A Political Discussion—Kuropean
Farming, &c., &c.

A stated meeting of the Lancaster county Agricultural and Horticultural society was held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The following named members were present: Calvin Cooper, Bird-in-Hand; M. D. Kendig, Cresswell; F. R. Diffenderfier, city; John H Landis, Millersville; C. H. Hunsecker, Manheim township; Wm. H. Brosins, Drumore; Jos. F. Witmer, Paradise; Casper Hiller, Conestoga; Johnson Miller, Warwick; J. M. Johnston, city; Eph S. Hoover, Manheim township; Jacob Hipple, city.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

C. Cooper from the committee appoint—

C. Cooper from the committee appointed to report on the late farmers' institute held in this city, presented a report detailing the circumstances attending the organization and work of the institute, all of which has previously appeared in these columns, while the results of the institute are reported to have been good, it was not a financial success, not being patronized by farmers as liberally as it patronized by farmers as liberally as it

The report was accepted and the committee discharged with the thanks of the THE STATE PAID

Johnson Miller from the committee appointed to visit the late state fair, pre-sented as his report an article which he had written and had published in one of the local papers.

CROP REPORTS.

CROP REPORTS.

C. Hiller reported good crops of wheat, oats and corn, the last named being somewhat injured by the extensive floods which prevailed during the summer. The first crop has been plentiful, though apples did not hang well on the trees. Orchards on clay soil have done well, but on the hillsides they have proved a failure. Grain seeding has not yet been finished owing to the extremely dry weather which has prevailed for more than a month. In has prevailed for more than a month. In some fields that were sown early the wheat is up and looks well. There was only half an inch of rain fell during the John Miller reported that in Warwick crops were about the same as Mr. Hiller crops were about the same as Mr. Hiller reported for Conestoga, except that in the northern part of the county there had been more rain. Of fruit there is a good supply of all kinds except peaches.

M. D. Kendig reported that owing to the drought the seeding was 10 or 12 days later than usual, it being difficult to get the ground in order. Cattle of an unusually inferior quality are being unusually inferior quality are being bought up for wintering at from 4 to 6 cents per pound. He has seen fewer fine cattle this year than ever before. There are very few good winter apples in his section of the county. W. H. Brosius reported all kinds of crops excellent except fruit. Seeding is very backward.

Joseph F. Witmer had observed that corn planted on corn stubble fields was

John H. Landis read an essay to prove that farmers needed protection.

Mr. Landis opened by saying there were chronic gramblers who complained that our grain crops were so heavy that there was an over production and conse quent low prices. He answered that ough wheat and corn may bring a low figure per bushel, with a big crop, so much more corn can be turned into beeves and porkers. There is always a demand for good beef and pork, and they always command a fair price. So while the price for the grain may be low, to convert it into meat will bring ample com-pensation to the farmer; besides, his own bread will be cheaper and his cost of living will be comparatively less. The farmer must now plew and sow and reap all the same for a poor crop as for a full crop. The fuller the yield the better he is paid for his labor. He who realizes forty bushels of wheat from the acre can afford to sell it for much less than he whose yield is only thirty bushels per acre. Mr. Landis said the farmer must not look to a foreign market for his grain, but must depend on the home market as the only safe one for him.

There is a duty of 20 cents on every bushel of wheat imported into this country, a duty of 10 cents on every bushel of corn, a duty of 10 cents on every bushel of cats and so on, and it is to this protective policy of government that the farmer is largely indebted for his prosperity of recent years and they are those protective features of our tariff laws that he cannot afford to have wiped out.

Mr. Landis predicted that in a few years millions of acres of fertile land in Southern Russia and India, now lying idle, will be planted in wheat. The India laborer feeds on rice and on millet seed, which osts him but a few cents a day, while his wages range from eight to ten cents a day. In this way India can raise her wheat at a cost of not more than thirtylive cents a bushel.

The American farmer cannot compete with thirty-five cent wheat in the European markets. His only hope is in a home market. So it is to be hoped that he will know his interest sufficiently well not to allow the protective policy of the government to be changed, but that under it a home market for the farmer may be continued, and in that way enable him to dispose of his surplus crop at home and setinued, and in that way enable him to dispose of his surplus crop at home and secure him a fair price for the products of his soil without depending upon the uncertainties of a foreign demand to have the fruits of his labor duly rewarded.

F. R. Diffenderffer asked Mr. Landis how it was possible for American farmers to dispose of all their wheat in the home market when they raise more than it is possible for our people to eat.

possible for our people to eat.

Mr. Landis said that we should encourage our manufactures by a protective tariff, and in this way a large proportion of the population would be drawn away rom agricultural pursuits and engage in manufactures.

Mr. Diffenderffer said he had never before heard it suggested that the number of farmers should be lessened by having a portion of them engage in manufactures, and thus reduce the amount of agricultural product. Besides it is known to all that in almost every branch of manufactures there is a greater over production than Joseph F. Witmer could not see how, if American labor is protected and our manufactures are thus made higher in price, it will be possible for us to export them to countries that can make them at less price.

J. M. Johnston held that agriculturists were better off than any other class of people. There is very seldom any want of the necessaries of life among them. It is in great manufacturing centres where poverty prevails among the working people, who are at the mercy of their employers.

AMONG THE FARMERS,

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY MESTING.

Good Crops Reported—Easy on Protection of cheap labor from foreign countries. He ventured to say that there were to-day in our mines and iron manufactures more foreigners than natives employed, because their services can be secured for lower wages; and, notwithstanding the so-called protective policy which has been in force for many years there are to-day more mechanics and laboring men out of employment than ever before in the history of our country.

of our country.

In answer to a remark made by Mr.

Landis, that our farmers are protected by a tariff of ten cents on corn, and 20 cents on wheat, Mr. Diffendersfer said it was of no possible advantage to the farmer, because these was no country in the west. cause there was no country in the world could grow corn as cheaply as we can. The only protection the farmer gets is the duty laid on Sumatra tobscoo, and the payment of that duty is evaded by the payment of that duty is evaded by the importers.

Joseph F. Witmer could not see how a tariff on foreign manufactures could possibly be of any benefit to the farmer, as it raised the price of every implement he uses on his farm and every article of clothing he wears on his back.

Mr. Brosius thought that protection to the manufacturer would benefit the farmer because it would enable the manufacturer to purchase the farmers produce.

turer to purchase the farmers produce. The farmers, therefore, could afford to pay more for his blacksmithing and wagon making, and farmers' implements than be ould otherwise do.

Mr. Diffenderffer added that men had to eat whether they were idle or at work, and unless it could be shown that the population was increased by protection, the farmers' home market would be always about the same. Messrs. Hiller, Hunsecker and others participated in the discussion which began to assume a decidedly political turn, when the chair declared the discussion out of order and it was dropped.

CUTTING BACK TREES. In answer to a question as to whether young trees planted in the fall should be cut back at once, or not until the fol-lowing spring, Calvin Cooper answered that it is best not to cut them until spring. EUROPEAN FARMING. On motion of S. P. Eby, esq , an invi-tation was extended to Geo. W. Hensel to deliver before the society a lecture con-taining his observations on farming and farm life in Europe.

F. R. Diffendersfer exhibited before the society some fine specimens of Hubardson's Nonsuch, Missouri Romanites and King of Thompson County apples.

Calvin Cooper exhibited two five seedling winter apples for a name.

Daniel Smeych exhibited a late seedling Adjourned.

MILKED BY A SNAKE.

Why Farmer Yard's Cow Came in with

Joseph F. Witmer had observed that corn planted on corn stubble fields was this year better than that which was planted on sod.

C. L. Hunsecker said that all kinds of crops are good; tobacco excellent, potatoes abundant, not many good apples. Some farmers have finished seeding and their grain is nicely up. Others are still plowing.

PROTECTION TO FARMERS.

Empty Udder.

John Yard, a farmer living on the Brunswick pike, eight miles from Trenton, N. J., has been pasturing a number of cows on a lot on his place for some time. Recently he noticed that one of the morning as dry as though she had been milked. He was puzzled at this, and, as an experiment, changed her to another pasture. She immediately began to give the usual amount of milk. After a few Empty Udder. the usual amount of milk. After a fe days she was returned to the old pasture with the other cows, and at once come in dry, as before.

Finally Mr. Yard set a boy to watch the solved. The boy reported that early in the morning a large snake, "the biggest he had ever seen," came and breakfasted pletely dry. The cow did not seem to mind the operation. The facts are vouched for by responsible persons who have seen the snake taking its morning meal.

Charged With Firing Their House. At 3 o'clock Monday morning a fire was discovered in the frame dwelling of James Kennedy, in the Seventh ward, Williams-port. The floor and sides had been liberally sprinkled with coal oil. Mrs. Kennedy was arrested. Her husband Kennedy was arrested. Her husband managed to escape and got as far away as Lewisburg. The building was saved. It is supposed that they sought to burn it because the party of whom they purchased it had advertised it for sale through the sheriff, because they had failed to rear for sheriff, because they had failed to pay for

A Sairmish Among the Ductors.
When typhoid fever broke out at Port Jervis, some doctors quarreled about how to cure it. Each said his way was the best, and several said all the others were entirely wrong and knew nothing about how to cure it. A little knowledge of medicine is a dangerous thing, but a very valuable item of medical knowledge is, that Brown's Iron Bitters builds up wasted systems, and by enriching enfeebled blood gives health and strength.
