the Borough Drinking Water-Charltable Associations-Hogs Poisoned-Items about the Rattroad-Town Notes, The report that the impure water furnished to Columbians is causing a great deal of sickness in Columbia may or may not be true. Our physicians differ on this point. Some claim there is but little sicknessin the borough, and what there is is from different causes, but not attributable to the quality of water. Others say the impure water is the cause of much of the sickness now in Columbia. It is an undisputed fact that the water was impure some weeks ago, and it ap-pears to be of a good quality just now, The effects, however, when it was impure may now be just making its appearance.

If you have not purchased your ticket for the benefit, to be held in the Metropolitan rluk this evening for the Columbia relief association, do so at once, even though you cannot attend. It is for the poor of Columbia, and every citizen who can afford to do so should buy at least one ticket. The success of the affair is already assured, and those who attend this evening will enjoy themselves. A grand march at 8:30, and one of Strauss' finest selections by the Columbia band will be the leading attraction. The Seventh anniversary of the Women's Foreign Missionary society will be celebrated in the Columbia M. E. church Sunday evening. Exercises, which will be of a highly interesting character, will com-mence at 7 o'clock. Mr. W. U. Barr and Mrs. Wm. B. Given, will each render a vocal selection; the pestor, Rov. R. W. Humphriss, will deliver an address, while the officers' report will contain many points of interest. A committee, at the conclusion of the programme, will solicit names for membership, the price of which is ten cents per week.

POISONED HOUS. Two hogs owned by Edward Smith, a flagman on the P. R. R., and who resides on South Front street, died from the effects of poison, on Tuesday evening. Mr. Smith at first thought the animals had hog cholera, but as their symptoms did not substantiate this belief, upon an examination being made, poison was found in their stomachs. The villian who committed the deed is unknown.

BEFORE JUDGE LIVINGSTON. The suit of John Evans vs. A. F. Shenck was given to the jury this morning, and they had not agreed upon a verdict when court adjourned. The jury this afternoon rendered a ver diet in favor of plaintiff, and assessed the damages at $23.06.

The next case attached for trial was that of Benjamin F. Myers vs. John Eshleman. This was an action to recover on a me-chanic's lien. In the winter of 1882 the plaintiff built a house on East Walnut street for Eshleman, at a contract price of $2,497. He received on account from Mr. Eshleman $2 270.08, and for the difference between those amounts and $51.85, extra work, that the lien was filed. On trial. James Wood, Little Britain ; John D. Wilson, Fulton, and John C. Lowis, were appointed viewers to inspect an inter county bridge recently constructed on the Octoraro creek.

E. Franklin, it is proper that the records of this vestry should bear testi mony to his eminent worth as a man and a

In all the walks of life he was a worthy exemplar. Noted for sterling integrity in a secular profession which he followed for half a century ; for his affectionate devotion to his family, tempered with discretion in all things; for the fidelity with which he discharged the various public and private trusts confided to him ; and, above all, for his devotion to the cause of his Master and his church, his humble and firm faith in the Word or God and the means of grace as set forth in the Holy Scriptures and accepted by this church : all combined to realize the poet's ideal that a "Christian is the highest style

In tendering our condolence to the bereaved family we are not unmindful that even death has its compensation when the departing soul realizes that "vain is the help of man," as it confidingly trusts to the "One that is mighty" in crossing the dark river to enter into that "rest which remainsth to the people of God."

Mr. Long was born in this city, and after receiving an education in our local schools, entered the drug store of the late John F. Hoinitsh, where he received his first lessons in pharmacy. He after wards completed his studies in Philadelphia, and returning to Laborater commenced the business on his own account and continued it through his long and active life, being at the time he retimed, a year or two ago, one of the oldest if not the very oldest business man in Laucaster. He was appointed county treasurer 1841 and was afterwards nominated by the Whig party and elected to the same office, being the first county treasurer ever elected by popular vote.

He was a member of Trinity Lutherau church and served for several terms as a member of the vestry.

He was one of the charter member of Woodward Hill cemetery, and a director Mr. Long married Louisa, a daughter of the late Rev. John C. Baker. Their children are John C. and Charles E. Long, who succeeded their father in the drug business, and Jacob B. Long, broker, be-sides two daughters. His wife and children survive him.

For some time past Mr. Long was suffering from a complication of diseases, but the immediate cause of death was heart disease.

Ratirond Collision at Oxford. A freight train going north and a passer ger train going south, on the Philadelphia & Baltimore Central railroad, collided with great violence in the yard at Oxford, Wednesday morning. The freight train had backed into a siding to be passed by the passenger train, and left the switch wrong. The passenger train plunged into it, and struck the freight engine with such force that both engines were badly damaged. An Adams express car was wrecked and a baggage car considerably damaged. Conductor W. B. Taylor, of the passenger train, was thrown violently to the floor by the force of the collision, and sustained an abrasion of the right hand and arm. Baggagemaster Howard Taylor had his head badly cut by being knocked against the side of his car. All the passengers were severely shaken up, but escaped without serious injury. The accident without serious injury. The accident caused over an hour's delay, as extra engines had to be procured for both trains.

PROCESDINGS IN BOTH HOUSES, The Presentation of Vartous Bills and

Resolutions-Pennsylvanians Nominated for Federal Offices, WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 .- Among the bills WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Among the bills introduced to-day was one by Mitchell, granting a pension to Gen. Grant. Cameron (Pa.,) submitted a resolution which he desired to lie over and be printed, saying he would take early opportunity to call it up for consideration. The resolution recites the fact of our export trade being depressed and avers that American produce is languishing for want of a market that might be reached if the shipping trade were in the hands of want of a market that might be reached if the shipping trade were in the hands of Americans. It directs the finance committee to inquire if it would be expedient to expend the surplus revenue of the United iStates in all owing rebate from tariff duties on foreign goods imported in American vessels. The resolution was laid over.

TO PROVIDE FOR INAUGURAL SIMPLICITY. Washington, Dec. 4.—Mr. Robinson, of New York, has prepared a joint resolution which he will offer on Monday next providing for a return to the simplicity of the inaugural ceremonies as practiced by Jefferson. It prohibits the erection of triumphal arches and the display of bayonets in Washington on inauguration day and provides that the chief justice shall call upon the president olect and accompany Washington, Dec. 4.-Mr. Robinson, upon the president-elect and accompany im either on foot on in a plain carriage drawn by not more than two horses decorations or livery to the capitol, where he shall take the oath preas may be there to hear him.

Hill submitted a resolution reciting therein the present industrial depression and depreciation in wages of labor; the recommendation of the President that the coinage of silver dollars be stopped is calculated to create alarm and aggre gate difficulties of the situation, and declaring it the opinion of the Senate that no valid reasons exist for restricting either the coinage of silver dollars or the issue of silver certificates. At the request of Hill the resolution was laid over. Callom pressed for consideration of the inter-state commerce bill, but it was final. He made a special order for Thursday next. A message was then received from the president, whereupon the Senate went into executive session, and when the doors re opened at 1:40, adjourned until Monday.

Among the nominations sent to the Senate to-day were Luther Harrison, of Pa., to be assistant commissioner of land offices; Stephen F. Wilson, of Pa., asso ciste justice of the supreme court of New Mexico, and George P. Shrie, of Pa., com-missioner for the district of Alaska, to reside at Wrangel.

IN THE HOUSE, By unruimous consent the speaker called the states for bills and resolutions as of Monday. Among those introduced and referred was one by Morrison, (III.), authorizing the secretary of the treasury to apply the surplus revenues in excess; of $100,000,000 to the redemption of United States bonds, and one by Dockery, (Missouri), to abolish the special deputy marshals at the polls.
