FALLING INTO LINE.

FOR CLEVELAND AND HENDRICKS.

Why a Republican Soldier Will Support Them—Signs of the Times—Straws Which Forecast a Cyclone

The following is an extract out of a private letter from a prominent soldier of the late war, who has been a Republican heretofore, to Mr. Hensel, chairman of the Democratic state committee of Pennsylvania. For sufficient reasons the identity of the writer is not revealed at this time, but he will be heard from in due time. He says:

I am for the ticket as nominated at Chicago last week, and hope it will be elected. It is time that integrity in the administration of the government should be observed. It is foolish for the opponents of Gov. Cleveland to speak of him as inexperienced and untried. Up to this time he has nowhere in private, or public life, proved himself a failure. On the contrary he has proved a success in the direction of good morals and good government. However much I may have differed politically with Gov. Hendricks in the past, I always found him a gentleman with the highest type of honorable impulses. I think the ticket a strong one in every sense, and one which will commend itself to the best element of the voting population of the United States.

The Republicans who complain of Gov. Cleveland's inexperience in national affairs should remember that the Republican party has on some occasions selected men from the ranks who made good officers. Chester A. Arthur was scarcely known outside of New York city when he was nominated for vice president. Every Republican state convention commended and endorsed his presidential administration, and Mr. Dana, of the New York Sun, often spoke of it in complimentary terms. It is the old stagers in politics who let things run loose and who acquire for themselves unenviable names. Brilliant in politics are not good executive officers, and the cabinet ministers of late years have been dead failures as guardians of the public interest. If the reports from Washington are true, every branch of the government is reeking with the most disgraceful corruption and the cabinet ministers are making fools of themselves by trying to cover it up. It is time that practical business men of integrity and executive capacity should be placed in control of this government, to the end that it may be saved from overthrow by corruption. Boss rule in all parties should end now, and the country should be given a start on the road to integrity and prosperity under the leadership of Cleveland and Hendricks.

A STRAW.

Which Shows the Wind's Direction

The New York Produce exchange has always been composed of a large majority of Republicans. Politics have never entered into its internal management, and its officers have frequently been Democrats. The present president is a Republican, and one of the governors of the Union League club. But so many of the Republican members have declared for Cleveland, that the Democrats in the grain trade on Monday challenged the Blaine men to a ballot to determine the relative strength of the two candidates. Two ballot boxes were set up in the call room, and ballots bearing the names of Cleveland and Blaine were provided. The boxes were only open for an hour and a half, but over 400 members of the grain trade cast their ballots. A registry was kept and none but members were allowed to vote. When the ballots were counted it was found that 274 were for Cleveland and only 140 for Blaine, a Cleveland majority of 134.

The Governor's Modesty.

N. Y. Herald.

"Governor Cleveland is one of the most conscientious men I ever saw," exclaimed Judge Advocate General H. C. King, yesterday. "There is not a member of his staff who is not often times as anxious to have him promoted as he is. I don't believe he would raise his hand either to get the nomination or the election. Of course we went to Chicago and worked heart and soul for him. I went first to the celebration at Buffalo. While there I saw the governor. What do you think he told me when he learned that I was bound for Chicago? He told me that I had better go back to New York and quietly attend to my own business. He was so sensitive that he could not bear to have friends working for him. I never saw such a man. While I was there we dined together at Gerat's, which is about four blocks from his office. It took us half an hour to get there. I never saw a man stopped so many times on the street by people who wanted to shake his hand and say 'how-dy-do.' This was before the nomination mind you. What must it be now?"

Fallen From Grace.

The Worcester (Mass.) Spy, a leading Republican Blaine organ for many years, underwent a change of heart. The editor last week said this: "We have long held Mr. Blaine in great regard and respect. We have said in perfect sincerity, within a few days, that we had confidence in his integrity, and that if he should be elected president, his administration would be honorable to himself and serviceable to the country. Our duty to our readers requires us to withdraw those declarations. The evidence now before the country compels us to believe that our confidence was misplaced."

HOW CRIME IS EXPOSED.

Discoveries of Startling Overweights in Fraud Made by Keen Observers.

London Standard.

Only a few months ago the papers gave an instance of the acuteness of a French detective. A man had murdered his female companion and buried her body in a cellar. The corpse was discovered, and the man then said that the woman had killed herself by falling down stairs, and that he had buried her secretly, fearing to be accused of her death. He asserted that this "accident" took place in the autumn, in October. The detective observed the traces of smoke on the ceiling. "You had a candle when you buried the body," he remarked, and was answered in the affirmative. "And you say you only entered this cellar that one day in October?" The suspected man again averred. "You are speaking falsely," retorted the detective, and showed the murderer, between the crevices of the ceiling, the half consumed larvæ of certain insects which only lay in the spring, and which had been burnt by his candle at the time when he had actually buried his victim. How often has a clever forgery been detected by some keen observer who noticed some very trifling oversight in the skillful fraud. Forged wills have been found out from the water-mark of the paper not tallying with the date. There is a story of a false will being once propounded in a French court, and the forgery was so skillful that it appeared impossible to deny the document's authenticity, though certain circumstances caused its genuineness to be suspected. It was drawn, not on ordinary paper, but on the back of a map of France professedly over a century old. The name of the publisher of the map was in the corner, together with the date and the words, "Geographer to the King." Though the relatives who were injured by the will felt convinced that a fraud was being practiced upon them, redress seemed hopeless. But a clever lawyer discovered that at the time of the supposed publication of the map the dignity of "geographer to the king" had not been conferred upon the mapmaker. The name was correct, that of a well known publisher of charts in his day, and he had been permitted to assume the title the forger had added, but not till some years after the date of the forged map. Investigation clearly proved that the geographer never assumed the title till it was legally conferred upon him, and never afterward published a map without adding it; the map as well as the will written upon its back, was a forgery, detected by an observer of unusual acuteness.

Shakespeare's Bible.

Some thirty years since Mr. Fithian (formerly a Manchester bookseller) was offered for sale, by a person living in a village a few miles from Manchester, an old folio Bible, in very bad condition, but having the name of William Shakespeare written in ink upon the title-page. Only a small sum was asked for the book, but as Mr. Fithian doubted the genuineness of the signature, and as it was otherwise valueless, he did not buy it. However, he mentioned the matter to some friends, and by this means it reached the ears of Mr. Sharp, then a well known collector of valuable books and prints. Mr. Fithian informed this gentleman of his doubts as to the authenticity of the inscription. However, he requested Mr. Fithian to accompany him to the village where the book was to be seen.

The upshot was that Mr. Sharp purchased the book, and was so much pleased with his bargain that he spontaneously presented Mr. Fithian with £5. In the meantime, however, the matter had become known to other collectors, and two of these called upon Mr. Fithian. When they were told the book was already disposed of they commissioned him to try to purchase it from Mr. Sharp, authorizing him ultimately to give £150 for it if it could not be bought for less. Mr. Sharp, however, declined to part with it at any price, and presented Mr. Fithian with another £5. He also showed Mr. Fithian certain marks and signatures upon the title page of the Bible which satisfied him that it had been for a long time in the possession of the Shakespeare family. Mr. Sharp was an experienced Shakespearian collector, so that he was not very likely to be deceived in such a matter. What has become of this Bible?

A Walking Skeleton.

Mr. E. Springer, of Mechanicsburg, Pa., writes: "I was afflicted with lung fever and abscess on lungs, and reduced to a walking skeleton. Got a free bottle of Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, which did me so much good that I bought a dollar bottle. After using three bottles, found myself once more a man, completely restored to health, with a hearty appetite, and a gain in flesh of 48 pounds." I Wish Everybody to Know.

Rev. George H. Thayer, an old citizen of this vicinity known to every one as a most influential citizen and christian minister of the M. E. church, just this moment stopped in to say to me: "I wish everybody to know that I consider that both myself and wife owe our lives to Shiloh's Consumption Cure." It is having a tremendous sale over our counters and is giving perfect satisfaction in all cases of Lung Diseases, such as nothing else has done. DRS. MATCHETT & FRANCE.

A Baptist Minister's Experience.

"I am a Baptist Minister, and before I ever thought of being a clergyman, I graduated in medicine, but left a lucrative practice for my present profession, 40 years ago. I was for many years a sufferer from quinsy; "Thomas' Eclectric Oil cured me." I was also troubled with hoarseness, and Thomas' Eclectric Oil always relieved me. My wife and child had diphtheria, and Thomas' Eclectric Oil cured them," and it taken in time it will cure seven out of ten. I am confident it is a cure for the most obstinate cold or cough, and if any one will take a small teaspoon and half fill it with Oil, and then place the end of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon into the head by sniffing as hard as they can, until the Oil falls over into the throat, and practice it twice a week, I don't care how offensive their head is, it will clean it out and cure their catarrh. For deafness and earache it has done wonders to my certain knowledge. It is the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I have ever felt like recommending. I am very anxious to see it in every place, for I tell you that I would not be without it in my house for any consideration. I am now suffering with a pain like rheumatism in my right limb, and nothing relieves me like Thomas' Eclectric Oil."
