunt's Remedy, as he knew of many successful cure effected by that medicine in similar cases her in Bath. I purchased a bottle, and before I had used the first bottle I found I had received a great benefit, as I suffered less pain, my water became more natural, and I began to improve so much that the second bottle effect ed a complete cure; and my thanks are due to Hunt's Remedy for restored health, and I cheerfully recommend this most valuable and cilable medicine to my friends, as I consider t a duty as well as a pleasure to do so."

"Being well acquainted with Mr. George W. Harrison at the time of his sickness, referred to in the foregoing testimonial, I can certify to the correctness of the statement made by W. G. WERBER, Druggist.
