ABOUT FRUIT TREES.

ARE THEIR DISEASES INCREASING?

The Failure to take "Yellow" in Peach Trees and "Blight" in Pear Trees at an Early Stage.

S. P. LARKIN in Germantown Telegraph.

I give personal experience for fifty and sixty years for a hundred years to prove that the disease known as "yellow" in the peach tree and "blight" in the pear tree are on the increase; and I would here take opportunity to say that these show are merely symptoms of a disease in its last and final stage, and ought to have been prevented by apprehension of the disease in a former stage, overlooked and unknown.

To seek for a remedy for "yellow" after this stage is available; with a preventive sooner is the part of wisdom and the only possible remedy. When yellow appears, it is positive proof of constitutional taint, and however much may be done to ameliorate, nothing is available to cure the taint which has been introduced.

It is a very vegetable, and cures when other medicines fail.

It is prepared expressly for these diseases and has never been known to fail. One trial will convince you. For sale by all druggists in action and ready to take.

GONGOOUS GARTERS.
A Recent Fashionable article That Must be Worn.

From the Philadelphia Record.

"The latest wrinkle in fancy things for womanhood is the bangles garter," said the traveling salesman of a large New York wholesale jewelry house as he sat with his feet on a desk in the writing room of a leading hotel and picked his teeth with a clean pen, "and," he continued, "I expect to do a big trade in them for the Christmas season."

What are they like? Why just the same as the bangles that used to be so much in favor, except, of course, that they are larger, and have to be pulled or abut with a spring, instead of being in one rigid piece like those worn on the wrist. We made them of silver in several forms, mostly in flat links, with a snap catch, and each link has one or two little silver ornaments or nothings hanging from it. "O course," he went on, "they are rather expensive, but then, so are the fancy garters that you see in the stores at present, made of silk and satin, and set with silver and diamonds. These garters, however, have little bells hanging from it, and a girl can go to a party and dance about with a few links till she thinks he is taking a sleigh ride.

If the ladies want to utilize their old bangles we have the new pattern mounted, that is without any ornaments attached, so that the little charms can be taken off the bangles and fastened to the garters, a job that can be done by any jeweler in a few minutes. No, I know they won't shut out the old bangles, but a bit for all that, and I've sold a fair sized bill of them to several houses on Chestnut and Eighth street, but I expect to do a great deal better when I strike Chicago, where they take to such things violently.

For the police of Atlanta, Ga., are looking for a young woman who disappeared from her home on the night fixed for her wedding, attracted in her bridal robes. Her name is Mary Walker. Her parents are well to do people. Miss Walker is about 18 years of age. She is an only child, and her father provided her with all she wanted. She had many suitors for her hand, but she finally accepted the one that until Lewis Elder, a hard working mechanic, came along. Their acquaintance soon ripened into devotion, and when Elder asked the girl's father for his daughter's hand he readily gave his consent. Elder insisted upon purchasing the trousseau for his bride, and with a liberal hand supplied her with money. He purchased jewelry, rings and ribbons for her in abundance. Finally, the wedding was arranged for Thursday night last, and the bride came Elder's way to the church, sought the Walker home. When he arrived there he ascertained that the bride dress had not been completed, and the wedding was postponed until Sunday night. Friday night Elder called upon his bride, but he soon after reaching home he ascertained that her parents were going to church. He decided to accompany them, and leaving their daughter at home, the parents and their intended son in law went to church. They returned home about 10 o'clock and were surprised to find the girl absent. But their surprise was greatly increased when they found that her wedding outfit and all her jewelry were gone, too. She did not return that night, and the next morning Elder called upon Capt. Crim, Capt. Crim has not yet found the missing bride-elect.

TUNNELING A VOLCANO.
Some enterprising Yankees have bought a volcano in Mexico, and are running a tunnel about half way up the cone, through which they expect to draw off an enormous quantity of sulphur. Volcanoes are a human system take the form of pimples, boils and carbuncles. They proceed from weak and impure blood, and are cured by strengthening and purifying. Mr. Shank of Petersburg, Va., says, "It caused the eruptions on his skin to entirely disappear."
