OUR FOREIGN TRADE.

THE ILLUSTRATION BRAZIL GIVES

Great Britain the World's Workshop America Needs Foreign Markets-Her Share in International Trade. From Secretary McColloch's Report.

The all important question, therefore, that presses itself upon the public atten-tion is, how shall the country be relieved from the plethora of manufactured goods and how shall plethora hereafter be pre-vented? It is obvious that our power to produce is much in excess of the present or any probable future demand for home consumption. The existing iron, cotton, and woollen mills, if employed at their full capacity, could meet in six months-perhaps in a shorter time-the home demand for a year. It is certain, therefore, that unless markets now practically closed against us are opened; unless we can share in the trade which is monepolized by European nations, the depression now so severely felt will continue and may be-come more disastrous.

The business of the whole world has been revolutionized by steam power and the substitution of machinery for hard work. If not the inventor of the steam agine, Great Brown at lizing it in manufactures thus became the great workshop or world. For many years sho had a monop oly of manufacturing. The raw materials from nearly all nations were taken in her own ships to her own ports and returned in manufactured goods. It has been the profit of this combination of manufactures and commerce which has made her the richest and most powerful washington, Baltimore county, Md., Nov. 29, 1884.—To His Excellency Grover Cleveland, Governor of New York and President elect of the United States: We, the members of the senior class of Mount Agnes academy, hasten with joy to the members of the senior class of Mount Agnes academy, hasten with joy to the members of the senior class of Mount Agnes academy, hasten with joy to the members of the senior class of Mount Agnes academy, hasten with joy to the members of the senior class of Mount Agnes academy, hasten with joy to the members of the senior class of Mount Agnes academy, hasten with joy to the members of the senior class of Mount Agnes academy, hasten with joy to the members of the senior class of Mount Agnes academy, hasten with joy to the members of the senior class of Mount Agnes academy, hasten with joy to the members of the senior class of Mount Agnes academy, hasten with joy to the members of the senior class of Mount Agnes academy, hasten with joy to the members of the senior class of Mount Agnes academy, hasten with joy to the members of the senior class of Mount Agnes academy, hasten with joy to the members of the senior class of Mount Agnes academy, hasten with joy to the members of the senior class of Mount Agnes academy, hasten with joy to the members of the senior class of Mount Agnes academy, hasten with joy to the members of the senior class of Mount Agnes academy, hasten with joy to the members of the senior class of Mount Agnes academy, hasten with joy to the members of the senior class of Mount Agnes academy.

It is this great revolution caused by steam power and machinery and their general use that will make the labors of though school-girls only, and therefore ex-the commission so arduous. All the cluded in a measure from the bustle of leading nations of the world are now engaged in manufacturing, and all but Great Britain are fencing themselves in by protective duties. Among them the United States has been conspicuous. Has not the time come when a new departure is demanded? Cobden, one of the ablest and most farseeing of British statesmen predicted that the United States would in time not only become a great manufac turing country, but would become a competitor with Great Britain in the South Arrerican markets. In the course of some remarks upon the condition of

British trade he said : "Members of the House of Commons and others are constantly crying out that there is very great danger threatening this country from Russia, and they neglect to bserve that the great danger to the supremacy of the country is not in Russia, but in the competition of the United States of America."

WHAT THE COBDEN CLUB PEARS. The Cobden club is the channel through which the free trade sentiments of Great Britain find expression, and yet, at a recent meeting of the club, the following language by one of the prominent mem bers of Parliament was cheered and ap-duties in America would be to enable us to flood the United States with our productions. For a short time, probably, it would give a stimulus to our trade, but in the long run the offeat of it would be to cheapen American productions, and to increase the competition of America with us in other parts of the world. We should have to meet that competition. We spould find the Americans very serious competitors, and we should have in this country to throw aside many of the bonds which now fetter our industry."

The present condition of our foreign trade is not as fully understood by the public as it ought to be, or there would be greater uneasiness in regard to what may be the result. Look, for instance, at our trade relations with Brazil. We sold to Brazil last year various articles to the amount of $8,645,261. We bought of her various kinds of her own productions to the amount of $50,265,889, leaving $41,-620,628 as the balance against us. Now, how is this large balance liquidated? Not by gold, but by the sale of our farm pro-ducts, for which there is a large demand in Europe. It is our cotton, our wheat, our petroleum, our beef and pork, which can be produced more cheaply in the United States than anywhere else, which create the sterling exchange that enables us to carry on this one sided trade with Brazil. Now, if by the failure of our crops or very favorable seasons on the other side of the Atlantic, or what is more probable, by retaliation, our exports of these articles ould materially decline, what then would be the condition of Brazilian trade? Instead of depending upon the exports of Europe for the means to cover the balance in favor of Brazil, ought not an effort be made to equalize that trade by our manufactured goods? Ought we not to en-deavor to verify the prediction of Cobden by becoming a competitor with Great Britain in the Brazilian markets? Ought not this to be attempted in the interest of our own manufacturers?

OUR SOUTH AMERICAN NEIGHBORS. Reference is made to our trade with Brazil because it is much larger than that with other South American states, but our trade with all of them is of the same oneaided and unsatisfactory character. Ought it so to continue? The South American States are our neighbors. With the exception of Brazil, their institutions are moulded upon ours. They would be glad to establish close trade relations with us, which could not fail to be of mutual advantage; and yet so little intercourse have we with them that supplies for our shipsof-war in South American ports must be paid for in sterling exchange. Drafts on Japan could be as easily negotiated in their ports as drafts on the treasurer of the United States.

When the real condition of our foreign trade and the character of the competition in which we must sooner of later engage are fully understood, it will be found that our inability to make that trade as free as are fully understood, it will be as free as our inability to make that trade as free as our best interests require, lies in the necessity which exists for heavy import duties, which, although they may be described by must be in a large.

Fancy Goods,

Decorated China,

Ivory Ware,

Glassware, Lamps, &c.

It is upon such taxes, therefore, that our government must mainly rely for its large current expenditures and the reduction of the national debt. Large revenues will be derived from the taxes on whisky and tobacco, if the tax on the latter article should be retained, but our chief revenue must be derived from import duties. To show how these duties may be imposed and distributed as to neither imperil our manufactures nor obstruct our foreign trade, while the treasury is kept in easy condition, will be the task of the commission. That the task will be a very difficult one is certain; that it may be successfully performed is certain also.

In competition with Great Britain in the South American markets, Great Britain will have the advantage by being already in possession of the trade, but this advantage will doubtless be counterbalanced by the abundance and comparative cheapness of our agricultural productions. That we are to be a competitor with Great Britain in foreign markets, especially in the markets of the South American states, is as certain as anything in the future can be. The steps which may be needful to make this competition successful it will be for this competition successful it will be for Congress to determine after the commission has performed its duty. To me it seems certain that it cannot properly be done before. A nation with fifty-six millions of people, doubling every twenty five years, a people distinguished for enterprise and inventive power, in possession of a country of vast extent and rich beyond comparison in developed and undeveloped resources, ought not much longer be prevented from having a full share in the honor and gain of international trade."

CONGRATULATING OLEVELAND. Young Ladies of a Maryland Academy In-vite His Presence Commencement Day.

During the recent presidential contest the young ladies of Mount St. Agness academy, Mount Washington, Baltimore county, Md., were deeply interested in the result. Some favored Cleveland, while others championed Blaine, and strongly advocated his election in their own way among themselves during their leisure hours in the salon. It was agreed that the winning faction should be grauted permission by the Sisters of Mercy in charge of the institution to write the suc-From the Baltimore Sun.

Allife, the inmates of our academy, and es pecially we, the members of the senior department, have taken the deepest inter est in all matters regarding the late elec tion, and it was with emotions of delight that we learned its happy-thrice happy -result. And now that the brightest hopes of our girlhood have been realized, may we not crave a favor—the honor of seeing our long-wished-for president at the seventeenth annual commencement, which will take place on Wednesday, June 24, 1885. We cannot express the gratification it would give us to receive our graduating honors from the hands of our Democratic chief. Hoping that our request may not be denied, and again offering you our very best wishes for a pros perous administration, we are yours, affectionately and respectfully, Rose L.
