pound. Plums of the green varieties will be much scarcer this week than they have been for several weeks, but there will be some of them from the central lakes of New York, and a few very nice Reine audes from the Hudson river counties. The plum, when in good order, will readily sell for from $7 to $8 per barrel. German prunes and Quackenboss, if flue, will whole-sale upward of $1.25 per 20 pound basket.

TWO TROUSERED LADIES.

A that With the Secretary of the London Kathonal Dress Association. Phila, Cor. N. Y. World.

Among the busy moving throngs crowding the corridors of Horticultural crowding the corridors of Horticultural hall during the morning and early after noon were two ladies, who attracted marked attention wherever they were seen. They both wore the red and purple badge which designated their foreign birth, but they were something else which earned for them their chief distinction, and more two little half of the control and made the little knots of people stand ing here and there nudge their elbows into their neighbors' sides and point with a significant wink to the fair couple. The garment which made the two gentle Britishers thus conspicuous was the much maligned but ever appreciated, awkward but comfortable, thoroughly masculine, yet getting to be sweetly feminine trousers. One lady's were of checked silk, while the other wore blue serge. They were—at least as much as could be seen neither bewitchingly tight fitting like the modern dude's nor aggravating y baggy like the dark-eyed Odalesque's. They were of a highly respectable middle rate pattern, and as the fair occupants of the odd attire moved gracefully down the main stairway of Horticultural hall the silk and serge seemed the embodiment of And is favorably known and used in all parts of the world. The sick or alling should not delay its use. It will prevent as well as cure disease. Above that is the skirt, which, as you observe, fits neither too loosely or too snugly. Our idea is to wear any sort of comfortable bodice or jacket, but never to wear stays. Comfort is our great aim.

You know two things are required in dress.
One is that clothing—permit me to emphasize the word clothing—should cover the body secording to the body's lines. That

FRUITS IN ABUNDANCE, is the chief thing. The next point to consider is the drapery, which is for ornament rather than practical use, and the drapery should be lett to the individual taste of the wearer. Now isn't that sensible? You must admit it is. I am just now 50 years old, but I feel just as brisk as any young woman and can jump over a fence as well as a man. "I have practised this dress in England the Delaware Crawford's Late peaches to see how much the public will allow were being shipped to the markets. The without bringing down insult. The Pott-vide Miners Deal Summarity with

FIVE DAYS WITHOUT POOD. Tramps of a professional character have infested the mining towns in the Schuylnuisance. The miners' families in the number of men formed themselves into an exterminating committee, and vowed that one caught in the vicinity. A sharp lookout was kept for invaders. On Wednesday of last week two of the ex peeted vistors put in an appearance They remained about the town unmolested until evening, when the committee above mentioned arrived and captured them, and they were hurried off to the mountains. But one of them broke away and escaped; the other, however, was securely strapped, and when a certain place in the woods was reached he was made to stand firmly against a huge tree, to which he was tied
