THE CASE AGAINST THE MUSEUM,

Onk of Justices Ectiles, was First Entertained R. Dismisses R. Osborus & McGe, the proprietors of the Boston Ideal Museum company, who were charged with false pretense by Jacob B. Myers, were given a hearing by Alderman McGlinn. The small office was crowded with people who were auxious to hear the oridence. Each side had employed a lawyer, and were ready for a fight. The witness for the commonwealth was the procedure. He tastified that he went to the opera house on Thursday night and purchased a 10 cent ticket of admission. He was not allowed down stairs, and was told to go on the gallery. This witness refused to do but went home. The witness exhibited his ticket to the alderman after bearing the evidence concluded to dismist the case at once, as the ticket purchased by the prosecutor had nothing upon it to show what part of the hall the holder could go to, and it did not agree to the expense of securing lawyers, while the shownen were much anoyed at the charge. All of this trouble was to decorate the wheelbarrow in any manner he pleased, the weight not to exceed the charge. All of this trouble was to the case a change, a life the shownen were much annoyed at the charge. All of this trouble was to there are question that had been disposed of long ago by higher courts than that of Alderman McGlinn. The 'squire seemed long ago by higher courts than that of Alderman McGlinn. The 'squire seemed anxious to have a change, however, and his hearing resulted in smoke.

CLOSED THEIR ENGAGEMENT. The Boston Ideal Opera company made The Boston Ideal Opera company made their last appearance in the opera house on Saturday evening, and, although the weather was very bad the audience was one of the largest of the engagement. The performance was the same as before, and numerous jokes were gotten off at the ex-pense of Alderman McGlinn in the after-nice.

CONCEBNING OREMATIOS.

Its Progress in Scandinavis—A New York Wit Makes a Suggestion, Cremation is making way even in Scandinavia. The Swedes have long favored cremation but hitherto their efforts to obtain from their authorities the sanction for building a crematorium at Stockholm have been unsuccessful. At the last meeting of the Swedish Cremation society, however, the president, Lieutenant-General Klingenstierna, announced that arrangements had been made with the Stockholm authorities for erecting a crematorium in one of the suburbs. The place chosen is a high, rocky plain to the north of the city, where a wide view is obtained of the surroundings. A large plot of ground round the crematorium is to be laid out as a public park, at the expense of the town. It is hardly likely to be a popular promenade when a cremation BOSTON BAKED BEANS AND CREMATION.

From the New York World.

The cremation plan for the disposal of the dead is growing in popularity through-out New England, where several cities already have formed cremation societies. It is surprising that this movement has not suggested to the practical people of for the wholesale baking of beans. Here for the wholesale baking of beaus, flere is food for reflection—and also for a considerable portion of the people of that place. The crematories should be so constructed that they can be used for baking beans or bein's. In hours or days not devoted to the disposal of the dead there could be some provision made for the living. The cathetic Bostonian could realize Hamlet's nation of funeral baked meats and the furnishing of marriage festivals. Or, and orematory and bean-baking processes might be carried on simultaneously, so that the bereaved Bostonian husband or that the bereaved Bostonian husband or the bereaved Bo eremation ceremony the urn containing the ashes of his wife or mother-in-law under one arm and a pot of well baked beans under the other.

THE SPANISH TREATY.

Effect of Its Operation on Tobacco Culture The proposed reduction of 50 per cent. of the duties on Cuban tobacco is popularly supposed to be detrimental to the interests of the growers of the home crop. Mr. Storm, of the great eight making firm, however, says: "The value of tobacco raised in the United States for clear purposes is determined by the quantity suitable for wrappers contained in a crop, and this is shipped all over the world, and its value is relatively fixed. Probably 95 per cent. of the tobacco to be imported from Cuba would be used as a filler, with a domestic wrapper, and if because of this the consumption of cigars in the United States should be increased, it is more than probable that the value of the wrappers would not be diminished. For example, while good domestic wrappers are now worth from 20 to 40 cents per pound, domestic fillers are worth from 3 to 6 cents. The Cuban article used for the same purposes would be worth from 15 to 65 cents per pound. Taking these facts into consideration, it is impossible to discover how the treaty will injuriously discover how the treaty will injuriously affect the tobacco interests of the coun-

This morning about 8 o'clock, while Dr. J. C. Shaub's horse was hitched at Hayerstick's on the "pleasure road" a short distance northeast of this city, it was frightened by a dog that ran out and barked at it. The horse broke the hitching strap and ran off, with Dr. Shaub's buggy rattling after him. The horse ran from the pleasure road to the pike and thence down Duke street to Vine where he fell, but regaining his feet he ran out Vine street to Dinah's hill, where he was captured. He had his knees skinned and his nose cut, by the fall, but was not seriously injured. The iron work of the buggy was damaged, some of the spokes of the wheels were broken and the cushions and lap-robe were lost.

Committed to Await Trial. Henry Watson, a colored man from the Welsh mountain, was heard by Alderman Barr, this morning, on a charge of receiving stolen goods and carrying concealed deadly weapons. The first named charge was dismissed and the second was returned to court. Watson was unable to furnish bail and was committed to prison to await trial at court.

DOWN THE COURTRY, from Dynmore and Providence

On the wheelbarrow on a cushioned seat sat Mr. Shirk, a small drum in his hands, while in front were some half dozen men and boys carrying torches, and a banner surmounted with a recoster. On the ban-ner were the inscriptions "Victory, vicno count out this time." "The saplings must go; campaign suits, torches, &c., for sale chesp." Fully one hundred and fifty people were lookers on at the novel spectacle.

Arrested While Signaling mis Sweetheart. Something of a sensation took place at Mayor Rowe's court, in Reading, on Saturday. An officer had arrested a re-spectable young man named Robert Riegel as a suspicious character in signaling some unknown person in front of the residence of Jacob Leippe. Riegel is a shoemaker, and a year ago was forbidden the house by Leippe, whose daughter he went to see. Since then Miss Adele Leippe and Riegel have met clandestinely after the family had retired. Riegel was giving her the usual signal from the street when the policeman arrested him. He showed a letter from Miss Leippe in which she agreed to meet him. The mayor dis-

Denman Thompson as Joshua Whitcomb.— Denman Thompson, whose name is a house-hold word on the comedy stage by reason of his celebrated impersonation of "Joshua Whiteomb," will appear in Fulton Opera House on Wednesday evening next, He has not visited this city for some time and he will, no doubt, on this occasion be accorded an en-thusiastic welcome. Of his presentation of his famous play, the St. Louis Globs Democrat says: "Den. Thompson's creation of "Uncle Josh" is something more than acting; it is the perfection of dramatic art. When the Yankee farmer is on the stage we are at once sur-rounded by a rural aroma redolent of coru-fields, green lanes and the farm house. We don't see the actor. It is "Uncle Josh" himdon't see the actor. It is "Uncle Josh" himself in flosh and blood who has been suddenly transported from his Swanzey home to the boards of the theatre. Everything that Thompson does is apparently without art. It is the pericet naturalness and fidelity to nature which constitutes the great charms of his impersonation."

Dan's Tribulations.—This laughable play of Edward Harrigan will be given at the opera house on Thursday evening. It will be pursented by M. W. Hanley's company, of whose performance the Pittsburg Leader says:

"There is plenty of fun and that is what the people want. Interspersed with the Irish scenes are Ethiopian performances, and there is a variety about the entertainment that keeps the audience in constant good humor. The scene of the funeral partakes somewhat of an Irish wake and is highly amusing and elicited shouts of laughter."

GENERAL GRANT ENPUSES A PENSION,

Me Sende a Letter to the Author of the Hills Destring its Windrawal-Proceedings in Seth Mouses.

Washington, Dec. 8.—In the Senate Mitchell read a letter from General Grant, relating to the bill recently introduced to give him a pension. Grant hopes that the bill will be withdrawn, and says he could not accept a pension, even if the bill passed both Houses and received approval of the president. Mitchell stated he had introduced the bill because he was chairman of the committee on pensions and the president had recommended a pension to Grant. He (Mitchell) always felt that Grant ought to be placed where he was when, to accept the presidency, he laid down a great office he had won in the war. In deference to Grant's wishes Mitchell withdrew the bill for the pension.

REPORTS OF AFFAIRS IN EGYPT. CAIRO, Dec. 8.—It is reported at Don-gola that the Mahdi had accepted the challenge to his prophetic powers pro-posed by Gen. Gordon. It is asserted that he tried to make his followers walk across the Nile and thereby lost 30 000 men. According to other reports, however, the Mahdi remains at Margiat and is making no attempt to interrupt the convoy sent by Gen. Gordon to Shendy. This inactivity on his part, it is said, is having a tendency to weaken the popular belief in the sacredness of his mission, which has prevailed among the natives.

The decree also permits the new road to lay its sidings in the street to points where manufacturing establishments can be reached. The new road will new years on to Pottsville. Thompson,

THE U. S. SUPHEME COURT DECIDES What Restricts and Allows Uninamen to Recenter the United States.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 8.—The United States supreme court gave a decision in the case of Chew Heong, a Chinaman, This man was here when, in 1880, when the last treaty was made with China. After that he went to Honolulu, returning last September. In the interval the restriction act of 1882 had become a law, and the custom house refused to allow him to land on the ground that he had not before leaving provided himself with the prescribed certificate. The supreme court to-day holds that the restriction act does not apply to Chinamen who were here at the date of Chinamen who were here at the date of the treaty of 1880, but who left before the adoption of the restriction act of 1882. Chinese laborers, so situated, the court holds, may reenter the United States. Justice Field dissented from the opinion.

CINCIRNATI, O., Dec. 8.—Fire last night damaged the buildings, machinery and stock of the Cincinnati Desicating company, in the northwestern part of the city, to the extent of about $30,000.
