

Lancaster Intelligencer.

SATURDAY EVENING, JULY 12, 1884.

The Candidates.

Governor Cleveland has been nominated for president by the Democracy, wholly under the influence of the feeling permeating the public heart, that demands good government as its most earnest wish.

The New York Herald seems to have rolled up into this canvass with its sleeves rolled up. It nails Cleveland and Hendricks to its masthead in true country party paper style.

CLEVELAND and Hendricks will right the great wrong of 1876. No electoral commission will throw dust in the eyes of the people this year.

PROMINENT physicians in the French cholera districts pronounce opium the best preventive of the disease. Some cures are worse than the complaints they profess to alleviate.

THE business men's scare, the tariff scare and the "bloody shirt" will all prove ineffective shafts against the armor of the political warriors of the Democracy.

JONES, the Republican national chairman, is said to be an importer of cheap Hungarian labor. His was a fit selection to lead to defeat a party that falsely proclaims its friendship for labor.

EIGHT years ago Samuel J. Tilden was nominated for the presidency at St. Louis on the second ballot and was elected. Grover Cleveland was nominated on the second ballot at Chicago and he will take his seat.

THE revision of the Old Testament, a long continued and laborious work, has at length been completed; but twelve of the twenty-seven members have died during the revision. If their work be meritorious, it will be a monument for them more lasting than brass.

A DEAD woman's ghost, Poor stained, worn-out, long-winded ghost! I think it almost understands The story of my life and with love I hold it to my trembling hands.

THE deadly cholera has very seriously interfered with the plans of American tourists in Europe. Italy is now practically inaccessible except by way of Austria, which is a very roundabout route.

PENNSYLVANIA did not get her tried and true representative, Samuel J. Randall, on the national ticket, but her 42 Cleveland votes on the second ballot settled the presidential nomination.

THE TICKET COMPLETE.

HENDRICKS FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

CLOSING Scenes of Harmony in the Great Convention—The Vote in Detail—How the Nominations Were Received.

It was half past 5 o'clock before the Friday evening session of the convention was called to order, and the first business done was the adoption of a resolution electing Mr. Vilas (chairman of the convention) as chairman of the committee to notify the nominees of their selection as candidates.

A delegate from Louisiana offered a resolution providing that in case of a vacancy on the ticket for the office of president or vice president a majority of the national convention should be empowered to fill the vacancy.

After a brief service in the state Legislature and in the constitutional convention he was elected to Congress from the Indianapolis district in 1850 and re-elected in 1852. In 1853 he was appointed commissioner of patents by President Pierce.

Mr. Mann (Ill.) hoped that the declaration would not be received. He paid a high compliment to General Black, saying that when the speaker was operating on his arm he declared that although he lost an arm his whole body was firm and true for the Union and firm and true for the Democracy.

Mr. Wallace (Pa.) said that he was nominated as a candidate for vice president a man of great ability and high character throughout his whole life, an honorable statesman, a pure and upright citizen, a victim of the grossest fraud ever perpetrated on the American people—Thomas A. Hendricks.

Mr. Hendricks (Ind.) declared very emphatically that he was not a candidate for the vice presidency. He was authorized by Mr. Hendricks himself to say so. He therefore warned the convention not to do that which it would have to undo.

Mr. Wallace (Pa.) said that he had been once chosen vice president and had been twice elected to the office. The Democracy of the republic demanded of him again his name as a candidate, and he would not take "no" for an answer.

Mr. Wallace (Pa.) said that he had been once chosen vice president and had been twice elected to the office. The Democracy of the republic demanded of him again his name as a candidate, and he would not take "no" for an answer.

Mr. Wallace (Pa.) said that he had been once chosen vice president and had been twice elected to the office. The Democracy of the republic demanded of him again his name as a candidate, and he would not take "no" for an answer.

THE IRONSIDES WIN.

A GAME FROM THE WILMINGTON.

Defeating the Strongest Eastern League Team by the Score of 5 to 3—Notes on the Game.

Up to yesterday the Wilmington ball club had won thirteen successive games. This splendid record was then beaten when they were defeated by the Ironsides in one of the best games seen here this season.

The score by innings was as follows: Ironsides, 5; Wilmington, 3.

For Cleveland—Barr, Myers, Wallace, Cox, Sowden, Cassin, Read, Joseph, Egan, Fullerton, Evans, Hunsicker, Ross, Smith, Davis, Buch, Harvey, Johnson, Pait, Alger, Burris, Ellis, Marr, Dull, Post, Allen, Orr, Barrett, Saxton, Ziegler, Rankin, Hall, Foley, Rafferty, Hay, Buchanan, Brown, Graf, McKinney, Pierce, Whitman and Noyes.

For Hendricks—Patterson, McGowan, McCully, Campbell, DeLoach, Fort, Wood, Dewart, Coffroth, Marchand, Searight and Streeter.

For Cleveland—Barr, Myers, Wallace, Cox, Sowden, Cassin, Read, Joseph, Egan, Fullerton, Evans, Hunsicker, Ross, Smith, Davis, Buch, Harvey, Johnson, Pait, Alger, Burris, Ellis, Marr, Dull, Post, Allen, Orr, Barrett, Saxton, Ziegler, Rankin, Hall, Foley, Rafferty, Hay, Buchanan, Brown, Graf, McKinney, Pierce, Whitman and Noyes.

For Hendricks—Patterson, McGowan, McCully, Campbell, DeLoach, Fort, Wood, Dewart, Coffroth, Marchand, Searight and Streeter.

For Cleveland—Barr, Myers, Wallace, Cox, Sowden, Cassin, Read, Joseph, Egan, Fullerton, Evans, Hunsicker, Ross, Smith, Davis, Buch, Harvey, Johnson, Pait, Alger, Burris, Ellis, Marr, Dull, Post, Allen, Orr, Barrett, Saxton, Ziegler, Rankin, Hall, Foley, Rafferty, Hay, Buchanan, Brown, Graf, McKinney, Pierce, Whitman and Noyes.

For Hendricks—Patterson, McGowan, McCully, Campbell, DeLoach, Fort, Wood, Dewart, Coffroth, Marchand, Searight and Streeter.

For Cleveland—Barr, Myers, Wallace, Cox, Sowden, Cassin, Read, Joseph, Egan, Fullerton, Evans, Hunsicker, Ross, Smith, Davis, Buch, Harvey, Johnson, Pait, Alger, Burris, Ellis, Marr, Dull, Post, Allen, Orr, Barrett, Saxton, Ziegler, Rankin, Hall, Foley, Rafferty, Hay, Buchanan, Brown, Graf, McKinney, Pierce, Whitman and Noyes.

THE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE.

How He Received the News—His Address to the Young Men's Democratic Club.

Governor Cleveland was at the executive chamber in Albany early Friday morning, with Secretary Lamont, attending to business as usual.

After the assembling of the convention the governor was the recipient of numerous dispatches announcing the progress of the proceedings.

After a brief service in the state Legislature and in the constitutional convention he was elected to Congress from the Indianapolis district in 1850 and re-elected in 1852.

Mr. Mann (Ill.) hoped that the declaration would not be received. He paid a high compliment to General Black, saying that when the speaker was operating on his arm he declared that although he lost an arm his whole body was firm and true for the Union and firm and true for the Democracy.

Mr. Wallace (Pa.) said that he was nominated as a candidate for vice president a man of great ability and high character throughout his whole life, an honorable statesman, a pure and upright citizen, a victim of the grossest fraud ever perpetrated on the American people—Thomas A. Hendricks.

Mr. Hendricks (Ind.) declared very emphatically that he was not a candidate for the vice presidency. He was authorized by Mr. Hendricks himself to say so.

Mr. Wallace (Pa.) said that he had been once chosen vice president and had been twice elected to the office. The Democracy of the republic demanded of him again his name as a candidate, and he would not take "no" for an answer.

Mr. Wallace (Pa.) said that he had been once chosen vice president and had been twice elected to the office. The Democracy of the republic demanded of him again his name as a candidate, and he would not take "no" for an answer.

Mr. Wallace (Pa.) said that he had been once chosen vice president and had been twice elected to the office. The Democracy of the republic demanded of him again his name as a candidate, and he would not take "no" for an answer.

Mr. Wallace (Pa.) said that he had been once chosen vice president and had been twice elected to the office. The Democracy of the republic demanded of him again his name as a candidate, and he would not take "no" for an answer.

AT WORK AGAIN.

Remarking on a Horse that kept his Mouth Shut.

Today a large, light bay horse belonging to the Adams express company, was put to work for the first time since last April.

The horse had stepped upon a nail and had been lame ever since. On the 29th of April symptoms of lockjaw were manifested, and from that date, for seven weeks thereafter, the horse never opened its jaws.

Wm. B. Smith, the second baseman of the Richmond team, died Friday morning in Baltimore from an attack of rheumatism in the region of the heart.

Wm. B. Smith, the second baseman of the Richmond team, died Friday morning in Baltimore from an attack of rheumatism in the region of the heart.

Wm. B. Smith, the second baseman of the Richmond team, died Friday morning in Baltimore from an attack of rheumatism in the region of the heart.

Wm. B. Smith, the second baseman of the Richmond team, died Friday morning in Baltimore from an attack of rheumatism in the region of the heart.

Wm. B. Smith, the second baseman of the Richmond team, died Friday morning in Baltimore from an attack of rheumatism in the region of the heart.

Wm. B. Smith, the second baseman of the Richmond team, died Friday morning in Baltimore from an attack of rheumatism in the region of the heart.

Wm. B. Smith, the second baseman of the Richmond team, died Friday morning in Baltimore from an attack of rheumatism in the region of the heart.

Wm. B. Smith, the second baseman of the Richmond team, died Friday morning in Baltimore from an attack of rheumatism in the region of the heart.

REMARKABLE NEWS.

Events Near and Across the County Lines.

The State Fremont convention will be held in York, September 16-18. Several cows, calves and dogs have gone mad about Stroulsburg, and the farmers are alarmed.

Julius Manning, aged 50 years, committed suicide in Allentown on Thursday evening by shooting himself through the heart. He had been suffering from chronic ill health.

Alexander Friselman, twelve years old, whose home is in Southern Russia, reached Philadelphia a few days ago, having traveled the distance alone. Friselman and with only one cent in his pocket, he was sent to the house of refuge.

A Montgomery county miller has lost three sheaves of wheat this harvest, threshed and cleaned the grain, which was at once ground into flour, then baked into cake and eaten by the harvest hands within ten minutes from the time the grain was standing in the field.

Fourteen Reading Hungarians were almost shaken off their beds in a tempest on the Reading depot, Friday morning, by the striking of a large area of surface. They tried to run out doors, but the house had collapsed, so they could not open the doors.

The mayor had only one vagrant and one drunken man on his hands this morning. He leniently discharged them. Alderman Fordney committed Andrew Reeder to the county jail for five days for drunken and disorderly conduct.

Wm. Rehn was committed to prison for five days for being drunk and disorderly. He is an old offender. Fred Peace was to have been heard last evening on the charge of stealing a watch from Wm. Butler, but as the prosecutor did not appear the case was dismissed.

Yesterday morning James McFadden, who had been hanging around the depot of the Reading railroad for some time, stole a thirty pound box of tobacco from a box car. In the afternoon he returned and stole five pounds more from the platform of the depot. He was seen and captured by John P. Sams at Y. Relf-snyder, of Pottsgrove township, Montgomery county, who died last week, had discovered a goodly amount of cash about the house, which the deceased had stored away in various places, the total amount being about $1,000, with a number of $1,000 was in silver, whole, halves and quarter dollars, and the balance in notes and gold. Among the silver were many old coins, and the collection of half dollars represented the coinage of every year from 1800 to the present date, with the exception of the years 1815 and 1816.

John McKean was committed by Alderman McConomy to-day for ten days for drunken and disorderly conduct.

John McKean was committed by Alderman McConomy to-day for ten days for drunken and disorderly conduct.