not more than half the exhibits placed. Today twenty-five per cent of the exhibits are not in shape.

But even these do not condone Pennsylvania's negligence. Her citizens should make some effort to have her magnificent resources well represented.

A Profitless Inquiry. If the United States Senate had nothing more important to do, it would be excusable in lending itself to the elucidation of the historical question, which General Sherman, having nothing to do, proposes to the war department.

Is it true? Is it true that the county officers have employed three lawyers to set aside the law prescribing salaries for their officers instead of fees?

Natural Gas Wanted. Owners of gas stock had better sell out before the day of retribution comes for them. There is no set of people who are more obnoxious to the public sense than the managers of gas companies.

Except to General Sherman, who stands accused of making a false statement, it is of no consequence whether Davis did or did not want to coerce a Confederate state.

A St. Louis train-robber, George H. McFadden, who planned and executed the Pacific express robbery in St. Louis in March last by which he and an accomplice received $100,000, pleaded guilty on Monday and was sentenced to three years' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

There is a very good example set to the belligerent judges of Northampton county who are quarrelling over the title of president judge in the action of the Lawrence county judges.

Those who prepared the plan for circuit courts for the relief of the Supreme Court must feel well satisfied with their work.

Gov. Hill of New York, having suggested in his message a discussion of some insubordinate and painless method of executing criminals, electricity steps to the fore with the most complete apparatus.

Jonathan Madill, Canada, and Mrs. Martin eloped from Toronto, Canada, last fall and a few weeks afterwards returned expressing penitence and were forgiven.

SHUYLER COLFAX'S DEMISE. HOW HE DIED FAR FROM HOME IN A RAILWAY DEPOT.

A Sketch of His Career—In Public Life at the Age of Thirtiety—A Man of Ability Who Was Not Very Successful—Foreshadowing His Death.

Ex-Vice President Shuyler Colfax dropped dead at 10:30 Tuesday forenoon at the Omaha depot in Manhattan, Minn. He arrived on the Milwaukee and St. Paul road from the East at ten o'clock, and walked to the Omaha depot, a distance of three-fourths of a mile, with the thermometer 30 degrees below zero.

On arriving at the Omaha depot he entered the waiting room on the Omaha night, and, stepping over to the window, looked out. People in the depot noticed that he looked pale and breathless, as though he had walked rapidly, but otherwise he appeared in excellent health.

Mr. Colfax was a native of New York, having been born in that city on the 22d of March, 1825. His mother, who shortly before this was a widow, married again in 1833 a gentleman by the name of Matthews.

In 1850 he became a member of the Indiana Constitutional convention, and again in 1852, appeared in national politics as a delegate to the Whig National convention for that year.

Mr. Colfax soon rose to the rank of one of the acknowledged leaders of the party, and making every use of his influence, probably did more to elect Lincoln to the presidency in the state of Indiana than any other single man in the west.

Mr. Colfax was elected to the office of speaker of the House in 1863, and retained the speakership until he vacated it in March, 1869, to assume the duties of the vice-presidency.

On Thursday evening, the 13th inst., Colfax was in Chicago, lecturing before a large audience on "Landmarks of Life." In one of the first sentences of that lecture he foreshadowed his own death.

Mr. Colfax was a man of high ability, and his death is a great loss to the country.
