AN INCIDENT OF BLAIRE'S CIRCUS true Facts to Retutation of the Untruthful Story about Staine Bring Howled

Hown to Fort Wayne, Ind. HUNTINGTON, Ind , Oct. 27, 1884. EDITORS INTELLIGENCER-The report in your paper of Blaine's circus at Fort Wayne, this state, has been greatly misrep-resented. I was an eye witness and within close proximity to where he was, and I have this to say that are facts and the truth, for I made inquiry so that I would not be deceived in regard to the reception. The Demogratic county committee, and the Republican county committee had met together and decided upon the line of march of each party so that they would not conflict or come together, and had it so arranged that the Blaine circus, (as they call it out here), was to go to Library hall and speak from there, as they had all arrangements made to that effect. The Democrats had erected a platform at the court hease for their speakers and did speak there, as I was present, and heard the speeches. But the Republicans could not stand the large gathering of Democrats that were present. The crowd numbered 15,000, and the managers got up the cir ous and tried to disturb our meeting, getting Blaine up on the piazza of the Avaline house to address a Democratic gathering. They would not tolerate it and cheer after cheer went up for Cleveland and Hendricks, The marshals of the Republican party tried to break our ranks to get there first, but the Democratic boys would not permit it; we stood our ground against the in-truders and held the Democratic fort, the same as we will on November 4th. These are the facts, for I saw them. Bisine left in disgust and went where he should have gone at first, but as to taking the crowd with him, I could not tell whether he had left at all, as the people remained to hear Hon. Durbin Ward, of Ohio, who gave them a grand, ringing speech for the Democrats and Cleveland and Hendricks, and stated that they were hard at work to over come the United States marshals and buil dog pistols. In the evening at Fort Wayne the Democrats had a grand toroblight parade and I took special pains to see both the Democrat and Republican, and the Demoerats outnumbered them five to one, as I timed the processions. At 8:30 o'clock, the Republicans telegraphed for "God's sake, send us some men from Lima and Toledo to help swell the ranks," and I was at the depot when they came in from both places—about 100 negroes from Lima and the same number from Toledo. I was anxious to see all I could, and the foregoing is a true statement of facts. The Repub licans tried again in the evening to break our ranks, but our boys were all ready and would not permit them to do so. The Republicans of Fort Wayne were perfectly

It is no doubt true that farming does not pay certain men who follow it as a reg-in the place of nature, and were asked to bestow a bounteous return on the efforts of some of the lazy, shittless fellows often found "skinning the land," we should object a great deal more than ever nature does. But, again, farming will not always pay even with good men at the plow, nor will any other business result to all alike, though they apparently strive very hard. Hundreds of people, though they may be regarded as sleady and energetic, are constantly going into various branches of business only to fail; and that farmers as good as can be produced should also sometimes fail is only following out the common way of things. Careful calculamen who cultivate the land, and of those who go into commercial pursuits, and it has been found that the number who succeed are infinitely greater in the case of agriculture than in commerce. It is true, however, that the very few who become millionaires in mercantile life are not paralleled in farm as much from agriculture as the score of Not nearly as many as ought to do so regard it as their business for life, from which they can gain not merely a livelihood, but a surplus to lay up for an adequate support when old age shall come upon them. Many look upon it as a sort of real estate investment, which they hope proving their farms to an extent which will return them four fold the outlay. The fact is, whatever the speculating farm may do, there is everything to gain by steadily, year after year, making the land and the buildings a little better than they were the year before. It not only inspires his place, but it insures a marked degree their non success—that is the negligent way in which their accounts are kept.

They have very poor business rules, or next to none at all, and hence know very little from time to time how their profit and loss stands. Now, in nearly every other pursuit a regular set of accounts is ar-ranged, so that at all times people are prepared to show exactly how their busi ness is going on, and whether they are gaining or losing. They are perfectly acquainted with the receipts and expendi small hillock of soil around the stems sufficient to throw off the water, and thus preventing it from settling about and saturating the roots. We have known young trees to be killed by constant immersion in water through most of the winter, and more frequently known them to be stunted, from which many of them never entirely recover. On the other hand, in summer these trees should have the soil slightly bowled out around the stems, in order that they may have a more abundant supply of water than they should otherwise receive. If we expect to be successful in fruit growing, we must, as in most other products of the earth,

While some dairy farmers, who have been using ensilage for several years, continue to believe strongly in its value, others qualify their opinions, but still believe that its use, after the methods generally adopted, is to be preferred to the old system of feeding, especially with mileh cows. There are a few others, however, who, after preparing and feeding ensilage long enough to decide its value according to their own judgment, have abandoned it.
