AROUND THE TABLE.

A MELANGE OF LITERATURE, RELIGION, ART AND FASHION.

Some Tid-Bits of Interest for Reading on Saturday Night—How the Mahdi Raises Money. Fashion's Idiocy—The Mania for Photographing Parts of Bodies.

Boston has her first Roman Catholic mayor in Hugh O'Brien.

Lucy Stone regretfully admits that, while women do most of the amateur playing on pianos, they compose scarcely any of the music used.

Joachim Saraceni, butler to Gregory XVI., Pius IX. and Leo XIII., died recently. He had accumulated a large fortune, and was highly esteemed.

It is said that Durer's famous portrait of Hieronymus Holzschuer, till lately preserved in Nurnberg by the Holzschuer family, has been purchased for the Berlin museum for 1,250,000 francs ($250,000).

Cedarcroft, the Pennsylvania home of Bayard Taylor, has fallen into decay, and was lately sold at a price not equal to a third of its cost.

There is a movement in Chicago to prosecute some of the speakers at a recent anti-Christian meeting on the charge of blasphemy. A test case is likely to be made of the man who assailed the doctrine of God's goodness. "When I was a boy," he said, "my mother taught me to say, 'Our Father who art in heaven;' and so far as I know he has never left there."

A proposal is now before the Senate of Cambridge University, England, to require of candidates for honors, instead of the additional examination in mathematics which has been condemned, an examination in the English language. The examination proposed will include a paper in English prose composition, one on the grammar and history of the English language, and a third on the explanation and discussion of passage from selected English books.

The Prince of Montenegro has closed the Roman Catholic church at Cetigne. He has also forbidden priests of that faith to leave their residences without a written permit, and prohibited the administration of the sacraments, so that the Roman Catholic residents of Cetigne are obliged to go to Cattaro, in Dalmatia for baptism or marriage. The prince is doing all this to ingratiate himself with the Czar who would be pleased to see the Greek faith established in Montenegro.

How the Mahdi Raises Money.

A correspondent of the London Telegraph with the Nile expedition has learned from a refugee how the Mahdi raises funds. From time to time he appears before his people and says he has been commanded to part with all his goods, everything he possesses—in short, must go to the public treasury, or to the "Bait el Mal" (charity box). Proffers are made on all sides to save him from stripping his household; but all these he resolutely declines, saying. "The command is for me, not you." By and by their turn comes, when the Mahdi says he has had a communication from "El Hadra" that such a one is to give all he has to the "Bait el Mal." They have seen the prophet himself complying with these directions of the "Presence," and how dare any one else disobey? Accordingly, making a virtue of necessity, goods and slaves all find their way to the "charity box," otherwise the prophet's chest. All disputes about goods or betrothals the Mahdi quickly settles by appropriating the goods to the public treasury and the woman to his harem. He courts the poor and gives them free license to plunder, and snubs the sheiks.

Fashion's Idiocy.

Paris Letter to London World.

Even the ebony black and obstinately persistent swallow-tailed coat threatens to pass, for the gentlemen of leisure whom "Gyp" delights to portray are gaining ground in their campaign in favor of color. The red coat and breeches were accepted last season in the ceremonial meetings of high society. This season variety is to be obtained by the introduction of the blue coat and brass buttons, white waistcoat and light gray trousers, and powdered hair, which latter detail will be considered extra-vain; and by the brown coat and brass buttons, shawl-pattern waistcoat, brown cloth breeches, garters fastened with a diamond buckle, and square-toed, high-heeled shoes. The black coat will be worn by the pschutteux only at the theatre, and in places where the uncalled-for-remarks of the cads might mar the serenity of the spectacle of contemporary calves.

Photographing Parts of Bodies.

From the New York Mirror.

The craze for photographing sections of the human form divine has not yet reached New York, but it's bound to come. I have been looking over an English collection.

There were hands—some of them stuck through holes in a dark screen and clasped and raised; others were taken singly, holding a flower; others again, exhibited the palm in such a way that a fortune teller could "read the lines."

There were bare feet. If any one ever saw a bare foot that was pretty on anything but a baby, then they have seen Lizzie Weathersby's (Mrs. Nat. Goodwin). She has a beautiful foot without a blemish, and might be justified in having hers photographed. But the English feet that had been subjected to this process that I saw were something wicked. One, belonging to Lady Gladys Lonsdale, was handsome; but it was as big as the foot of a bill at Christmas.

Then the backs that are taken—just simple, plain backs, with moles perhaps, or without; and sections of shoulders and napes of necks, scruffs of necks—scrags of necks, the mutton sellers call 'm—or an ear, just one detached ear, for that ear is stuck through a slit in a sheet of velvet.

THE SNOW-MAN.

A snow-man stands in the moonlight cold,
Smoking his pipe serenely,
For what cares he that the night is cold?
Though his coat is thin and his hat is old,
And the blustering wind blows keenly.

He has heard the children telling in glee
That Santa Claus would visit
This night their beautiful Christmas tree;
And it is not strange he should wish to see
How this can happen—now is it?

He sees through the window the children bright,
And hears them merrily singing
Round the Christmas tree with its glory of light,
When out from the chimney, in bear-skins white,
Comes good St. Nicholas springing!

And the snow-man laughs so hard at that,
That when his laughter ceases,
A pipe, a coat, and an old straw hat,
Two lumps of coal and a flannel cravat,
Are all that is left of the pieces!

—Grace F. Coolidge in Christmas St. Nicholas.

THE TRUE MERIT ALONE.

has given Allcock's Porous Plasters the largest sale of any external remedy in the world. If you have been using other kinds of plasters, one trial of "Allcock's" will convince you of their wonderful superiority.

66 BROADWAY, ROOM 52,
NEW YORK, March 2, 1883.

Having been cured of a severe attack of rheumatism of the neck and shoulders by using Allcock's Porous Plasters, I feel it my duty to strongly commend their use to any one similarly afflicted. For a period of several months I had exhausted many other so-called remedies without obtaining the slightest relief. Finally I applied one of Allcock's Porous Plasters, and found myself almost immediately cured.

I consider them a true blessing.

Faithfully yours,
JAMES R. HOSMER.

In Hop Porous Plasters the virtues of Fresh Hops are combined with strengthening and stimulating balsams, and its cures of Weak Back, Pain in the Side, Rheumatism, and Neuralgia or Pain in the Chest are simply marvelous, it being more efficacious and thorough than any liniment or liquid remedies. You'll say so after using.

First Revived and then Cured.

"Was troubled for a year with torpid liver and indigestion, and after trying everything imaginable used Burdock Blood Bitters. The first bottle revived me and the second cured me entirely. J. S. Williamson, Rochester, N. Y. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street.

An Explanation.

No one medicine will cure everything, but it is an incontestible fact that Thomas' Eclectric Oil will cure a sprain, a bruise, a bite, or an ache, and is also an active and pronounced cure for neuralgia and rheumatism. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street.

Its Equal Yet to Hear From.

The movements of a mule's hind legs are very variable and uncertain, but Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil takes but one course—it heals and cures. Its equal for asthma, diphtheria, catarrh, cold and sore throat has never yet been sold. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street.

A woman's beauty is never lost
So long as her sweet smile remains—
So long as gleam her teeth like frost,
And her soft lip the ruby stains;
And SOZODONT, with magic power,
Restows on her this priceless dower.

Woman's Suffering and Relief.

These languid, tiresome sensations, causing you to feel scarcely able to be on your feet; that constant drain that is taking from your system all its former elasticity; driving the bloom from your cheeks; that continual strain upon your vital forces, rendering you irritable and fretful, can easily be removed by the use of that marvelous remedy, Hop Bitters. Irregularities and obstructions of your system, are relieved at once while the special cause of periodical pain are permanently removed. None receive so much benefit, and none are so profoundly grateful, and show such an interest in recommending Hop Bitters as women.

A Postal Card Story.

I was affected with kidney and urinary Trouble—
"For twelve years!"
After trying all the doctors and patent medicines I could hear of, I used two bottles of Hop "Bitters!"

PARKER'S TONIC.

Bulwer Lytton's Bridge.

WHERE IT TOUCHES THE SHORE AND THE GREAT COLUMNS IN MID-STREAM.

"What a beautiful bridge between Old age and childhood is religion. How intuitively the child begins with prayer and worship on entering life, and how intuitively, on quitting life, the old man turns back to prayer and worship, putting himself again side by side with the infant," remarks E. Bulwer Lytton in his "Strange Story."

Yes, but between its distant abutments the bridge of life has many high and awful arches, through which the wild waters dash and roar in wrath and desolation. Prayer and worship alone do not sustain these. Nature's solid rocks must lie unshaken beneath, and human art and skill must rear and solidify the structure overhead. God's will is best exemplified in the laws He has made for the creatures whom He has placed under their control. Neither the child's trustful "Our Father," nor the old man's "Forget me not in the midst of mine infirmities," will alter this by the weight of a single grain.

Science and art first—then faith and prayer—is the order of Heaven itself. Divinity heals through its agents, and those agents are the discoveries of man; not the vague announcements of prophets or seers. Is life a burden to you? Does time drag? Is your power to cope with life's problems and duties weakened? You are not well. Your blood is sluggish or tainted, perhaps; or some important organ is torpid or overworked. This fact may have taken the form of dyspepsia, rheumatism, gout, malaria, pains in the stomach, chronic headache, or any of a dozen other ills. PARKER'S TONIC will invigorate you, as fresh air invigorates those who have been shut up in damp, fetid cells. It is powerful, pure, delicious, scientific, safe—the keystone of the central arch of the bridge of life. dec1-1md8&w
