STAINED GLASS

WINDOWS

AT A VERY TRIFLING COST.

Patent "Glacier" Window Decoration. The Most Perfect Substitute for Stained Glass

MANUFACTURED AT THE LINENHALL WORKS, BELFAST, IRELAND. This is a series of transparent designs, from the simplest to the most elaborate and complex; enabling any per son with a reasonable amount of taste and ingenuity to produce patterns on window, having all the beauty of the real stained glass, at a very small cost. The advantage so this invention will be appreciated when it is considered that so many win own have a disagreeable outlook; which can now by means of the Patent Deceration, be shut out from view, and the beauty of the interior encanced while the labor of effixing the design is no more than a pat sant pattine and exercise of skill in which hades and children can take part. In cases where no disagreeable view exists, there may be portions of the house where there is an a cess of light, and the covering of part of the glass with these designs will be found to be an improvement. Windows or stair landings are p riteniarly good subjects for treatment by the "discier" Decoration; while almost all windows, in whatever position will be improved in accordance or by having a portion of the glass at top or sides covered with suitable designs. Unlike many things invented for the purpose of window decoration, this cannot be rubbed off the window or defaced by cleaning.

HOW MISSARDE PHILAUELPHIA SEUT.

J. Elimar Miramitta, calling herself "the Daughter of God," died in January last, at her residence, No. 1128 South Eleventh street, Philadelphia, where she had resided for years past. The woman upon whom this title was bestowed by her devout worshipers had been previously known as Anna Meister. She was about 68 years of age. For years she had been the recognized head of a peculiar sect in the recognized head of a peculiar sect in that city, who worshiped at her shrine and did her bidding. For fifteen years her tollowers gathered at the house on South Eleventh street, and held services accord-ing to their peculiar ideas. When the woman left the mortal sphere and assumed the immortal, her nearest relatives began contest for the property, and the suit has dragged along with no near prospect of a settlement. The members of the congre-vation hold possession of the house, and they declare that the head of their church merely held it in trust for them
It was learned that Miss Meister was born in Switzerland, and came to this county some years ago. Soon after her arrival, her followers say, she dis played remarkable powers for healing the sick, and when physicians failed in their work she proved all-powerful. The stories of her wonderful cures gave her a reputa-tion that caused hundreds of Germans to flock to her house. Agong the many form flock to her house. Among the many from them was the wife of a thrifty and wealthy gentleman from the vicinity of Third and The woman became so infatuated with this healer of all ills that s dispute arose between husband and wife and nearly resulted in a separation. About his time the husband was taken ill, and and when physicians failed the mysterious remale was called in. Her ministrations are said to have proved effectual, and the man recovered. From that time he was a devout follower of the woman. Soon after this the building on South Eleventh street was purchased and deeded to "J. Elimar Miramitts," and the deed is on record in the office of the recorder of deeds and nearly resulted in a separation. About ord in the office of the recorder of deeds if the county. It is upon this that the present suit is brought.

A most interesting point arises in the convest between the neirs and the congre zation. The former hold that the sect worshiped the woman and regarded her as the "Daughter of G d," and that the title was conferred upon her by them. To prive this there is an old paluting in the parlor of the dwelling representing the Prinity. Miss Mister, or "J. Etimar Maramitta," is shown as a young girl, with goldern carls failing in graceful folds over he wellrounded shoulders. She is clad in garments as angels are supposed to wear, and the likeness of her face is perfect. The painting was regarded with deep venera for by the congregation. The point claimed to the side of the heirs is that the shipers were idolatrous in their tendencies and that instead of paying their devotions to God they wave them to a woman "of the The defendants, upon the other hand claim that services were modeled

From their Thirty years ago Miss Anna Meister, an attractive and intelligent looking woman, married the son of wealthy parents, who were opposed to the match. Shortly after the wedding they succeeded in separating

The woman was prostrated with grief, and for a long period she was Finally she took her maiden name and worked at dressmaking for a livelihood. While at this labor she claimed to have experienced peculiar sensations. At times her arms would suddenly straighten out from her shoulders, and it was only with ssistance that she caused them to resum their normal position. Other queer things occurred, and the woman began to imag-ine that the phenomenon was due to supernatural causes. Firm in this belief, she gather a few German people about he and arranged to bold religious meetings in a house at Ridge auenue and Wood street, It was here that she impressed a number of persons that she was gifted with super-natural power. At the meetings on Ridge avenue Miss Meister assumed leadership. One evening she pressed her flogers over the closed cyclids of one of the members, who has since become a backslider, and placed her in a clairvoyant state. The woman announced that Miss Meister was called by the Creator to perform a great mission on the Creator to perform a great mission on earth. This was looked upon as an im portant revelation, which, bowever, was

The elder members of the congregation yesterday declared to the reporters that they were witnesses to the last great act. As the little band of worshipers was enraged in prayer there appeared in golden etters in the German text before Miss Meister, the mysterious words "J Elmar Miramitta," which she at once translated to mean "Holy Spirit, the third person of the Trinity." This character she at once assumed, and taught her followers that she was indeed the "Holy Ghost," sent on earth in human form to carry out a nission similar to the Saviour. She droppe her maiden name and took that of Miss Miramitta. She pretended to heal the sick and perform miracles. Her following became numerous and it was decided to oall it "The Congregation of the Lord."
More convenient quarters were secured on Twelfth street, below Ells worth, which were occupied for nearly tour years. The property now used was then bought, the money being contributed by a number of well-to do believers. Iu by a number of well-to do believers. In this house the peculiar worship has been carried on under the direction of Miss Meister for twenty-four years. Several years ago a portion of the congregation became dissatisfied with the methods of the "Holy Ghost." and she was arrested on the charge of swindling, but was acquitted. Up to the hour of her death she presided at the little gatherings of her devoted followers mapped out the course they should pursue in the world and de signated at what hours they should pray. signated at what hours they should pray. They strictly obeyed her, and followed to the letter her dictations. They are confident that no worldly power can wrest from them the Eleventh street property, as they solemnly declare "Miss Miramitta, the Holy Ghost, would not allow it to be
