BISHOPS CONSECRATED.

A GREAT AUDIENCE AT CONFERENCE.

Business of the Convention being rapidly Transacted—Work of the Freedman's Aid Society.

The solemn and impressive ceremonies of the consecration of the five bishops elect, attracted a large audience at the Methodist general conference in Philadelphia on Thursday. The balcony and galleries were crowded, a great proportion of those occupying seats being ladies. In a front seat in the gallery overlooking the stage, where the consecration took place, was Mrs. H. B. Hayes. Not less than 200 people were crowded in the hall during the consecration services, fully half of those outside the portion reserved for delegates being women.

At 11 o'clock the ten bishops, led by Bishop Simpson, filed upon the stage and arranged themselves on either side of the presiding bishop's chair, which was occupied by the venerable senior bishop. The five bishops elect, each accompanied by two elders, took positions in the rear of the stage. Bishop Bowman read the Collect, and Rev. Dr. J. S. Bingham read the epistle and Rev. Dr. J. H. Vincent the gospel, which always precedes the presentation of the bishops elect. The presentation was made as follows: Bishop Harris then the vast congregation in prayer, saying as he advanced with the candidate: "We present to you this holy man to be consecrated a bishop." Bishop elect W. X. Nindo was presented by Rev. Dr. J. S. Bingham, Bishop elect W. F. Maloney by Rev. Dr. E. Prentiss, Bishop elect F. M. Walden by Rev. Dr. R. S. Rust, Bishop elect C. H. Fowler by Rev. Dr. J. H. Vincent, and Missionary Bishop elect Wm. Taylor by Rev. Dr. Ware. The usual prayer was then said by Bishop Bowman, next in seniority to Bishop Simpson, who appeared to be too feeble to take a very active part in the services.

Each one of the bishops elect was then interrogated by the bishops in turn as to his convictions of his calling to the work of a bishop, his determination to faithfully exercise himself in the office, and, according to the form in the discipline. This was followed by an exhortation by Bishop Foster, and then, with impressive solemnity, was said the Veni Creator Spiritus Bishop Andrews leading. Bishop Harris then the vast congregation in prayer, as a preparation for the concluding and most solemn ceremony of the consecration—the laying on of the hands of four bishops and two elders upon the head of each one of the candidates in turn, and repeating the supplication to God to pour out the Holy Ghost upon him who thus has been invested with the office and work of a bishop. Bishops Simpson and Bowman, assisted by four others, officiated in each instance. The presentation of the Bible to each of the new bishops, with an exhortation, concluded the ceremonies, and, after a prayer by Bishop Merrill and the singing of the doxology, the congregation was dismissed with the benediction by Bishop Simpson.

Considerable business was disposed of by the conference before the consecration occurred. A resolution introduced by Dr. Curry, providing that the committee on expenses pay the whole amount of expenses of each delegate and report upon the book concern for any deficiency there may be, met with vigorous protest upon the ground that the book concern's profits by the restrictive rules, could only be applied for the benefit of the traveling, and preliminary expenditures of all our preachers. The resolution was, however, finally adopted.

The report of the committee on Freedman's aid provoked an interesting debate. In recent years funds of that society have been used for the education of the poor white people of the South, as well as for the benefit of the colored people. A good deal of opposition has been made to this, and it has been called even by so harsh a name as "misappropriation of funds." The committee not only commended the action of the society but recommended the further continuance of the policy. Objection was made to the use in the report of the words "separate white schools" in the clause of approval of the society's work, and to another clause which might be construed into an approval of other denominations. It was contended that the words "separate white schools" were unwise, and "separate" was stricken out. The offensive words were also rejected. With these exceptions the report was adopted, one of the resolutions being as follows: "That the question of separate or mixed schools be left to the discretion and administration of those on the ground and more immediately concerned."

Presbyterian General Assembly.

The report of Rev. Joseph B. Stratton D. D., of Natchez, Miss., corresponding delegates from the Presbyterian assembly held in session at Vicksburg, Miss., and Rev. Cornelius Brett, of Jersey City, N. J., delegates representing the general synod of the Reform church of America, occupied almost the entire session on Thursday. The reception was attended with great enthusiasm, and numerous addresses were made by Revs. Stratton and Brett, and Moderator Hays and Rev. Alexander M. Reed, chairman of the committee on foreign correspondence. Dr. Stratton in carrying out his duties, first brought up the report and read heartily greetings and congratulations of the Presbyterian assembly north. Moderator Hays responded feelingly and appropriately reciprocated the greetings. The vast assembly then rose and sang the Doxology. Mr. Brett's report and message also elicited response and words of praise.

THE IRON WORKERS.

The Failure of the Seale Conference.

When the seven members of the Amalgamated association which composed the
