Thinking Irishmen cannot dly forget that James G. Blaine state organ in Maine, the Kennebec riest on the streets of Ellsworth.

The whole record of the Republican andidate breathes an indifference to Irish interests that in some instance nounted to open scorn. In 1878 Blaine delivered an uncalled-for and bitter anti-Irish speech at Saratoga, New York, and it has been proved that ataved away from the funeral of a bolic relative for fear that he would charged with leanings towards that alth. He was the author of the inous Madigan circular in 1875, which arged the Democratic congressional sandidate, in the Fourth Maine district, with being a Jesuit, in order to stir up aligious hatred against him among stestant Democrats. As secretary of tate he allowed Irishmen to languish in British prisons untried, when one word from him would have forced the British government to give them the protection to which they were entitled as American citizens.

It is, indeed, most preposterous that Mr. Blaine should pose as an Irish the Baltimore Land League, Mr. Blaine, plained his absence. He perhaps did not country. wish to disturb the friendly relations existing between himself and Granville England's foreign secretary, which manifested itself in a deliberate snub given to Minister Lowell when making feeble inquiry concerning the Irish "suspects."

It has been charged, and the facts seem to bear it out, "that an understanding exists at the present time between Mr. Blaine and the English ministry by which the home influence of the ministers has been exerted to induce the English press to support Cleveland in order to injure him in the estimation of patriotic Irishmen in the country-The plan was to have these favorable British opinions cabled over here and copied by the Blaine papers." Certainly England could desire no more pusiliani mous head to the government than Blaine would be if past actions are at all indica tive of future conduct.

On the other hand no man can say that Cleveland ever uttered a word against Ireland or Irishmen. He is a broad guage statesman who has known no race or creed in his appointees. He is supported by Irishmen in New York of the stamp of ex-Senator Kernan, Rev. with the meretricious aid of journals of the "vast circulation and influence" like the Irish World.

A Fool by His Own Definition

In 1868, when Horatio Seymour, after the October elections appealed in person to the people, Mr. Blaine pretended to be even found courage to say that Mr. Saymour was making a fool of himself. In a speech at the Brooklyn academy of music he declared that "the candidate of the result of the state elections, is travelling through the country on ex press trains, at the rate of thirty miles an hour, with disheveled hair and wild companions, engaged in the hopeless task of reviving the impaired constitution of the Democratic party ;" adding that "one presidential candidate making a tool of himself at the rate of thirty miles an hour is snough, and General Grant, in the garb of a plain citizen, quietly awaits the verdict of the people in his modest home at

So, too, now one presidential candidate making a fool of himself at the rate of thirty miles an hour is enough, and Gov. Cleveland quietly awaits the verdict of the people in the state house at Albany.

But is it not notable that Mr. Blaine hould be the man making a fool of him self, according to his own definition of the deed? We cannot say that it is surprising, as well as notable, for incon sistency between word and deed is char acteristic of Blaine, and he cannot be relied upon to speak alike on any two successive occasions ; just because he is an unprincipled time server, who always nder the seeming exigency of the ment, unhampered by steady convic-

The spectacle of a presidential candi date in flight from an Indiana crowd, earing his boot upon the barbs of a wire fence in tumbling over it, is certainly apt to prompt the idea that the man is making a fool of himself rather than ent, and that it is significant of the trouble he is to have in the election Horatio Seymour was never so undigni-Sed as that, if he was beaten.

Defying Civil Service Kules. Section 13 of the civil service act of 1883 declares that " no officer or employe of the United States mentioned in this act shall discharge, or promote, or degrade, or in manner change the official rank or compensation of any other officer or employe, or promise or threaten to do so, for giving or withholding or neglecting to make any contribution of money or other valuable thing for any political purpose." Is anyone foolish enough to suppose that this act is not being violated in numberless cases during every day of Mr. Blaine's canvass? The political thumb screw has been brought to bear on government employes in every direc tion, and those who refuse to pay the assessments levied by the national highwaymen are put upon a black list to be kept for future reference. Of course the contributions are "voluntary," just as the man, who, when overtaken by a highwayman at night with pistol in hand, gives up his property of his own accord.

Where persuasive powers are not effective the Republican managers in their straits hesitate not to make threats. nal, which extenuated the outrage The government clerks in Washington are at the present time the joyous possessors of circulars coming from the Indiana Republican state committee, which conclude with the following cheerful reminder: "A list of the names and amounts given by each person will be carefully made, and the same reported to the national committee, and a list will also be made of all persons in office who do not contribute."

And this is done under the sanction of the Republican candidate. Blaine must be beaten.

THE CHURCH OF GOD.

EAST PENNSYLVANIA ELDERSHIP. a New Canaldate for Ministerial Honorswere made by members of the House of Special Services on Sunday -- An Address by hirs, Elberson.

Saturday Afternoon-The afternoon was opened with singing and prayer, conducted by Rev. W. J. D. Edwards. On motion the calling of the roll was dispensed with.

The committee on journals reported and upon motion the report was considered item by item.

On motion, Rev. C. H. Forney, D. D., was requested to publish his sermon preached before the eldership on Wedneslay evening, Oct. 22, 1884.

On motion, a committee of five was appointed, consisting of J. H. Redsecker, D. W. Spencer, J. Frazer, D. M. Bare, and S. Knisley, whose duty it shall be to inquire into the claims of Brother Shimmel, and report at this eldership.

On motion, the regular order of business was suspended to hear the report of the committee on ticense, which was as fol-We, your committee on license, beg leave to report that Mr. M. M. Foose appeared before the committee on license and passed a high and creditable examination, and we, your committee, would recommend him for a license to preach the gospel.

B. F. Brck, C. C. BARTELLS, J. F. FLEEGAL.

On motion, the report was adopted and it was ordered that the ordination services be performed this evening at 7 o'clock. On motion the committee on resolutions made report. It was further agreed that tem first of this report be considered.

This item is as follows : WHEREAS, after a short trial of the ystem as we now have it, taking out the imit of the appointment, it is our opinion that it virtually destroys the itinerant sys em and takes away the right of ap pointment from the eldership and places it nto the hands of the preachers and churches, therefore

Resolved, That we restore our former three years' limit, with such provisions as may meet certain exigencies as may approved by the eldership.
Item 2. Whereas, The trafficking in unnecessary articles, such as ice cream water-melons, candies, peanuts and tobacco, on the Lord's day, at Landisville campmeet ing, has become a reproach to the Church of God, and has wounded the consciences of the brethrer and sisters attending that meeting. And whereas, such trafflicking is a violation of the laws of God and man. Therefore, Resolved, That any campmeeting within the bounds of this eldership that shall hereafter allow such trafficking on or near the camp ground, shall be considered guilty of a misdemeanor, and the brethren having charge of such campmeeting shall be held amenable to this body.

A motion was made to lay item No. 2 on the table, which motion was carried. The committee appointed to investigate the claims of Mr. Shimmel, reported. Upon motion the eldership adjourned until 7 o'clock p. m., when in connection with the regular services, ordination ser vices will be held. Saturday Evening-The time having arrived for the opening of the ordination services, Rev. B. F. Beck announced a hymn which was sung by the congregation. Following this, in the absence of the speaker, Rev. B. F. Beck, of Mount Joy, elivered an eloquent and very impressive address. His remarks were principally to the caudidate for ordination, Mr. M. M. Foose, of Mechanicsburg, The following questions were then addressed to the candidate, who answered them in the affirmative in a clear and loud directed

1. Do you believe that the fundamental octrines of the word of God, as taught by the eldership, are substantially correct and true? 2 Do you believe that in seeking the office of the Christian ministry you are affuenced by a sincers love to God, your Saviour, and that your desire to promote His glory in the salvation of men?

8. Do you promise faithfully and zealously to preach the truths of the Gospel of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ as contained in the Holy Scriptures? 4. Do you promise by the aid of God faithfully to co operate with the eldership. and to carry out and obey all the rules and regulations made by the eldership, not at variance with the Word of God? These questions having been answered in the affirmative, Rev. B. F. Beck, in an appropriate address, conferred upon the and authority of ministers of the Gospel, and received him into the communion and fellowship of the ministry of the church, by giving himthe right hand of fellowship, in the name and by the authority of the dership. Following the address and ordination, the eldership united in devout and earnest prayer in behalf of the licentiate, led in prayer by Rev. J. M. Carvell, of Ship-

After the closing of the ordination services, the regular preaching services were opened with singing a very beautiful anthem, rendered by the choir in most excellent manner, Singing by congregation, prayer by Rev. P. Stanton, colored, and the reading of a portion of the scriptures by Rev. F.

L. Nicodemus.

Rev. G. W. Seilhamer then introduced
Rev. W. P. Winbigler, of Uniontown, Md., who preached a good sermon from Revelation iii. 8.

He spoke first of the objectionable char acter of the church at Laodicea—their lukewarmness, and then said that great reform was necessary in the churches of our day and generation, because many o them had become lukewarm and were in danger of being spewed out of the mouth of the Almighty. Many professors of highly necessary that all men go and "Get riches of God tried in the fire." The ermon was very practical.

Sunday Morning—A general experience meeting was held in the basement of the Bethel, conducted by D. W. Spencer. Many testified to the saving power of The regular preaching services opened with singing and prayer, and the reading of a portion of the scriptures.

Before the regular collection was lifted, Master —— Martin, of Lancaster, addressed the school; subject, "Little Biddle Red-wing's Contribution."

The collection was then lifted and a handsome amount realized. A number of questions referred to dif-ferent members were then answered.

Singing—"Our Glad Hosanna." Dialogue—"The Little Pilgrim," by number of the members of the school, was rendered most admirably. The pilgrim, approaching a gate, found inscribed upon it, "Kucck, and it shall be opened unto you."

After this was rendered the dexology was sung, and benediction pronounced by Rev. A. H. Long.

At the close of the Sunday school, the Woman's Christian's Temperance Union, held a general prayer meeting which was opened with singing, "I Need Thee Every Hour." The meeting was conducted by Rev. F. L. Bardens who read a selection from the scriptures and offered fervent prayer, with special reference to the temperance cause.

Singing, "Rock of Ages."
Rev. G. W. Seilhamer then introduced Mrs. A. Elbersen, of Rawson, Ohio, a lady of considerable reputation as a public speaker. The lady spoke at considerable length but was fluent in speech, and the address was entertaining and instructive throughout, therefore attentively listened

Sunday evening.—The religious services at the Union Bethel opened at 7:30 p. m. After singing, prayer and the reading of a portion of the scriptures, Rev. B. F. Beck, of Mt. Joy, preached an excellent sermon, highly appreciated. He was followed by Rev. C. Price, of Harrisburg, in a stirring exhortation.

Menday Morning-After a half hour's evotional services conducted by Rev. O H. Betts, the eldership was called to order by the same. The roll of members was called and the absentees noted. The jour nal of Saturday's proceedings was read by the clerk, corrected and adopted.

Rev. J. B. Lookwood was granted f absence to attend a funeral. On motion it was agreed to hold a mis mionary meeting in the Bethel this evening at 7:30 p. m., and that the com mittee on arrangements make the ecessary preparations for said meeting.

The following resolution was offered by Rev. C. H. Forney, and adopted :
Resolved, That the validity of the ordi nation ceremony does not depend upon its performance by the speaker of the ship, but is equally valid if performed by another duly ordained minister who may be appointed for said purpose. On motion, the eldership proceeded to elect a judiciary committee, and the result announced was as follows : Revs. C. Forney, C. Price, D. M. Bare, J. H. Redsecker.

SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE.

Services in the Local Synarogue in Honor of the Great Hebrew Philanth ropist. There was an interesting ceremony Sunday evening in the Jewish synagogue, on Drunge street, in honor of the one hunfredth birthday of Sir Moses Monteflore, the great Hebrew philanthropist. Every seat was occupied, Jew and Christian alike rist of the century.

The synagogue was prettily decorated with flowers and evergreen. Above the pulpit arch was a life-sized bust of Sir Moses, framed in evergreen. The altar was graced with beautiful bouquets and the pillars supporting the pulpit chande iers were wreathed in greens and flowers. Following is the programme of the service :

being desirous of doing reverence to the purest and most distinguished philanthro-

Preinde by organ, and vocal music.

Moses, by the Rabb!, Rev. Morris Ungerield-Duet and chorus-" Blest is the Man Who Fears the Lord."
Closing prayer by the Rabbi.
Hallelujah chorus, wite solos and duet.
Benediction by the Rabbi.

The services throughout were of a very interesting character. The music under the lead of Mrs Luckenbach was unusually fine. The oration by Rev. Ungerleider, that their expectations shall be fully noble man, concluding with apposite appeal realized, for he preaches only one kind of to his hearers to emulate the manly sermons, good. He based his remarks on virtues of the great humanitarian in whose bonor they were assembled.

During the service Rev. Ungerleider called attention to the fact that there was now in the holy ark of the synagogue a Torah, or copy of the five books of Moses, written on parchment, which had been specially blessed by Sir Moses Monteflore when he was in the city of Posen, Prussia while he was on his way to the Holy Land in 1846. The Torah was at that time in possession of the great grandfather of our fellow citizen Philip Bernard, and descended in succession to his grandfather, his father and himself, and will in turn descend to his oldest son. The manuscript is 150 years old.

The celebration of the centenary of Sir for his conviction Moses Monteflore was continued on Sun day in various cities of the United States. Telegrams received report special cel tions in the synagogues of New York, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Washington, Wilkesbarre, Richmond and Petersburg, Va., Memphis, Tenn., and other cities.

THE QUARTER SESSIONS.

ADJOURNED OCTOBER TERM BEGINS. Sixty-five Cases Down for Trial-A Tramp

Acquitted of Unlesen Steading Gels a Three Years' Sentence. An adjourned court of quarter sessions commenced this morning at 10 o'clock with Judge Patterson presiding. There are on the list for trial 65 cases, the most important of which are commonwealth vs. Winfield and George Smith, murder; William Wilson, et al., murder; John P. Frank, et al., conspirace; A. E. Savarian. Frank, et al., conspiracy; A. K. Spurrier, Andrew Eicholtz and B. F. Lemon, false

PLEA OF GUILTY. Thes. Wood, one of the surplus population, pleaded guilty to feloniously entering the dwelling house of Robert Trimble, of Drumore township, and stealing a number of articles. The entrance was effected on the evening of August 16. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $101 and undergo an imprisonment of one year and six months in the county prison.

A SEVENTH WARD CASE. Henry Williams, colored, was indicted for malicious muschief. The testimony on the part of the commonwealth was that the defendant went to the house of Phoebe Aston, on Low street, this city, on the evening of May 21, and asked permission to stay all night. He was told he could sleep on the lounge. This did not appear to satisfy him and he wanted to go up stairs where there was a colored woman sleeping named Johnson. Phoebe's husband objected and he was compelled to eject Williams. After he was put out it is claimed he maliciously broke the lock of the gate and kicked in the door. The defendant denied having maliciously broken the gate, look and door, and claimed that they were accidentally t in the scuffle when he was ejected from

The jury after a few minutes deliberation rendered a verdict of guilty. He was sentenced to undergo an imprisonment of six months.

ACQUITTED OF CHICKEN STEALING,
John Opp was charged with the larceny of eight chickens, the property of Peter Burkholder, residing near Lititz. The prosecutor missed chickens on a number of occasions and on the third of July when the eight chickens were taken they tracked the stolen chickens by the feathers strewn along the road to Miller's woods, where Opp with a number of tramps were enamped. Opp was taken into custody but his companions escaped. The defendant denied ever having been on Burkholder's premises and that he ever stole any of his hickens. The jury rendered a verdict of not guilty. A LONG SENTENCE. On a charge of being a tramp, of which he was convicted on August 20, Opp was sentenced to undergo an imprisonment of three years, to date from August

AN ASSAULT AND BATTERY CASE. Frank Kreider, of Quarryville, was inlieted for committing an assault tery on David Marciowycz, at Quarryville on the 18th of May. The prosecutor testified that he was struck, choked and knocked down by the defendant without having given any provocation. The prosecutor's testimony was corroborated by that of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Curley. The defense was that Marciowycz was making a great noise on the morning of May 18, and Kreider told him he would have to stop the noise. Marciowycz made a lemonstration as if to strike Kreider, and that gentlemen merely pushed him away. Kreider denied having struck the prosecutor. On trial. CURRENT BUSINESS A petition from 51 citizens of Falmouth, Conoy township, was presented to the court. It set forth that the school house in that village is unsafe for pupils to attend, that when the attention of one of the directors was called to the unsafe condition of the building he replied, "that if the building fell down and killed one half of the scholars, there was still enough left quiring the directors of Conoy township, to show cause why they should not erect a school house at Falmouth, or have their seats declared vacant. The citation is made returnable on the third Monday in November. David L. Stoner, of Manheim township, was appointed guardian of the minor daughter of John B. Wechter, deceased, late of Manheim township.

The court this morning issued an order to the prothocotary directing him to issue a precept to the jury commissioners and sheriff to select 1,400 names from the several districts of the county for jury duty during 1885.

PERTINENT INQUIRIES.

I'wo Conundroms Addressed to the Society Editor of a Metropolitan Paper.

Society Item in Philadelphia Press. A young gentleman, who hads from Lancaster and rejoices in the Christian name of "Ira," sends the following conun-drums on a post card: "What is the most fashionable party and ball dress for gentle men, and how should a society man (underscored) appear at the searing the Adds: 'These are not the inquiries of the adds: 'These are not the inquiries to be all right on little matters of mere taste in

It is difficult to reply to Ira without knowing something of his circumstances. inclinations and complexion. Pea-green silk might make him an excellent ball iress, but he could hardly wear color as a "society man" at a skating rink. As to Ira's appearance on the treacherous, out fascinating roller skates, that again is a matter of conjecture. Many people sit down a good deal at first, and one or two crawl around a little on their knee caps; but that is a matter of taste. However, it s perhaps injudicious to advise Ira not wear his long-tail coat at the rink, as it might disguise accidents; and yet, an arrangement of deep brown made tunk fashion, with knickerbockers and edged with sealskin, would certainly look very Russian. In any case, Ira may safely hold council with his tailor, provided his bill is paid, and in a general way he will flud himself correctly attired.

A Store Uracked. On Saturday night thieves made a big haul at Hershey's store, in the village of Chesnut Level, Drumore township. They pryed open a shutter in the rear of the building and stole over $150 worth of goods, such as clothing, boots and shoes, silk handkerchiefs, &c. There is no clue as yet to the thieves who were, however, traced some distance.

The articles taken were: Five pairs of boots, five boxes of womens shoes, twelve dollars worth of pocket knives, a lot of razors, about eighteen dollars worth of fine haudkerchiefs, pocketbooks, &c., &c. The thieves were two in number and en The thieves were two in number and entered the store through a window from the adjoining house. One of the parties is well known and called himself "Go Mount."
