THE NEW OBLEARS EXPOSITION. A State Commissioner in the City Collecting County Exhibits.

The president of the great New Orleans exposition, which is to commence in that city on the 1st of December, has appointed R. H. Thomas, of Mechanicsburg, Cumberland county, and A. E. Lewis, of Pike county, commissioners of Pennsylvania, and given into their bands the disposition of exhibits intended for the Pennsylvania department of the exposition. Mr. Thomas is now making a tour of the state in the interest of the exposition. To-day he is in Lancaster, and has called on many of our citizens to contribute exhibits to the Pennsylvania department. It has been suggested that Lancaster might contribute something that would look well in the great something that would look well in an great show. Views of the city or of the public buildings, or principal business places would not be amiss. Agricultural, horti-cultural, mineral or geological specimens are desirable. Samples of our tobacco would be of interest down South, and there are bundreds of other objects that would add to the show and keep old Lancaster before the people." All exhibits in tended for the Pennsylvania department should be sent to R. II. Thomas, Mechaniesburg, Cumberland county, Pa., by whom they will be promptly forwarded to New Orleans.

Manufacturers and others who intend to exhibit their works in competition with others of the same class and who have space in the exposition will of course ship their goods direct to New Orleans. Mr. Thomas takes charge only of goods intended for the Pennsylvania department.

M. Frayne discussed the social problems involved and Rev. Wm. Powick, the moral and social aspects of the question.

FOXEY ANDERSON NOT KILLED. CINCINNATI, Oct. 14.—The report of the killing of "Foxey" Anderson was an error. He had an altercation, but was not seriously hurt. Large crowds gathered at many polling places and the air is full of rumors of an expected outbreak. The rush of votes continues. The total vote in the state will probably reach 800,000. About noon A.
