LOCAL POLITICS.

Republican Parado This Evening-I hast night the usual crowd of disappointed Republicans from the country were in town. Although the parade was postponed word was not sent to the country, and quite a number came in wearing all kinds of suits, the most prominent color of which was red. They were again compelled to leave mad. The only attempt at parading was made by a band of Republican boys, between 12 and 18 years of age, who call themselves the "Kasoos." They marched around the city, making a terrible noise with a fearful instrument called the kazoo. They out all kinds of silly capers, and so disgusted the citisens that it would be well if they were left out of the parade to night. The officers of the brilliant organization are Masters Philip Heitshue, Howard Hayes and several other youngsters. eral other youngsters.

This evening the parade of the party will take place. The men of military titles have become very angry and they are determined to show off, rain or shine, and such veterans as Frank Shroder, who and such veterans as Frank Shroder, who signs his name to a call of the Central club, will be in line if it snows.

Beojamin Franklin Eshleman's name appears on the list of Republican speakers, who are sont out by Chairman Cooper to make speeches through the state. The country papers will, no doubt, be full of his utterances next week, as the "Col." is very accommodating and often furnishes the newspapers in advance with his the newspapers in advance with his speeches or writes them out himself afterwards, in order that they may appear more fully, and that justice may be done him. To-day the Democrats are holding a meeting at Quarryville and a big crowd is

This evening the H. L. Haldeman club, of Marietta, goes to Harrisburg to take part in a parade. They will be the guests of the Central club. The Putriot says of them: "This club, by the way, is one of the finest campaign clubs in the state. It was organized before the nomination of the presidential candidates, and made its first demonstration in ratifying that event. Since then it has been assiduous in drill and other duties, and on a recent visit to Lancaster carried off the prise. It will be accompanied by the Marietta band."

The funeral of Mr. G. W. Smith, late of Pittsburg, took place from the residence of his sister, Miss Susan Smith, 226 West Vine street, this morning at 10 o'clock. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. J. Max Hark, of the Moravian church, The body was placed in a very handsome coffin of cedar wood, and this was enclosed in a solid walnut rough box. Mr. Smith was buried in Langaster cemetery beside his mother, in accordance with his last expressed wish, although he owns a hand some cemetery lot and costly monument

SATURDAY EVENING, NOV. 1, 1884. BLAINE ON THE ROAD.

PREAMBULATING IN CONNECTICUT, Weak Quarter-Seemes and Incidents Along the Route.

NEW YORE, Nov. 1.—Blaine left here this morning for Hartford, Conn. From there he goes to New Haven, and on his return to New York will stop at Bridgeport and other places. Although last night's parade kept him up until 8 o'clock he was in his car some time before it left at 9 o'clock. Gen. Hawley boarded the train at Bridgeport.

At New Haven and Meriden a large crowd obsered the train. At Hartford cannon greeted Blaine's arrival. Blaine was driven to a stand in front of the court house, where several thousand people were waiting. The plumed knights and other clubs turned out in force. Blaine spoke of the marvelous industries of Connecticut built up under the influence of a protective tariff and said every trade was concerned in the present campaign. He inquired if the voters Connecticut, had stopped to reflect what would be the influence upon their state if there was such a change in the tariff as the Democratic party in Congress came within two votes of effecting last winter.

Ram Wrought to the Forest Ram wrought in the Forest,
How depressing it is to see acres of trees cut down in the midst of a noble forest. Howarddening it is also to see that thin spot in the midst of your otherwise a-oundant hair. Stop it at once by the use of Parker's Hair Balsam.
For actual efficiency the famous article stands at the head of its class. Siegant for the toliet delicious in odor, and restores the origins color to gray or isded hair. Economical, as a slight, occasional application keeps the hair and scalp in periect order.
