To win our glowing praises A queen supreme, the golden red Reigned with unwonted splendor, be Black eved Susan's flaunting robes, Were bright as Fail could lend her.

White bindweed in the meadows grew, And sumach leaves were turning; We found the purple gentian flowers, Though Summer suns were burning.

Stray crimson leaflets floated down, A hins of Autumn color, Though clover wore its Summer flush, Or just a trifle dulier, ong the brook whose ripples fled Thro' flickering shine and shadow, We climbed the upland meadow.

The fringing ferns hung o'er the pool From rocky heights, and under Last year's dead leaves the seeing eye Found many a mossy wonder.

O wondrous skies! The heavens indeed, O God, declare the glory!

And every wandering wind that blows
Repeats the endless story.

O tair green hills! O far-off hills, Aglow with sunset shining! My eyes with nushed tears are filled, My heart with vain repining.

No wandering wind, nor bird nor bee May bring me back my Summer ; The frost that touched the felds last night Was Winter's earlier comer. -Dorothy Holroyd in the Current.

In Memory of Col. James Page. The memorial window for the State Fencibles' armory, on Broad street, below Race, Philadelphia, the gift of Mrs. J. C. Hughes Hallett, nee Miss Emily Schaumberg, is a tribute to the memory of James Page, the third captain of the State Fencibles, from Mrs. Hallett, who is his nicee. It is said to be very beautiful, and will be on the east side of the building, over the Biddle memorial window, which was dedicated recently.

SENATE CHAMSER,
ALBANT, N. Y., April 4,1883.
On the 27th of February, 1883, I was taken with a violent pain in the region of the kidneys. I suffered such agony that I could hardly stand up. As soon as possible I spiffed two ALLC ca's Poscus Plasters, one over each kidney, and laid down. In an hour, to my suprise and delight, the pain had vanished and I was well. I wore the plasters for a day or two as a precaution and then removed or two as a precaution and then removed them. I have been using Alloca's Ponous Plasters in my family for the last ten years, and have always found them the quickest and best external remedy for colds, strains, kinks, and rheumatic affections. From my experi-ence I believe they are the best plaster in the world.

BLACK DIAMOND

COUGH SYRUP.

The following article was voluntarily sent to Mr. H. E. SLAYMAKER, Agent for REIGART'S OLD WINE STORE, by a prominent practicing physician of this country, who has extensively used the Brandy referred to in his regular practice. It is commended to the attention of those afflicted with

Indigestion and Dyspepsia. BRANDY AS A MEDICINE. This now much abused Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be used as a medicine of great potency in the cure of some of the destructive diseases which sweeps away their annual thousands of victims. With a purely philanthropic motive, we present to the lavorable notice of invalids—especially those afflicted with that miserable disease, Dypspepsia, a specific remody, which is nothing more of less than BRANDY. The aged, with feeble appetite, and more or ess decility, will find this simple medicine, sed property.

A Sovereign Remedy For all their fils and aches. Be it, however strictly understood that we prescribe and use but one article, and that is

Reigart's Old Brandy, Sold by our enterprising triend, H. E. SLAN MAKER. This brandy has stood the test for years, and has bever failed, as far as our ex perience extends, and we therefore give it the preference over all other Brandles—no matter with how many law breaking French titles they are branded. One fourth of the money that is yearly thrown away on various impo-tent dyspepsia specifics, would suffice to buy all the Brandy to cure any such case or cases, in proof of the curative power of

Reigart's Old Brandy in cases of Dyspepsia we can summon num

In cases of Dyspepela we can summon numbers of witnesses—one case in particular we will cite:

A hard working tarmer had been afflicted with an exhausting Dyspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject aimost every kind of food; he had sour eructations constantly—no appetite—in fact, he was obliged to restrict his diet to crackers and stale bread, and as a boverage he used McGrann's Rook Beer. He is a Methodist, and then, as now, preached at times, and in his discourses often declaimed carnestly against alkinds of strong drink. When advised to try Reigart's Old Brandy In his case, he looked up with astonishment; but atter hearing of his wonderful effects in the cases of some of his hear acquaintances, he at last consented to follow our advice. He used the Brandy faithfully and steadily; the first bottle giving him an appetite, and before the second was all takes he was a sound man, with a stomach capable of digesting anything which he choose to cat. He still keps it and uses a fittle occasionally; and since he has this medicine, he has been of very little pecuniary benealt to the doctor.—4 Practicing Physician.
