In dairy stock, as in the breeds of mas, sheep and swine, popular opinion constantly changing. Forty years ago a Short Horned Durham began to be troduced, and were to be seen wherever a pure and taste of the farmer warranted of appearance. The price commanded be purse and taste of the farmer warranted heir appearance. The price commanded in choice animals was excessive; but as me passed other breeds, rega ded as pass in merit, began to be imported and supersede the short horned, though me people still adhere to this favorite to is day. The first rival herd introduced as the Dayon, which extend considerable. his day. The first rival her i introduce de ras the Devon, which gained considerable layer, and was preferred by numbers of road judges of cattle. Then came the Albany, better known as the Jersey, which oon became the favorite so far as rich silk, cream and golden butter were concerned, and it continues to be the pre-ferred of all others and to bring the highest prices by the great majority. With these we also have the Guernsey, Ayrshire, Hereford and Holstein, all excellent herds and all stead liv galuing headway in the United States The Guernesy, especially, is much ap proved and has many friends. The suc conful introduction of any herd as a permabesaful introduction of any herd as a perma-bent factor upon our farma, will depend upon the quality of the grades. It is here where they most benefit the general far mer, inasmuch as the first cost will be greatly reduced, the crosses quite frequently possessing as much merit as the pure herd. This was the great drawback with the Short Horns. whose grades were often in value below that of the original stock of the dam. On the whole, however, while the man with in his case, he looked up with astonishment; but after hearing of his wonderful effects in the cases of some of his near acquaintances, he at last consented to follow our advice. He used the Brandy faithfully and steadily; the first bottle giving him an appetite, and before the second was all takes he was a sound man, with a stomach capable of digesting anything which he choose to cat. He still keeps it and uses a fittle occasionally; and since he has this medicine, he has been of very little pecunitry benefit to the doctor.—A Practicing Physician.
