

WALT WHITMAN ON BLAINE.

HE DID NOT VOTE FOR HIM AND UTTERLY RENOUNCES HIM.

Governor Cleveland Pronounced A Safe and Strong Man - A Solution of the Southern Problem - Adventurers From the Territories - Strong Talk.

From the Philadelphia News Interview. Mr. Whitman was asked what he thought of Blaine's defeat and what would come of it.

"What I have since learned, such things as the appointment of a man like Jones, a very rich iron manufacturer in Pittsburg, but totally unfamiliar with the 'Heathen Chinese game' of politics...

"But you ask me about Cleveland and I will answer you en route calmly. Grover Cleveland stands out in strong colors, in a clear light, as a safe and a strong man."

"I think, too, there is wisdom in what Coolidge says of the late contest at the polls, that the people were averse to three or four Western adventurers taking possession of the Republican party."

"The above are terms applied to the unreliable and dishonest. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for rheumatism, catarrhs, rheumatism, and all aches, sprains, and pains is not a thing of deception but a pleasant and honest remedy."

"The above is an old sea anemone in its senseless. You can't 'grout out' dyspepsia, liver complaints, nor nervousness if they once get a good hold. They don't remove themselves in that way."

HOW THE YEAR WEST.

Cold lay the midnight, cold and black On sleeping earth and sea. The sun was on her pallid track And the stars crept out to see.

As, bowed with age and bent and bleared, The Old Year took his way Across Earth's blue atmosphere Toward the slow moving day.

A sound of merry snoring rang In joyous, merry din. The New Year comes, 'till voices sang: 'Arise and let him go.'

Sadly the Old Year paused; a sigh Broke from his braved heart. 'The world cares not that I must die, And smiles to see me part.'

'When I was young, I welcomed me With gifts and glad good cheer. Have not served it faithfully These many months and days?'

'Why should men joy to see me go - I'll give you all I have in store. Departing, grieved and sad and slow, With none to watch my end?'

But as the Old Year spoke a sound Of voices from the East and West. Struck on his ear, and peering round, He stayed his lagging feet.

Two lovers leaned their side by side, And gazed at each other's face. And with a strong, and voice, one cried: 'Good bye, good bye, Old Year!'

'Good bye, O kindly friend and true, And may your life be one. Of good old years may come; but you Are still our dearest one.'

Then smiled the Old Year, as he went, He feared no more and quite content, And, fearless now and quite content, He faded into the night.

And when he met the New Year Year, At every birth, and day. He cheered him with a father's cheer And sped him on his way.

'Heaven go with thee, fair son, and keep And this thy guardian be. That at thy end some eyes may weep As they were wont to see.'

And then the Old Year, in his pride, He turned to see his end. And then the Old Year, in his pride, He turned to see his end.

And then the Old Year, in his pride, He turned to see his end. And then the Old Year, in his pride, He turned to see his end.

And then the Old Year, in his pride, He turned to see his end. And then the Old Year, in his pride, He turned to see his end.

And then the Old Year, in his pride, He turned to see his end. And then the Old Year, in his pride, He turned to see his end.

And then the Old Year, in his pride, He turned to see his end. And then the Old Year, in his pride, He turned to see his end.

And then the Old Year, in his pride, He turned to see his end. And then the Old Year, in his pride, He turned to see his end.

And then the Old Year, in his pride, He turned to see his end. And then the Old Year, in his pride, He turned to see his end.

And then the Old Year, in his pride, He turned to see his end. And then the Old Year, in his pride, He turned to see his end.

And then the Old Year, in his pride, He turned to see his end. And then the Old Year, in his pride, He turned to see his end.

And then the Old Year, in his pride, He turned to see his end. And then the Old Year, in his pride, He turned to see his end.

HEADACHE. In either its nervous, bilious or congestive form, arising from obstruction, congestion or torpidity of the liver. When I say that Dr. Leslie's SPECIAL PRESCRIPTION will cure the most obstinate cases of Sick Headache, I mean just what I say, and that is, that it not merely relieves but cures, no matter how long the case may have been standing. I have testimonials from persons who have been afflicted for twenty years, being confined to bed two or three times a week, and who are now well, that have been permanently cured by two bottles of Dr. Leslie's Special Prescription. 12-1w-100004
