OUTOBER COMMON PLEAS. A Verdict Against the P. H. R. Company - A

Water Right Case Attached BEFORE JUDGE PATTERSON.
In the sun of Samuel Horst vs. the nsylvania railroad company, the jury, on Thursday afternoou rendered a verdict favor of plaintiff for $500 The next case attached for trial was the water right suit of Charles Fell and Rachel Fell vs. Elwin Bennett, Josiah P. Lee, and Samuel T. Lee. This is an action to recover damages by reason of defen-dants raising their mill dam on the Octo raro, in 1876, which flooded six acres of plaintiffs' meadow land. A similar suit was tried some time ago, and the verdict of the jury was in favor of the plaintiffs, thus fixing the rights of the parties Since that time the dam has not been lowered by defendants, and this suit is brought to recover damages sustained be-tween the times of bringing the first and second suits. By re-sec of this overflow, it is claimed that no crops can be raised in the meadow. It is also claimed that from the pools of stagnant water in the meadow there is an offensive smell. The deeds of plaintiffs' property from the letters patent granted in 1750 to the time the property was purchased by plaintiffs were offered

Sarah Oatman, an inmate of the county

A petition was presented to the court for a charge of viewers appointed to vacate a road in Martie township. The reason alleged is that Jacob M. Frantz and Michael L. Hoover are stockholders in the New Danville turnpike company, which it is claimed are interested parties. Counsel admitted that Mr. Hoover was a stock-holder but denied that Mr. Frantz was and denied that the turopike company were in any way interested in the proposed va-

BIGH ART

Opening of the ishoads Gallery-Some of the Notable Exhibits. During the past summer Mr. H. Z Rhoads visited the principal art centres of Europe for the purpose of securing gems of er his gallery No. 4 West King street. A large number of his purchases have arrived and been put on exhibition-the gallery being formerly opened to the public Thursday evening.

The collection consists of oil paintings, large and small, alabaster or Pisa, marble statuettes, green marble statuettes, pedes tals and vases, bas reliefs and bronzes in great variety. Freuch clocks, music boxes, &c., &c. The collection contains many rare gems, the large landscapes by Andreo Marko, and the small ones by Guido Agostini, being especially noticeable for their accurate drawing, fine perspective and gorgeous coloring. Some of Agosanneets are as gorgeous as the natural ones we witnessed in this vicinity a year ago, which Marko's "Ruined Aqueduct of Rome" and "Marble Mountains" are not less admirably exe These pictures are set in highly ornamented and claborately carved gilt

Among the alabaster statuettes, are "Summer" and "Winter," by Lapini, the "First Gift," the "Diver," "Neapolitan boy," "Italian Singer" and "Love of the Earth," all of them being admirable subjects elaborately chicoled. They stand on green marble pedestals that contrast prettily with the pure white marble.

The bronges are in great variety of almost every imaginable subject, including panoplied knights, august senators, gods and gladiators, flery steeds and noble hunting dogs. The bas reliefs, including scenes of battles and other heroic subjects. The collection must be seen to be appreciated. Mr Rhoads has shown great zeal and good judgment in introducing works of art among our people and deserves a liberal return for his heavy expenditures in this direction.

"FALSELY ACCUSED." Another Starving Audience at the Opera-House on Tauraday Evening.

Last evening a dramatic company appeared in the opera house in the play of "Falsely Accused." The audience did not number one hundred people. The person advertised as the star is Miss Louise Carson, who appeared in the character of Madge, which is something like M liss. Miss Carson is a handsome, well shaped woman, but not much of an sotress, she seems to possess little knowledge of the character she assumes. Her principal support was Jos. T. Fannin, an actor well known to Lancaster people, who did very well as Jack Sacage. George C. Wood as Rigatelle, the Italian, made an excellent villain, and the remainder of the support was fair. The piece is higly sensational, but it seemed to give satisfaction to the and ence and the applause was plenty. Lancaster was the second town in which the show has appeared, and it is likely they will work better together in a short time. The manager did not seem to be discouraged at the size of the audience, and he stated that he could afford to sink some money at first. He seems to have meant what he said, as he had two very large backets of flowers sent up to two of the ladies, while they were performing. THE NOPITAL TIE.

The Marriage of a Lancastrian in Downing-Last evening Samuel W. Altick, of this city, was united in marriage to Miss Mary D Walker, daughter of the late Charles Walker, of Downingtown. The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's took place at the residence of the bride's mother, in Downingtown, and it was performed by Rev. Dr. McCullagh, of St. Mary's church, this city. The "best man" was Mr. John S. Rengier and Miss Kate Altick, sister of the groom, was the bridesmaid. After the ceremony a reception was held and an elegant supper was partaken of. The presents were numerous and costly. The newly married couple left on a late train on a trip to Watkin's Glen, Niagara Falis and other places of interest. Quite a number of people from this city, including relatives and near friends of Mr. Altick, attended the wedding. They left this city on the day express and returned on the western express, arrangements having been made for both trains to The lawn was beautifully illuminated with brilliant lights of all kinds. Chinese lanterns hung from the balconies, the whole place presenting a fairy scene. The interior of the building was tastefully

About 11 o'clock Thursday night flames were discovered issuing from the barn of Benjamin Smoke, residing about onefourth of a mile south of Smithville, Paradise township, and before they could be extinguished, the barn was totally con-sumed. The crops of bay and straw and a fodder cutter and wagon were also destroyed. Sparks were blown as far as Smithville and water had to be thrown on several of the roofs of the houses in that village to prevent conflagrations. The fire believed to be of incendiary origin. There is an insurance on the building which will probably cover the lose,

A Flor opening supper. Yesterday Mr. Henry Doerr, the new proprietor of Mænnerchor hotel, reopened the restaurant in connection with the house. Last evening Mr. Doerr gave a supper to a large number of invited guests in honor of the event. It was a very fine affair and a prettier table than the one set by Mr. Doerr's caterer is seldom seen any where. It was loaded with all kinds of good things and those present had an excellent time. Police Cases. Alderman Samson committed John Curran to jail for five days for drunken and disorderly conduct.

The mayor disposed of two cases this morning. They were lodgers and were discharged.

George Washington Smith, an old offender, was committed to prison for ten days, this morning, by Alderman Barr.

False Pretense and Conspiracy. This afternoon was the time appointed for the hearing of John E. Dennison on a charge of false pretence, and Dennison, Frank Albright, and Lewis Hull on a charge of conspiracy to defraud John Menizer, preferred before Alderman Barr. The conspiracy case against Hall was abandoned and he was discharged. The remaining cases were continued until next Friday at 11 o'clock, on account of counsel being engaged in court.

Another Blok to be btaited. Since roller skates have become the rage has been found that rinks have been making money. It is now certain that is to be located in Manuerchor hall in which an additional floor will be laid to prevent unnecessary noise. It is expected to be in operation in a week.

The boys of the high school expect to make their customary fall trip to Chiques to-morrow. Should the day be fair they will have a good time.
