that the dates on the bills presented by Justice Frank and Constable Struck, for costs in these 37 cases do not correspond with the dates on the commitments filed at the office of the county prison.

Aldermae Fordney testified that Justice Frank admitted at the hearing of this case before him that he had given parties whisky and tobacco at his office.

Clerk of Quarter Sessions Eaby testified that Struck was the elected constable of the Third ward and he had issued a commission to him in 1883

County solicitor testified that the bills of Frank and Struck for December 1883 were presented to him and he declined to approve them. The bill of Frank's were shown witness and he admitted that the several items charged were in accordance with the fee bill governing Lancaster county.

On trial when court adjourned.

THE REPUBLICANS.

Bad Weather Stops Their Parade — Their Campaign Speakers Still at Work.

Yesterday, after a consultation between Lew Hartman, Capt. Edgerly, Sheriff High, Josh Lyte, Ad. Reinoehl, "Pica-yune" Johnson, "Butch" Miller, and some other prominent politicians in front of Hartman's cigar store, it was decided to postpone the parade until next Friday evening, on account of the threatening appearance of the weather. As soon as the announcement was made it spread around the town and the beautiful writer of the New Era got his work in on the bulletin board. Word was sent to all clubs within reach by telegraph that they should not come. The news did not travel as fast in the country as in town, however, and by nightfall quite a number of country statesmen were in town. Some carried torches and others were togged out in bright red shirts which, with their decorations, looked like maps. They wandered around town cursing Capt Edgerly for some hours, and then returned home with threats that they would not again be fooled to town. The Reamstown band was the only musical organization which was fooled, and they soon returned to their homes. Extensive preparations will be made to make the parade a success on Friday evening, but it will not be as large as it would have been last night.

STILL CAVORTING AROUND

The Republican speakers continue to harass the citizens of this county. The newspapers last evening contained an account of an "enthusiastic meeting at Kirkwood," where those in attendance were furnished with sandwiches and coffee. The president of the meeting was James Collier, who occupies the chair at every Republican meeting held in the lower end. The speakers were Mr. Collins and W. F. Beyer, esq It was a big enough job to listen to the last named gentleman, but if they remained to hear Collins the attraction must have been stronger than "sandwiches and coffee." As the campaign progresses new orators are gradually being developed. Al Shenk is heavily billed just now, but little has been heard of his speeches. This evening he and Ray Brown will talk at Florin and Maj. Reinoehl will tell some of his very "funny" stories. Among the list of new speakers is Ira Kline, esq, a young law student. His name does not appear on the bills, but he is a ready and willing substitute for those who "have to be in court," and is said to be making a hit. He has a stereotyped speech which he gets off everywhere, and it commences like this: "Now the Green serpent coils itself around the feet of the Goddess of liberty." After that the audience is prepared for anything. Mr. Kline is the first orator who has seen the serpent this year, as far as can be learned, but most of the others have been speaking around country hotels, where the serpent is most likely to be seen, for years.

Commodore John A. Hiestand is billed as one of the speakers at the Lititz meeting on Saturday, and thousands should be drawn by the mere announcement of the new congressman's appearance on the rostrum.

Marriage Bells.

Tuesday evening Mr. B. J. Kress was married to Miss Kate Kempter. The ceremony took place in St. Joseph's church at 5:30, and it was performed by Rev. Father Grotemeyer. The bridesmaids were Misses Millie Diehl, of this city, and Mamie Hartbrecht, a cousin of the groom, of Washington, D. C. Edward J. Kress and J. J. Buehler, of this city, were the groomsmen. The newly wedded couple held a reception at the residence of the groom's parents, 453 West King street, after the ceremony, which the relatives and friends attended and partook of an elegant supper. The party broke up at a reasonable hour with the best of wishes for the bride and groom.

The Muhlenberg Wedding at Reading.

Tuesday afternoon, in Trinity Lutheran church, Reading, Dr. W. F. Muhlenberg, was married to Miss Augusta Muhlenberg. The ceremony was performed by Dr. F. A. Muhlenberg, of the University of Pennsylvania, assisted by Rev. Dr. Fry. The bridesmaids were Miss Blanche Stevens, of Princeton; Miss Millie Bohannon, of Philadelphia; Miss Carrie Tillinghast, of Albany, and Miss Kate Muhlenberg. The church was gaily decorated and the music superb. An elegant reception followed at the residence of the bride's parents. Guests were present from Lancaster, Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Wilmington and other points. The bride wore white brocaded satin and the bridesmaids white silks, with short white veils, and carried baskets of flowers. Those present from this city were—the Misses Muhlenberg, daughters of the late Henry E. Muhlenberg, and Dr. John K. Messersmith and daughter.

Writs of Habeas Corpus.

William Maynard, one of the men arrested at Pontz's brickyard, yesterday, by Officer Speece, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, was taken before Judge Livingston on a writ of habeas corpus this afternoon, and discharged from custody. The testimony of the officer failed to establish that he was disorderly

William Bowers, a boy committed by Justice Heath, of Marietta, for 20 days for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, and for trial at court to answer a charge of carrying concealed deadly weapons, was also before Judge Livingston on a writ of habeas corpus this afternoon. He was remanded to prison.

Base Ball.

The deciding game of base ball between the Dauntless and Christiana clubs for the championship of Lancaster county, which was to have been played yesterday, has been postponed until Friday next. The manager of the Dauntless club and a number of players were in town although it was well known that the grounds were not in fit condition. Manager Charles Mason, of the Athletic club, was here to umpire the game and he returned to Philadelphia at 5:18. He will be here again on Friday.

Sewer Caved In.

This afternoon the new sewer on North Queen street, above Walnut, caved in just as a large wagon, loaded with stone, belonging to J. F Stauffer was being driven across it. It was some time before the wagon could be unloaded and removed. It was damaged slightly.

COLUMBIA NEWS ITEMS.

FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT

The Chief Burgess Instructed to Collect the Dog Tax—Several Boatmen on a Spree —Notes of the Borough.

Geo. Ferris,—Bear, a negro, and a half dozen other canal boatmen, on Monday night laid in wait for Geo. Seltzer, another boatman. For some reason or other matters would have gone bad with Seltzer had he been caught, but luckily he was not, and on Tuesday he sued his persecutors for being drunk and disorderly and surety of the peace. Ferris sued Seltzer for surety of the peace, but as the latter two cases were so complicated they were discharged but 'Squire Evans compelled Ferris and his followers to pay costs for being drunk and disorderly.

As Silas Klem, manager of the Columbia rink, refused to appear against the boot black who stole a pair of skates at the rink on Monday night, he was discharged from custody.

Chief Burgess Irwin was instructed by council to collect the penalty of $5 from all persons who had not had registered their dogs, on or before July. There were 137 persons who had, while over 200 had not. Suits were entered against them, but in only 29 cases could it be proven that those sued owned or harbored dogs, and judgment was given against those who owned but had not met with the requirements of the dog ordinance.

The Maytown band serenaded several Columbians last evening.

Company Z paraded last evening, and their fine appearance was warmly applauded by its Democratic friends. Other Republican clubs in Columbia, have good cause for being jealous of them.

To-morrow evening the Democrats of Columbia headed by the Columbia cornet band, will have a parade. Every Democrat, young and old, should assemble at Schuyler hall, at 7 p. m sharp, so the turnout will do credit to their party. Those not equipped will be provided with torches at the hall

The regular Democratic meeting will be held in Schuyler hall this evening; a full attendance is requested.

BURLINGTON MUSIC SCHOOL.

MUSIC HALL, BURLINGTON, IOWA, Nov. 3, 1883. Messrs. Kranich & Bach:

GENTLEMEN: The piano recently purchased from you for my recitals, is so exceptionally fine that I feel constrained to give this, my first testimonial in favor of any particular instrument. Its highest tones are clear and brilliant, and the middle register is well and pleasingly toned, while the bass is rich and powerful, without the coarse pulsative tones so common to most piano fortes. Added to these rare qualities, your instruments have a bright responsive touch and a finish to all the mechanical details. With sincere congratulations,

I am your obedient servant, A. J. GOODRICH, Prof. of Music.

The Kranich & Bach piano is the favorite at the Sacred Heart Academy, where several of them are in constant daily use, besides a number in private parlors in this city.

A SACRED PROFESSION

DRAGGED INTO REPUBLICAN MUD

Ministers of Various Denominations Gather in New York to Eulogize Blaine and Assail Cleveland.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—This morning the gentlemen's parlor of the Fifth Avenue hotel was filled with clergymen of various denominations gathered to pay their respects to Blaine. Rev. Dr. King, of the Eighteenth Street Methodist church, called the assemblage to order. Rev. Dr Burchard, of Murray Hill Presbyterian church, was chosen chairman, and Rev. Dr. McArthur secretary. Rev. Dr. King presented resolutions, condemning Cleveland and applauding Blaine and the Republican party.

The ministers then went down stairs to the corridor. Shortly afterwards Blaine descended the stairway leaning on the arm of Rev. Dr. King, while Levi P. Morton, Walker Blaine, Mrs. Blaine and her daughter were on the landing above. Blaine paused on the fourth or fifth stair, when he was addressed by Dr. Burchard. The address expressed confidence in Blaine and pledged him the support of the ministers assembled.

RUM, ROMANISM AND REBELLION.

Dr. Burchard concluded: "We don't propose to identify ourselves with the party whose antecedents have been "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion." We are loyal to our flag. We are loyal to you."

Blaine then spoke of the influence of the church and reviewed the history and works of the Republican party from which he said it could never be separated. The tariff, he said, has now come to the fore front as an issue, and there is still another issue. No nation can grow as powerful as the United States without continually enlarging its relations with other nations.

[The agents of the associated press have furnished a most bitter Republican campaign document to its subscribers today. Its foulest feature, Dr. Burchard's remark concerning "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion" we reprint to show how far the desperate Republican party is willing to go in dragging a sacred profession into the mud for its own purposes.—EDS. INTELLIGENCER.]

Elections in Germany.
