Schuylkill County Auditors Kicking.

From the Pottsville Chronicle, Jan. 8.

The county auditors, Messrs, Healy, Bertram and Griffiths began work yesterday and stopped to-day. There is a hitch in the proceedings. The new salary bill created virtually a new office. At least it so increased the duties of the auditors so as to give them twelve times the work they had before. They are now required to keep a set of books of their own and certainly require the services of a clerk. They ask the commissioners for one, intending to appoint George W. Taylor, of Pottsville, to the postion. Commissioner Leonard when spoken to this morning thought the auditors were not entitled to a clerk, and that there was no warrant in law for their having one. The auditors have stopped work until they get one. Their salary is only $250 a year, and if they are to do all the work imposed on them by the salary bill it will keep them busy pretty rauch all year. stopped to-day. A Fellow Who Needs a Cowhiding. Last evening Mrs. Henry Haider, residing at Christian and Church streets, started from Harnish's store, West King street, to walk home. Before going far she was accosted by a man she did not know who insisted upon going with her. She was greatly fright-ened and told him she was expecting her husband. He then left her but again met her at Odd Fellows hall, where he renewed his offer and took hold of the lady. She ran away from and succeeded in leaving him behind. She declares that she has been followed by the fellow several times, and she does not know him or she would have him

As to the Miserables.

As to the Miserables.

If you want to be miserable get your stoumed and digestive organs in bad condition, and let them stay so. Get your liver out of order, and be biflous and sailow. But if you want to lanish the miserables, take Brown's Iron Bitters, for that will tone up your digestive apparatus, correct your liver and enrich your blood, and make you bright and hearty. The Rev. W. B. Smith, of Grafton, Mass., says, "I derived great benefit from using Brown's Iron Bitters for a low state of the blood."

Brandy as a Medicine.

BRANDY AS A MEDICINE. This now much almsed Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a boverage, but to be used as a medicine of greater potency in the cure of some of the destructive diseases which sweeps away their annual thousands of victims. With a purely philanthropic motive, we present to the favorable notice of Evalids—especially those afflicted with that miserable disease, Dyspepsia, a specific remedy, which is nothing more or less than BRANDY.

The aged, with feeble appetite, and more or less debility, will find this simple medicine, when used properly.

A SOVEREIGN REMEDY

For all their ills and aches. Be it, however, strictly understood that we prescribe and use but one article, and that is

Regart's Old Brandy,

Sold by our enterprising friend, H. E. SLAY-MAKER. This brandy has stood the test for years, and has never failed, as far as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the preference over all other Brandles—no matter with how many faw breaking French titles they are brandled. One-fourth of the money that is yearly thrown away on various impotent dyspepsia specifies, would suffice to buy all the Brandly to cure any such case or cases. In proof of the curative power of EEIGARTS OLD BRANDY. In cases of Dyspepsia, we can summon numbers of witnesses—one case in particular we will cite: A hard working farmer had been afflicted with an exhausting Dyspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject almost every kind of food; he had son reructations constantly—no appetite—in fact he was obliged to restrict his diet to crackers and stale bread, and as a beverage he used Metirann's Boot Beer. He is a Methodist, and then, as now, preached at times, and in his discourses often declaimed earnestly against lakinds of strong drink. When advised to try REIGARTS OLD BRANDY.

In his case, he looked up with astonishment; but after hearing of his wonderful effects in the

REIGART'S OLD BRANDY
In his case, he looked up with astonishment;
but after hearing of his wonderful effects in the cases of some of his near acquaintanees, he at last consented to follow our advice. He used the Brandy faithfully and steadily; the first bottle giving him an appetite, and before the second was all taken he was a sound man, with a stomach capable of digesting anything which he choose to cat. He still keeps it and uses a little occasionally; and since he has this medicine, he has been of very little pecuniary benefit to the doctor—A Practizing Physician.

STORIES ON THE ROAD. Commercial Travelers at a Wayside Inn--Something to Put in a Gripsack.

Gripsack.

"Gentlemen, I almost envy you the positions you till; your experience of the world; your knowledge of business; the changing sights you see, and all that, you know.

This warmly expressed regret fell from the lips of an elderly pleasure tourist, last Angust, and was addressed to a semi-circle of commercial travelers seated on the porch of the Lindeil hotel, St. Louis, Mo.

"Yes," responded a New York representative of the profession, "a drummer isn't without his pleasures, but he runs his risks, too—risks outside the chances of railroad collisions and steambout explosions."

"What risks for instance;"

"This, for instance; in the parts of the country; "The risk—which, indeed, amounts to almost a certainty—of getting the dyspepsia from perpetual change of diet and water, and from having no fixed hours for cating and sleeping. I myself was an example. I say ear, for I am all right now."

"No discount on your digestion;" broke in a Chicago dry goods traveler, lighting his eigar afresh.

"Not a quarter per cent. But I had to give up travelling for awhile. Chicago dry goods braveler, lighting his cugar arresh.

Not a quarter per cent. But I had to give up traveling for awhile. The dyspepsia ruined my paper. Finally I came across an advertisement of PARKER'S TONIC. I tried it and it fixed me up to perfection. There is nothing on earth, in my opinion, equal to it as a cure for dyspepsia. Messrs. Hiscox & Co., of New York, the proprietors, hold a letter from Mr. Franklin stading that precise fact. PARKER'S TONIC aids digestion, cures Malarial Fevers, Heartburn, Headache, Coughs and Colds, and all chronic diseases of the Liver and Kidneys. Put a bottle in your valise. Prices, 50c. and $1.
