. The practical idea in successful manage-ment of tobacco is to keep up with the several changes that occur in the life of the plant, directing such treatment as may be required in the natural order, without officious interference, along the line of nature's efforts. Thus we find in the or help.

growth of the plant, a stage for planting for topping and for cutting. So also there is a stage when the plants should be taken from the poles. If taken down prema-turely, or left too long, the result will not be the same as when taken down at the proper time. It is not contended that the process of curing is like cooking an egg, but that it is a process and that there is a time when it should end. This time does Crop of 1881. CASES Pennsylvania.....1,300 For export 260 Crop of 1882. time when it should end. This time does not depend upon the moon, the lapse of aoy number of days nor the number of days nor the number of times the crop may go in and out of case. Here are a few points on which all intelligent growers agree : Tobacco should be made to care slowly. When tobacco is cured it is cured, and this is the 1,159 end of that. As soon as cured it should be taken down and stripped. Nothing but mischief can result if the leaf is left hang-ing after it is cured, to run further risk of the elements. When the leaf has acquired a uniformly dark, glosey color, and you can make no more impression 1,519 upon it with the means at hand you will find the stem cured clear up to the stalk. It is not necessary to go on and care the stalk, and at this stage the planter should commence taking down and stripping the crop-be it Spanish, Dutch, or seed leaf. Care should be exercised to take down tobacco in proper condition -neither too low nor too high in case. Little Dutch especially is extremely sensitive to moisture, and if too high when taken down is 1884
