THE STATE FAIR.

What Philadelphia should do for it. In a letter to the Editor, Hon. R. E. Monaghan warmly commends the project of holding the state fair permanently in Philadelphia, and thus sets forth why that city can afford to encourage the enterprise.

The great national exhibition of 1876 did more to advertise our city and her industries throughout the world than any event since the establishment of our government. And it did give great impulse and prosperity to our varied interests and manufactures and general wealth.

I do not anticipate so great results from the state fair. But I do believe that your citizens can accomplish great good to yourselves, and can do much toward encouraging and advancing every branch of agriculture and the productive industries of this state.

You can, if you choose, make the annual state fair of the Pennsylvania State Agricultural Society one of the greatest business periods of each year. By properly directed efforts you can have among you the representative business men from all sections of the Union and the Canada.

You can have an exhibition of the finest stock of horses, cattle, sheep and hogs and farm products. You can have the best display of machinery and tools. Both the minerals from all the territories, the manufactures, machinery and important inventions from all sections. These will bring to your city visitors representing and interested in these industries and productions.

Largely these visitors will become annual purchasers in your city. These are not speculative ideas. They are natural results flowing from properly directed influences and energies, and you can have them if your people will put them into activity.

Your sister city of St. Louis has confirmed an arrangement for the annual fair to be held in that city. In November next, the gentlemen of this country will hold a national convention in that city. The committee managing that convention have invited the representative men, connected with the great interest to be promoted, in all the states and territories of this country, in the Canada and in England.

Mr. Monaghan gives the programme, showing that the officials and citizens of St. Louis make good account of their visitors and lavish hospitalities upon them. He goes on to say: "A few years ago St. Louis invited the cotton planters to the annual fair, and her merchants and business men raised and paid a premium of $1,500 for the best bale of cotton. As a result there was fully an acre of bales of the most beautiful cotton produced in the states placed on exhibition. And as a business achievement growing directly and largely out of that event, St. Louis last year and for a number of years has handled about one tenth of the whole cotton production in this country. Why cannot Philadelphia merchants and business men achieve a similar result by inviting the cotton planters to their homes, and offer them liberal premiums and equal inducements to come? But may I urge you not to confine your liberality to cotton only, but to extend it to sugar, tobacco, horses, cattle, sheep and the many material interests of the country. Let your citizens extend liberal premiums to your sister city of the West. Let them begin now, and have your merchants and manufacturers, bankers and brokers, rail road and steamboat men, hotel keepers and citizens generally, all join in aiding the state fair by their energy, their favor, and by their means and make the state fair a positive success, so that the future ones may be of advantage to all concerned, and by the public spirit of your people stimulate your industries, increase your customers and multiply your wealth."

Cure of Asthma and Spinal Weakness. 30 West 2d Street, New York, May 17, 1884. Though it may be irregular for a physician to give a certificate in favor of a proprietary medicine, still, in the cause of humanity, I venture to say a word in favor of ALCOCK'S Porous Plasters, which I esteem the most remarkable external remedy I have ever used. I have known these Plasters to cure Spinal Weakness where the patient had been confined for months to his bed. A blacksmith of my acquaintance was severely injured in the back by the kick of a horse; four ALCOCK'S Porous Plasters quickly relieved him of excruciating agony and cured him in a week. Another patient, who had a neuralgia of the heart, was completely cured in four hours.

In Asthma, I know of a case where they were worn for five months and fully restored the health. In another case where a patient had sporadic cholera, nothing relieved him until he put on three ALCOCK'S Porous Plasters; in twelve hours all pains in his chest and stomach disappeared, and when these plasters, applied on the pit of the stomach, are a sovereign remedy for dyspepsia and constipation.

Finally, if persons once use ALCOCK'S Porous Plasters they will never use any other; they are so pleasant, quick and painless—nature's balsam assistant.

H. C. VAN NORMAN, M. D. "Alcock's" is the only Genuine Porous Plaster.

America Art. Photographs, Engravings, etc. can be executed in color by the new process of Chromo-lithography. For full directions for this beautiful and artistic process, send for colored cabinet photo sent to any address for 10 cents. WELLS & RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

"Don't hurry, Gentlemen." Said a man on his way through the city "there'll be no fun till I get here." We say in the dyspeptic, nervous, and debilitated, don't hurry thoughtlessly for some remedy of doubtful merit, uncertain of result, when you can get Hitters almost sure to cure you, and to benefit. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen Street.

No Reception Used. It is strange so many people still continue to suffer day after day with Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Sour Stomach, General Debility, when the best and surest cure is Sold by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen Street, Lancaster. 1884-85.

How Much Will Do It? How much of Thomas' Electric Oil is required to cure? Only a very little. A few drops will cure any kind of an ache, and a trifle more is needed for sprains and lacerations. It is almost sure to cure all such ailments; and an ounce and sometimes two ounces are required. No medicine, however, is so sure to cure with the same number of applications as sold by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen Street, Lancaster. 1884-85.

Notice. We would announce to the trade that we have appointed J. H. O'NEILL, Wholesale Grocer, No. 218 North Water Street, Lancaster, our sole agent for the sale of our celebrated Manufacture of Choice Canned Goods.

CAUTION.—We would caution the trade to look out for Spurious Canned Goods, which are offered in the Market. None are sold except with the brand, FARMER'S CREAMED CO. LIT. 1884-85.
