AN APPEAL TO VOTERS, ohallenge to the conscience of every voter. It shows the degradation to which our political life has snnk when shrewd mana-INDEPENDENTS ON CAMPAIGN ISSUES.

The following address has been issued from the headquarters in Philadelphia of the Republicans and Independents who the Republicans and Independents who are opposed to the election of James G. Blaine to the presidency:

To the Voters of Pennsylvania:—The settlement of the questions arising from the war, as admitted by the Republican presidential candidate, gives to thoughful voters the opportunities of casting aside the dead irrues of the past and of acting on the living issues of the present and on the living issues of the present and the future.

These issues are partly material and partly moral. On questions of material policy the attitude of the two great parties policy the attitude of the two great parties is neither clearly defined nor antagonistic. As regards the currency, much has already been settled rather through the force of circumstances than by the force sight of either of the parties, while both show equal reluctance to grapple with what remains. With respect to the tariff we in no way recognize that protection is we in no way recognize that protection is at stake in the present canvass in the sense in which the Republican managers would make us believe. The utterances of both parties in their respective plat-forms are so nearly identical that there can be found no definite contention be tween them. Besides, the power of the executive to determine the revenue legis-lation of the country is too remote to lation of the country is too remote to render this a controlling factor in a Presi-dential canvass. The decision rests with with congress, and the intelligent voter can have no difficulty in separating his congressional from his electoral ticket and in thus satisfying his convictions in both directions. Many of the members of this association are proportioned. association are pronounced protectionists, whose interests are dependent, as they be-lieve, on the continued presperity of the manufactures fostered by the tariff, and they can recognize no danger to these interests from the success of the candidate of a party which in the last session of congress only showed in its efforts at tariff revision its own hopeless division on the subject and was forced at Chicago to adopt an expression of policy so nearly skin to that of its rival. We, in Phila-phia, no longer ago than last February, and an example of the skill with which akin to that of its rival. the tariff can be unfairly used by self-seeking politicians to frighten the people with scarcely concealed aversion. If the distinguished Democratic author of existthroughout the service; a president secretly opposed to it can render it virtu-ally nugatory. It would therefore be imful sections of his own party, from whose hostility thus aroused the Republicans draw their strongest hopes for success in the pending election.

Not the least of the material interests involved in the canvass are those which of the executive if it should fall into the hands of Mr. Blaine. During the few the Clayton Bulwer treaty; to his un-calledfor interference with Mexico about the Guatemala boundary, resulting in another and even more decided rebuff, war virtually unavoidable and all industrial and mercantile interests would suffer incalculably from this prolonged and continued uncertainty.

Yet above all in its importance is the issue which the Republican party raised when it nominated as its candidate a man convicted out of his own mouth of prostituting for gain the public trusts confided to him. We fail to see how any citizen can read the correspondence between Mr. Blaine and Mr. Warren Fisher, jr., with the evidence taken by the judiciary com-political life has sank when shrewd managers can persuade themselves that the American people are too obtuse to care for official integrity in their rulers. If that persuasion should be justified by success in November—if the people decide that a huckster of official initiance shall occupy the chair of Washington, it is impossible to overestimate the lasting and deplorable influence which such an example will exert on the future of the nation. The Republican party triumphed because it was the party of moral ideas. It has now, by the selection of its standard bearer, become the party of immoral ideas, and only defeat can regenerate it. can regenerate it.

This committee has delayed its appeal to its fellow citizens to see whother any explanation of the charges against Mr. Biaine would be made which would relieve him from their weight, but the ap offered thus far have only admitted the truth of the accusations, while seeking to extenuate them. Believing, therefore, that he is unfit for the lofty position to that he is unfit for the lofty position to which he aspires, and that the ticket is not improved by the vice presidential candidate, the committee confidently anticipates that the result of the canvass will show that the independent strength is sufficient either to force the Republican party to reform itself or to justify the formation of a new organization which shall fitly represent the higher political aspirations which are to dominate the future.

Cooperation and correspondence are

Cooperation and correspondence are solicited from all citizens who share in these views.

HENRY C. LEA, President. LINCOLN L. EYRE, Secretary. EDMUNDS UN BLAINE,

How Blaine Was Vindicated by the Mutili from the New York Evening Post.

On the 24th ultimo the Chicago Tribune published the following as a true copy of the letter addressed by Senator Edmunds to a Wisconsin State official:
BURLINGTON, Vt., Sept. 18.
DEAR SIR: I have yours of the 15th.

I am sure that I never wrote or said that the gentleman you referred to "acts as the attorney of Jay Gould," for I am not conscious of having thought so. As I have publicly stated, I expect to vote the Republican ticket. Yours truly,

George F. Edmunds.

As it was not a true copy Senator

Edmunds a few days since enclosed a true copy of the correspondence to that paper for publication. The Chicago Tribune of this morning published it as "proof of a campaign falsehood." It vindicates Mr. Blaine in the same way that he was vindicated by the second batch of his corres-pondence with Warren Fisher. The letters are as follows, the suppressed portion being in italies, which are ours and not Senator Edmunds': "STATE OF WISCONSIN.

"BUREAU OF LABOR STATISTICS, "Madison, Sept. 15, 1884.
"My Dean Sin: You have always answered promptly and fully all questions when an opinion was wanted from one highly esteemed throughout the nation, I have asked of you upon political or oth subjects. Here is a paragraph that has been published and republished in every Bourbon organ in the west :

'EDMUNDS ON BLAINE " Senator Edmunds, of Vermont, in letter, 1880: It is my deliberate opinion tha Mr. Blaine acts as the attorney of Jay Gould. Whenever Mr. Thurman and I have settled upon legislation to bring the the government up has jumped James G. Blaine, musket in hand, from behind the breastworks of Gould's lobby, to fire in our backs."

" Is this a true extract from any letter of yours? If so, did Mr. Blaine, as such attorney, ever do anything wrong or disreputable or contrary to public interests?
When and for what purpose did Gould engage Blaine as his attorney? What salary did he receive from Gould? Has his term of service for Gould terminated? If so, when did it terminate? If Mi Blaine was Gould's attorney, when did be fire 'into the backs' of yourself and Mr. Thurman, giving dates and subject mat-ter under consideration when the firing vas done?

"If Mr. Blaine was ever the attorney of Gould is that sufficient reason why the Republican party should be defeated in the present contest? "Did Mr. Blaine, to your knowledge and belief, ever do anything that would render it advisable for old Republicans to turn back on their lives and their records and make Grover Cleveland, with all that implies, President of the United States? "With the highest respect, I am truly your obedient servant, FRANK A. FLOWER. "Hon. George F. Edmunds."

"BURLINGTON, Vt., Sept. 18, 1884.
"DEAR SIR, (private): "I have yours of the 15th. As I am not in the letter writing business, I mark this, as I have some similar ones, 'private' I am sure that I never wrote or said that the gentleman you refer to 'acts as the attorney of Jay Gould,' for I am not conscious of ever having thought so. I presume it is true, altho' I can find no copy of the letter, that in 1880 I did write to some constituents adversely to the nomination of the gentleman named, and I believe it to be true that he was on the side of the railroads in the struggle of 1878, and it is my belief that I said so. "As I have publicly stated I expect to

To the independent members of both it is an object of the most earnest solicitude, while by the working machine of both it is regarded ing legislation was proscribed by the s of his own state for his leading position in the reform, on the other hand the Republican national committee has been seeking every ingenious device whereby to evade the legal penalties of assessing office holders, and it has recog-nized as its representative in Virginia ieneral Mahone, well known as one of the most reckless spoilsmen of the uge. The permanent establishment of the principle of this reform now depends mainly upon the faithful execution of the present aw in letter and spirit. A president earnestly in its favor can infuse its spirit possible for any friend of the reform to justify the report of one who, like Mr. Blaine, as speaker of the House, delayed its progress for years, when, to use the language of the New York Tribune of June 19, 1874, "Mr. Blaine, with 'distinguished ability,' appointed a committee on that subject (civil service reform), which strangled the reform and scalped it and then executed a war-dance over it." No stronger contrast can be presented than that which exists between his record on this subject and that of his principal opponent, who has been the faithful and efficient promoter of the reform and has

We need only refer to his neglect to vindicate the rights of American citizens imprisoned abroad without trial, while inviting a rebuff from England by his blunders over and to his converting his high office into a claim agency for adventurers in his guano policy with unhappy Peru. With an intellect so unbalanced at the head of affairs the country could never feel secure that it might not at any moment find itself involved in complications rendering war virtually unavoidable and all indus

Whether it was in Little Rock bonds or a national bank charter or a share in the Northern Pacific railroad he exhibited himself as an active trader whenever official influence active trader whenever official influence was to be exchanged for money or money's was to be exchanged for money or money's worth. Nor was his position improved by his attempts at defense, consisting of falsehood, evasion and refusal to explain on the ground that those were his "private affairs," as if the Speaker of the House of Representatives could have any "affairs" of business in volving the personal honesty and official honer too "private" for acknowledgment and explanation. Conspicuous as he has been in Congress, Mr. Blaine's name is not prominently connected with a single act of well devised statesmanship; he has risen from poverty to wealth on a meagre congressional salary and the revelations of his correspondence suggest the way in which that wealth has probably been ac quired. These charges are directly relevant to his candidacy; they have not been newly sprung on the country for political purposes in the heat of a presidential campaign.
