The Vigilant, and Columbia, of Columbia and the Pioneer fire company of Mari-etta, accompanied by the Marietta, Colum bia and Washington bands respectively, made a short street parade this morning before leaving for York.

Gen. Welsh Post 118 G. A. R, did not attend the state fair to day as an organization, though several members took in the excursion. The town presents rather a deserted appearance on account of the fire compaes and many of their friends having let on the early trains this morning for York. Orion Lodge No. 876, I. O. O. F., nominated officers last evening to be elected next Wednesday evening. It is estimated that between 600 and 700

Jet of the story may be heard.

Sarah Essum, better known as "Big Jin," died suddenly at an early hour this morning, at her residence No. 232 Church street. For several weeks she had been drinking to excess, and at an early hour this morning her companions observed that she was very ill and summoned Dr. being a very large woman and attracting attention when she appeared on the streets. She was a defendant before nearly every magistrate in the city, and served several months ago she appeared for the last time n court as the defendant in a complaint made against her for keeping a bawdy house. She was acquitted but directed to pay the costs. Coroner Shiffer was noti-tied of the sudden death; he impannelled a jury and held an inquest this afternoon The testimony of the immates of the house was heard, when the above facts as to her death were elicited. The jury rendered a verdict of death from congesthe brain superinduced excessive drinking.

The mother of deceased, residing is York county, was sent for and is expected to arrive this afternoon to arrange for the Jewish New Year, With the setting of the sun on Friday evening will be ushered in the New Year of the Hebrews, 5645. The festival, which so soon followed by the Day of Atonement, is most rigidly observed by the re-form as well as the orthodox Israelites, and the services in the synagogue of his city, both on Friday evening and Saturday morning, will be of a very solemn character. As the day's name signifies memorial or remembrance, it becomes the pious duty of the Israelites to make a careful self-examination, to judge of his conduct as the Heavenly Judge is thought to do, in preparation for the great Day of Atonement, the most sacred on the Jewish calendar. A portion of the services consists of the plaintive, tremulous notes of the hour, sounding an alarm to the human conscience, inciting its hearers to greater virtues and lesser errors by confession, by penitence and by good deeds; reparation for the past and resolution for the future. In some of the synagogues the curtains of the ark, the massive wrappings of the surolls and the pulpit coverings are all of pure and spotle s white.

The Volunteer Firemen's Convention. The Volunteer firemen's convention in York, at both Wednesday morning and afternoon sessions was largery attended. The following officers for the ensuing year were elected: President, C. L. Wheeler, of Bradford; first vice president, S. Owen, of Shamokin; second vice president, D. J. Newman, of Scranton; treasurer, H.A. Derr, of Norristown; recording secretary, W. W. Wunder, of Reading; corresponding secretary, S. H. Ettla, of Harrisburg; delegate to the national convention, F. H. Ferber, of Scranton. A letter from Marc. Wilson of Harrisburg letter from Mayor Wilson, of Harrisburg, enclosing the action of the council of that city inviting the firemen's convention to meet at that place next year, was read and the invitation was unanimously ac cepted. The delegates attended the opera-house in a body in the evening. There was a large amount of business transacted during the day relating to the volunteer fire system. Thursday the grand parade takes place, which will be participated in by companies from all parts of the state.

Etole Forty-Two Pounds of Butter.

A few days since Henry Eshleman, far-mer of Manor township, had prepared fortytwo pounds of butter to bring to market the next day. During the night thieves broke lato his spring house, and among other articles, carried off the butter. The spring house is not far distant from his residence, but no noise was heard by his family when the theft was committed.

Excursion to Philagelphia. There were over three hundred Lancaster passengers who this morning availed themselves of the cheap excursion tickets issued by the Pennsylvania railroad, between this city and Philadelphia.

Narrow Ranspe from Instant L'eath.

A young man named Satterthwaite, son of George B. Satterthwaite, of Fairville, made a narrow escape from instant death, on Tuesday about noon. At the time he was driving along the Kennett turnpike in a wagon heavily laden with produce, to which was attached two horses, on the way to Wilmington to attend the market at that place. The young man heard the whistle of a locomotive on the Wilmington whistle of a locomotive on the Wilmington and Northern railroad, but thought he could get over the railroad track before the train arrived at the crossing. It was an extra train that was appeaching from the northward and in addition to blowing the whistle the engineer rang the bell violently. Instead of getting the team across the young man had just got on the track when the locomotive struck him. He was thrown quite a distance in the air, one of the horses was instantly killed and a complete wreck made of the wagon. The other horse was cut loose but was not injured in the least. After the driver had lain a few moments on the ground he arose and walked a short distance and then fell. He was assisted to the station.

Charged with Herraying a Wife. John Butz of Conestoga Centre, appeared at the office of Alderman Fordney on Wednesday, and made complaint against D. G. Kendig, of the same village, charg-ing him with having caused an abortion to be committed on his (Butz) wife a d also with surety of the peace. He also made complaint against his wife, charging her with adultery. Butz's wife, charging her with adultery. Butz's wife left him some time ago and is now a domestic at one of our betels, and Butz believes that she was induced to leave her home and children by Kendig. The defendant denies being guilty of the offenses charged, and entered bail in the sum of $3,000 for a hear the children of the content of $2,000 for a hear the children of the content of $2,000 for a hear the children of the content of $2,000 for a hear the children of the ing on the charge of abortion and $300 for the surety of the peace, on Friday, Sept. 26th. Mrs. Butz entered bail for a hear ing on the charge of adultery at the same time. It is probable that other suits will be entered in a few days.

The Evangelical Lutheran synon, Rev. T. C. Billhelmer, of Reading, delivered the opening sermon at the meeting of the Evangelical Lutheran synod, or East Pennsylvania in Easton, Wednesday evening. The synod comprises the Evan gelical Lutheran churches in the district cast of Harrisburg, including Philadelphia, Germantown, Lancaster, Pinegrove, Potisville, Reading, Gettysburg, Womelsdorf, Allentown, Bethlehem and other points. The synod at its last session comprised 104 charging and tracks and tracks and tracks. prised 104 churches and twelve stations, and 13,616 communicants, 15,131 children in its Sunday schools, who during the year had contributed $10,859.58 to the cause. During the same time the churches contributed $127,168.88. The synod will be in session about one week. The meet ings will be public. Amusemente.

The Two Johns.—Of this comedy, which will be presented in Fulton opera house this evening, the New York Morning Journal says: "Messra. Hart and Stewart are really fun makers, and their sayings and doings are irresistibly funny. The company inclu several very clever vocalists, and they were highly applicated. To sum up, the whole en-tertalament is very funny, and those who wish to pass a most enjoyable evening can do no better than to pay the price and go.

Only a Miner's Daughter.-On Friday will present the above play with Miss Emma Hendricks as the leading lady. The Reading Times says of the performance: "It is a play which calls out much sympathy, and was made more than effective by the touching manner in which some of the pathetic scenes were produced. The various situations are all a 'mirably interwoven."

Blossville is the French country seat of a duke whose duo ose is none other than an American. He is a Dutchman, but the duchess, whose third bushaud he is, has two sons and two daughters of between 16 and 22. She is but forty, five years of age, but looks superficially younger, dresses magnificently, and has the handsomest equipage in the neighborhood. When the duke came to take possession of Blossville his advent was heralded by the arrival of twenty superb horses. A grand plane was also sent from Paris It was so long on the way that he waxed wroth, and, to show its haughty indignation, refused to remove his $1,000 instrument from the station, preferring to present it to the railroad company. "Such indifference to money is truly ducal," says a correspondent, "and one receives rather a shock in learning that the husband of our American duchess was formerly an opers singer, and his ducal title not a birthright, but one bought with fifthy lugre. He bears an Italian title, I alian titles are the cheapest in the market, and the price of that Italian title came from American sewing machines. Madam is Duchesse is the daughter of the late I. M.
