Pretty Laura Troubman Trice to Ringlate

A decided sensation was greated in Contraits on Sanday by the announcement of an elopement that is in some ways almost a pareilel to the notorious Morosini-Schelling affair. Laura Troutman is the pretty 15 year-old daughter of George Troutman, an extensive coal operator in that section. She some time since formed the acquaintance of J. J. Cook, a barber, who of late has been plying his trade in that town. As time passed the acquaintanceship developed into intimacy, which in turn ripened into affection by subsequent clandestine meetings. But few persons were aware of the intimacy existing between the pair, and such was the disparity in their social positions that none for a moment thought the barber would essay to win the girl.

On Saturday night, however the pair met by agreement and then proceeded to Ashland, where they were married by a well-known clergyman. They then took a north bound train on the Philadelphia & Reading railroad, since which time nothing has been heard of them. It is believed that Laura's parents were unsware of the intimacy of their daughter with the barber. She is a decidedly pretty girl and quite well educated. Cook is thirteen years her senior, and, although good looking, is possessed of characteris ties which fail to impress persons of ordinary tastes and refinement. He has been a pedestrian and a boxer, and is a roving genius, whose dashing air would captivate some girls. Laura's parents have made no effort to pursue and take her from her husband, and their sentiments in reference to the affair are unknown. It is supposed that the elopement was caused by the to the affair are unknown. It is supposed that the elopement was caused by the many sensational elopements recently in

Brandy as a Medicine.

The following article was voluntarily sent to Mr. H. E. SLAYMAKER, Agent for REIG-AETS OLD WINE STORE, by a prominent practicing physician of this county, who has practicing physician of this county, who has tensively used the Brandy referred to in his regular practice. It is commended to the at-tention of those afflicted with Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

BRANDY AS A MEDICINE.

This now much abused Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be used as a medicine of great potency in the cure of some of the destructive diseases which sweeps way their annual thousands of yietims. With a purely philanthropic motive, we present to the invorable notice of invalidates to the invorable notice of invalidates. Dypepepsia, a specific remedy, which is nothing more or less than

BRANDY. The aged, with feeble appetite, and more or less debility, will find this simple medicine, when used properly,

A Sovereign Remedy For all their ills and aches. Be it, however strictly understood that we prescribe and use but one article, and that is Reigart's Old Brandy.

Sold by our enterprising friend, H. E. SLAY MARER. This brandy has stood the test for years, and has never falled, as far as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the preference over all other Brandles—no matter with how many law-breaking French titles they are branded. One fourth of the money that is yearly thrown away on various impotent dyspepsia specifics, would suffice to buy all the Brandy to cure any such case or cases, in proof of the curative power of

Reigart's Old Brandy

in cases of Dyspepsia we can summon num-bers of witnesses—one case in particular we hard working farmer had been afflicted A hard working farmer had been afflicted with an exhausting Dyspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject almost every sind of food; he had sour cructations constantly—no appetite—in fact, he wasobliged to restrict his diet to crackers and state bread, and as a beverage he use. McGrann's Root Beer. He is a Methodist, and then, as now, presched at times, and in his discourses often declaimed earnestly against all kinds of strong dring. When advised to try

Reigart's Old Brandy

In his case, he looked up with astonishment; but after hearing of his wonderful effects in the cases of some of his near acquaintances, he at last consented to follow our advice. He used the Brandy faithfully and steadily; the first bottle giving him an appetite, an before the second was all taken he was a sound man, with a stomach capable of digesting anything which he choose to est. He still keeps it and uses a little occasionally; and since he has this medicine, he has been of very little pecuniary benefit to the doctor.—A Practicing Physician.
