

EPISCOPAL S. S. ASSOCIATION.

SECOND ANNUAL MEETING OF THE HARRISBURG P. S. CONVOCATION.

Front row by Bishop Howe—A Representation of fifty-five members Present—Model Lessons—Interesting Discussion—Various Views of S. S. Work.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF INTELLIGENCER.

COLUMBIA, Feb. 6.—The second meeting of the American Church Sunday School association, of the Harrisburg convocation, first division, was held in the wigwag of Chiconungo tribe, No. 29, E. R. R. yesterday. The representatives of parishes present were as follows: Columbia, 11; Lancaster, 35; Harrisburg, 4; York, 13; Baltimore, 1; Halifax, 1.

A few minutes after twelve o'clock the Right Rev. M. W. W. Bishop Howe, of the diocese of Pennsylvania, called the meeting to order. Mr. George H. Richards, of Columbia, acted as secretary pro tem, Rev. John Graham, of Manheim, being unable to be present, as he was attending the funeral of one of his parishioners.

Mrs. Geo. H. Richards: while in class scholars have not enough to do to keep them busy. They are asked to answer one or two questions and hunt the same number of references. That is all. The teacher occupies the remainder of the time talking. Now, would it not be advisable if a number of questions bearing directly upon the lesson would be asked? This would give answers to show how much time they spent in the study of the lesson.

Teachers are required to do a great amount of talking. Said Mr. Michael S. Hall, of York: "The Bible is a book to be read, not a book to be talked. It should be read, and then the teacher should ask questions to test the scholars' understanding of it."

The history of the Bible as given by Rev. A. C. Powell, of York, evoked no criticism. From the beginning to the present time this religious history has been a subject of interest to all who have read it. The Bible contains 66 books by 40 different writers. It was written by kings, shepherds, a tent-maker, a vine-dresser, a physician, a philosopher, a poet, a prophet, a soldier, a statesman, a philosopher, a poet, a prophet, a soldier, a statesman, a philosopher, a poet, a prophet, a soldier, a statesman.

AN INVITATION TO OUTSIDERS. Rev. Moran called the three following resolutions which were unanimously adopted: "That the privileges of the association be extended to all visitors from parishes outside of the diocese."

That the members of other denominations in Columbia, and who were present, be invited to participate in the exercises. That the thanks of the association be due and are hereby extended to Chiconungo tribe No. 29, E. R. R. for the free use of their hall for the purpose of the convocation.

Mr. Edward Higgins, superintendent of an Episcopal Sunday school in Baltimore, next gave his views of Sunday school work. The number which his school was conducting was carefully described. He said, in the great law which governs the success of all Sunday schools, it must exist amongst officers, teachers and scholars. The teacher should be a friend to his scholars, for they believe him or her to be their most intimate friend.

Mr. Schall: It can be made to be a privilege to teach in Sunday school. This can be done by making Sunday school work so interesting that the pleasure of teachers will be sought after. He further stated that teachers should call upon the scholars at home, win them to school, and that they would work smoothly. He agreed with all of Mr. Higgins' theories.

Mr. J. A. Smith read a paper on a case of otitis of the left ear, arising from disease of the teeth, the case having occurred in his own person. The paper elicited some discussion. Dr. Rogers, of Columbia, was appointed secretary for the annual meeting, which occurs in May.

Mr. Stannard Fiddler, residing in York county, near Dallstown, slipped on the ice and fell heavily to the ground, breaking one of the bones of his neck, and dying ten minutes afterward. He had gone to the barn to do some work, and while at work he fell. His family found him on the ground, and on going out found him lying half-way between the house and the barn with a general paralysis of the trunk to the house and a physician sent for, but died before he arrived.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM WRECK.

A Freight Car Loses Two of Its Wheels—Billard Hall Opened—Chicken Stealing. Regular Correspondence of INTELLIGENCER. COLUMBIA Feb. 6.—A freight car of train drawn by P. R. R. engine No. 25, east bound, lost two of its rear truck wheels at Henry Clay furnace. They broke from the axle in such a manner and flew into the canal. This accident caused part of the rear truck to settle upon the rails, and thus it remained sliding along the track until the train stopped in the west yard. The rear brakeman was aware of the accident, but he was not allowed to leave his signals were not closed. It is a miracle that a wreck did not follow the loss of the wheels.
