GROWING OLD.

Is it parting with the roundness
Of the smoothly moulded cheek?
Is it losing from the dimples
Half the flashing joy they speak?
Is it fading of the lustre
From the wavy golden hair?
Is it finding on the forehead
Graven lines of thought and care?

Is it dropping—as the rose leaves
Drop their sweetness, ever-blown—
Household names that once were dearer,
More familiar than our own?
Is it meeting on the pathway
Faces strange and glances cold,
While the soul with moan and shiver
Whispers sadly, "Growing old?"

On the gradual sloping pathway
As the passing years decline,
Gleams a golden love-light, falling
Far from upper heights divine;
And the shadows from that brightness
Wrap them softly in their fold,
Who unto celestial whiteness
Walk, by way of "growing old."
—Margaret Sangster.

TO STAY AT HOME IS BEST.

Stay, stay at home, my heart, and rest;
Home keeping hearts are happiest;
For those who wander they know not where
Are full of trouble and full of care;
To stay at home is best.

Weary and homesick, and distressed,
They wander East, they wander West,
And are baffled, and beaten, and blown about
By the winds of wilderness of doubt;
To stay at home is best.

Then stay at home, my heart, and rest;
The bird is safest in his nest;
O'er all that flutter their wings and fly
A hawk is hovering in the sky;
To stay at home is best.

HINTS FOR THE FARMER.

The Cultivation of Horseradish—How to Keep Apples in Winter.

From the Germantown Telegraph.

The demand for this well-known and popular condiment is such as to encourage its culture, which is very simple. The small roots, those of the size of a pipe stem, are packed away in sand during the winter, and in spring are planted in furrows with the top end just beneath the surface. The plant will grow with very common cultivation, similar to ordinary full crops, and may be harvested with the plow and potato digger. It is remarkably tenacious of life and spreads itself without artificial aid. The preparation for market is the most difficult part: the roots must be washed and scraped clean and white, and grated and immediately bottled with vinegar. It is desirable that the grating be done by machinery and bottled as speedily as possible, or it loses its peculiar flavor, which makes it desirable. The addition of a little sugar when bottled is more pleasing to some. It is most desirable in Spring.

KEEPING APPLES IN WINTER.

There are several conditions which exert a powerful influence in the keeping of apples through or into the winter. The first is the condition of the fruit at the time of picking; that is, regarding its maturity. There is a natural law relating to vegetable growth which carries it on in development until it arrives at maturity, and then the next step is to tend to decay. This law has particular force as regards fruit, and with other conditions favorable there is no great lapse of time after coming to full mature before the process of decay will proceed with great rapidity. Hence, there arises a necessity for avoiding all the conditions which will induce these results.

Every farmer must have noticed that if an apple is plucked from the tree before it is developed it seldom shows signs of decay for some time. Here then is a hint regarding the first step in gathering apples. They should be plucked just a little time before perfect maturity, but not so long before as to affect quality. When this can be done the course of nature can be arrested for the time being—the source of supply by the natural channel is cut off—and so the fruit is not in a condition to enter upon decay. Next light and heat are conditions tending to hasten both maturity and decay; so now, if after the fruit is picked, which of course is to be done carefully, it is placed in barrels and headed up and placed in a shady, cool place, the further elements of decay are eliminated. In case it is not desired to put in barrels, they may be placed in bins in a cool, dark cellar that is reasonably moist. When cold weather comes on put barrels in the cellar, but let there be good ventilation unless there is danger of freezing in which case close up tightly. We prefer to keep fruit at as low temperature as possible without danger from freezing, and have had no difficulty in keeping apples until a return of the apple harvest, while in light, warm, dry cellars they would go to decay.

Harvard University's Growth.

The growth of Harvard University is described in "The New Portfolio" by Dr. Holmes: "During all my early years our old almer mater sat still and lifeless as the colossi in the Egyptian desert. Then all at once, like the Commander's statute in 'Don Giovanni,' she moved from her pedestal. The fall of that 'stony foot' has effected a miracle like the harp that Orpheus played, like the teeth which Cadmus sowed. The plain where the mouse and the bear were wandering while Shakespeare was writing 'Hamlet,' where a few plain dormitories and other needed buildings were scattered about in my schoolboy days, groans under the weight of massive edifices which have sprung up all around them."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

No mirror ever yet threw back
A more repulsive sight,
Than teeth that are decayed and black;
Or one more pure and bright
Than rows of pearls, that all may vaunt
Who put their faith in SOZODONT.

Woman's Suffering and Relief.

Those languid, tiresome sensations, causing you to feel scarcely able to be on your feet; that constant drain that is taking from your system all its former elasticity; driving the bloom from your cheeks; that continual strain upon your vital forces, rendering you irritable and fretful, can easily be removed by the use of that marvelous remedy, Hop Bitters. Irregularities and obstructions of your system, are relieved at once while the special cause of periodical pain are permanently removed. None receive so much benefit, and none are so profoundly grateful, and show such an interest in recommending Hop Bitters as women.

A Postal Card Story.

I was affected with kidney and urinary Trouble—
"For twelve years!"
After trying all the doctors and patent medicines I could hear of, I used two bottles of Hop "Bitters;"
And I am perfectly cured. I keep it
"All the time!" respectfully, B. F. Booth, Saulsbury, Tenn.—May 1, 1883.

BRADFORD, PA., May 8, 1875.

It has cured me of several diseases, such as nervousness, sickness at the stomach, monthly troubles, etc. I have not seen a sick day in a year, since I took Hop Bitters. All my neighbors use them. Miss FANNIE GREEN.

$3,000 Lost.

"A tour to Europe that cost me $3,000, done "me less good than one bottle of Hop Bitters: "they also cured my wife of fifteen years' nervous weakness, sleeplessness and dyspepsia."
R. M., Auburn, N. Y.

80, BLOOMINGVILLE, O., May 1, '79.

SIRS—I have been suffering ten years, and I tried your Hop Bitters, and it done me more good than all the doctors.
Miss S. S. BOONE.

Baby Saved.

We are so thankful to say that our nursing baby was permanently cured of a dangerous and protracted constipation and irregularity of the bowels by the use of Hop Bitters by its mother, which at the same time restored her to perfect health and strength.
