A Woman Terribly Burned While Boiling Soap—The Spree of a Drunken Canal Boatman—Town Notes.

Mrs. Mary Wendel, residing on Perry street, was burned in a shocking manner this morning about 10 o'clock while boiling soap. Her clothing catching fire she endeavored to extinguish the flames with her bare hands, which, together with her arms, were terribly burned, almost to a crisp. Her screams of agony brought neighbors to her assistance, but before they arrived she had received injuries which will probably result in death. The body was also badly burned. An infant which the unfortunate woman bore in her arms at the time of the accident was slightly burned.

A Canal Boatman's Costly Spree.

Pierce Bingham, a colored boatman, was fined yesterday by 'Squire Evans for having been very drunk and disorderly on Saturday night. After being chased from the depot hotel by the proprietor, who was armed with a revolver, he repaired to William Redman's barber shop, where he proceeded to smash up things generally. Ejected from the shop Bingham broke the windows and doors with stones and a heavy piece of iron. He was arrested and placed in the lockup, but bailed out until Sunday. His little spree cost him nearly $20, the profits of a whole boating trip.

A MURDEROUS FIGHT.

A Bereaved Mother Slays Her Enemy.

An interesting and unusual combat was witnessed a day or two ago on the premises of Mr. Louis Sylvester, No. 43 South Duke street. Mr. S. has a hen with a brood of chicks and two or three of them have recently disappeared, having probably been captured by rats. After the loss of her chicks the old hen appeared to be constantly on the lookout for her enemy and at last was rewarded by seeing a rat stealthily approach the hydrant, as if to get a drink from the basin. With even more stealth the hen followed the rat, and when within proper distance sprang upon it. Then commenced a life and death conflict—the rat biting at the hen and vainly endeavoring to get away, and the hen with the dexterity of a rat terrier throwing her enemy into the air and pouncing upon him as he fell. The rat was soon vanquished, but the hen continued her assault for some time after the rodent was dead, picking out his eyes and tearing him to pieces.

A Colored Bishop.

Right Rev. C. E. Cummings, a bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church of the diocese of Kansas city, is registered at the Grape hotel, this city. He has been on a tour of the Eastern states, asking for aid for the missions of his diocese, and says he has met with much encouragement. He has had interviews with the rectors of St. James' and St. John's and other prominent churchmen of Lancaster, who have extended substantial aid.

The Goodwill Fair.

The fair for the benefit of the Goodwill band (colored), which is being held in the third story of the postoffice building, was well attended on Saturday evening. The room is handsomely trimmed with flags, evergreen and bunting; the principal articles to be voted for are a set of harness, baby coach, set of dishes, &c.

Alderman McConomy discharged a man, who was arrested for riding on freight trains upon payment of costs.

Alderman Spurrier had one drunk this morning who paid costs and was discharged.

John Powell, charged before Alderman McConomy with assault and battery upon William Seifert, waived a hearing and gave bail for court.

Alderman Barr sent one drunk to jail for 24 hours to day.

Breaking a Letter Box

Frank Bender, a boy about 16 years of age, was arrested on Saturday on the charge of breaking a U. S. letter box at the corner of Charlotte and Walnut streets. It appears that the young fellow was standing on the corner Thursday evening with a number of others, when he deliberately threw a stone against the box, breaking it. He was committed to prison, and will be held to answer the charge of malicious mischief. Bender has been in several scrapes of different kinds before, and is not a good boy by any means.

GOING A-MAYING.

A May Walk for the Liederkranz.

The members of the Lancaster Liederkranz took their annual may walk yesterday morning. They left their hall at 5:30, walked out East King street to Shippen, thence out the New Holland turnpike to the first gate, and thence to the shooting gallery at Tell's Hain, where they took breakfast at 7:30. Weber's sextette accompanied the party and furnished fine instrumental music, and several choruses were sung by the Liederkranz. After resting and refreshing the party returned to the city in time for dinner.

School Children Botanizing.

Saturday afternoon Miss Emma L. Downey, of the James street secondary school, took about thirty of her boys and girls to the country on a botanizing tour. They went to Robertstown in the cars, where they disembarked, and climbed Chestnut Hill, and after a pleasant and exhilerating hunt, returned to the city laden with a great number and variety of plants, including many pretty spring flowers.

A Valuable Witness.

The Masons of Philadelphia have at last been enabled to make good their claim that their city was the Mother City of Freemasonry in America, and thus set at rest the plea of Massachusetts for the priority. The ledger book of St. John's lodge, kept by Benjamin Franklin and giving a list of members from June 24, 1731, to June 24, 1738, a stiff vellum volume, all in Franklin's own handwriting, has been secured by the historical society. Lithograph copies of it have been made, and one received by W. A. Morton, of this city, shows that the original is well preserved. It is the oldest Masonic lodge book by far in America. The oldest existing lodge record book previously known in Pennsylvania dates back only to 1767, and the oldest lodge record book in Massachusetts, that of St. John's lodge, Boston, was compiled and written in 1751-2 and records events only from July, 1773, when Masonry was established in Massachusetts. The discovered record antedates it two years. In it are the details of the Masonic lives of many eminent men.

Slight Fire.

This afternoon a slight fire occurred in Samuel Ball's candy store on North Queen street, a pot of candy on the stove boiled over, setting fire to the woodwork in the rear, during Mr. Ball's temporary absence. The fire was extinguished by the private hose of Flinn & Breneman and the damage was slight. The fire department was on hand but was not needed.

Sale of Horses.

Samuel Hess & Son, auctioneers, sold at public sale on Saturday in Millersville, for Lutner & Grosh, 19 head of Westmoreland county horses, at an average price of $184 per head. Also at the same time and place was sold 10 head of cows, at an average price of $55 per head.

In the Vanderbilt Road.

Colonel James Duffy, of Marietta, has been elected a director of the South Penn railroad and is taking an active interest in the new line to be completed from Harrisburg to Pittsburg as part of the Vanderbilt Pennsylvania system.

Indians Passed Through.

This afternoon, shortly after 1 o'clock, a special train passed through this city, having on board 300 young Indians, from Carlisle, who will appear in an exhibition to be given in the Academy of Music, Philadelphia, this evening.

He'll Cage Him.

Frank Yeager, in Spring township, Berks county, has seen a man in that vicinity answering the description of Abe Buzzard, and he proposes to cage him.

Dr. Conrad to Washington.

The exercises connected with the unveiling of the Luther statue in Washington, D. C., were begun with a memorial oration by Rev. F. W. Conrad, D. D.

The Lawyers Away.

Barbary Coast is very quiet to day, as a great number of lawyers have gone to Philadelphia to attend the supreme court, where they have cases.

An Organ for the Carp.

Dr. S. T. Davis, of this city, is one of the committee to consider a plan of starting a journal devoted to the interests of carp culture.

Quarryville Bank Stock $110.25.

Jacob B. Long, broker, sold to day at private sale five shares of the Quarryville national bank stock at $110.25 per share.

The Fish Market.

A special meeting of city councils will be held to morrow evening to take action in regards to fish market.

Excursion Tickets.

For the benefit of persons wishing to attend the great annual meeting of the Dunkards, or German Baptists at Miller's Crossing, three miles west of Dayton, O., the Pennsylvania railroad company will issue excursion tickets the price of which from Lancaster for the round trip will be $16.75. Tickets will be issued from May 20 to June 6, and will be good to go on or before the 6th of June, and to return until the 20th of June.

The company will also issue from May 23 to May 27, special excursion tickets to the Greenback national convention at Indianapolis, Ind., good to go until May 28 and to return June 6. Price for the round trip, $19 85.

The Pennsylvania railroad company will sell excursion tickets to Harrisburg to members of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows and their families upon presentation of an order; orders to be had by applying to E. J. Erisman, district deputy grand master, No. 17 West King street.

Amusements.

"A Hunch of Keys"—The funny musical absurdity which made such a hit here this season, will be reproduced at the opera house tomorrow evening. Miss Flora Moore is the stellar attraction and her vocal selections and dramatic versatility command applause and admiration. She is ably supported by a company of comedians. The company carries the hotel set, which is a marvel of mechanical work. It represents the interior of a first-class hotel in complete working order; with electric bells, grand staircase, folding beds, etc., and it alone is worth seeing.

Dr. Tanner's Stomach.

Dr. Tanner certainly has a great stomach—great because of its strength and endurance. CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

WOEFUL WAY OF THE WICKED WORLD.

A Fallen Pension Agent—A Duel of the Doctors—A Negro Railroader Shot in Texas—Other Evil Deeds

GALVESTON, Tex., May 19.—The News' special from Houston, says: Charles Taylor, a colored brakeman on the Houston and Texas Central railroad, near Hempstead, was yesterday shot and instantly killed. Taylor had previously been conspicuous in placing negroes in first class coaches and to this his sudden mysterious taking off is attributed. At the time of the shooting he was about the centre of a sleeping car, the bullet passing through an open window, striking him on the forehead. His body was left on the platform at Kemstead.

A Rather Dark Future Before Him.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 19.—G. J. Williams, who has been working the pension agent and mail robbery in Nicholas county, and who obtained in a fraudulent manner about $10,000, was to day found guilty in the United States district court here. Williams is well connected and thoroughly posted in pension and postal laws. There are eight other indictments against him. When all the cases are tried he will probably serve the balance of his life in prison.

Murderous Thieves in Lebanon County.

LEBANON, Pa., May 19.—Three tramps broke into the house of Michael Shaeffer, near Annville, last night, and bound and gagged Shaeffer, the sole occupant. After robbing the place they set it on fire and fled. The house was burned down, but Shaeffer escaped with some difficulty.

A Doctor's Leaden Pellet.

CRISFIELD, Md., May 19.—On Tangier's Island on Saturday Dr. Tangier called Dr. Watter, a rival physician, into his office and shot him dead. Professional jealousy was the cause. The efforts of a few citizens prevented Tangier from being lynched, and he was safely landed in jail.

Perry Hamilton's Slayers.

WILMINGTON, Del., May 19.—Elijah Benson, colored, was arrested this morning on suspicion of being concerned in the murder of Perry Hamilton, the notorious colored rough, whose body was found on the railroad track near here yesterday.

Sad Solution of a Mystery.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 19.—The body of Mrs. Gen. J. K. Proudfit, of Wyandotte, Kan., who disappeared April 30, while suffering from temporaruy aberration, was found in the Missouri river last evening opposite this city.
