MRS. THOMAS A. HENDRICKS.

LIFE OF THE VICE PRESIDENT ELECT OF THE UNITED STATES.

Mrs. Hendricks is about fifty years of age and childless. Her only child, a boy, died in 1854, when only three years old. In the absence of maternal responsibilities she has devoted herself to the interests of her husband, has been his traveling companion very much, and cultivated society with the view to his advancement. She is well informed and a woman of sagacious judgment, her husband's best adviser and consistent assistant in affairs not frequently of absorbing interest to women. His best speeches bear evidences of her taste and discrimination. Her charities are administered with business method which is admirable. During the time when her husband was governor of Indiana she visited with him the various penal and reformatory institutions, and inquired into their affairs closely. Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks know better than anybody else how much he is indebted to his helpmeet for his success in life.

Mrs. Hendricks shines in society. She is pleasing in appearance, because good-looking and richly dressed in perfect taste. Her hair and eyes are dark; her stature is somewhat low. She talks admirably, and is much respected and loved in refined circles.

HINTS FOR THE FARMER.

Remedy for Hog Cholera—Some Suggestions About Wintering Bees.

From the Germantown Telegraph.

This disease, which operates so destructively among swine, is one that is liable to occur at any time. It broke out in Connecticut, and in a herd of one hundred and twenty-five a large proportion died or were ordered to be killed by commissioners on diseased animals. It is a disease that is to be avoided if possible, but when it breaks out farmers should know of remedies. The symptoms are somewhat different in different localities, but the circumstance of several becoming sick at once is perhaps the most reliable feature from which to form an opinion of the disease. It is somewhat of the typhus fever type—an inflammation of the stomach and bowels. The causes are obscure, and it is a singular fact that hogs kept in a close yards escape an attack in neighborhoods where two-thirds of the hogs on grass die. The disease is epidemic, contagious and infectious.

Dr. Navin, who studied the disease and experimented with it, gives a remedy which is claimed to be sure if employed in its early stages:

RECIPE.
Ground Ginger	4 ounces.
Black Antimony	2 "
Flowers of Sulphur	2 "
Pulverized Nitre	2 "
Sulphate of Iron	1 "

Mix and give to a large hog one heaping teaspoonful three times per day; to a hog under one hundred and fifty pounds a level teaspoonful and to smaller hogs according to size. If the disease is attended with diarrhea add two ounces of powdered alum and two ounces of white oak bark, and if it proves obstinate give one pint of melted lard and one teaspoonful of spirits of turpentine. Dr. Navin has always used the remedy and never failed even in the last stage of the disease.

In Dr. Johnson's Farmers' Homeopathic Veterinary Hand Book, for states not lye made from wood ashes in weak solution has saved more hogs than any other remedy. It is given as a drink night and morning. This would accord with a remedy given about ten years ago by a Illinois farmer, who purchased some hogs from a drove and on arriving home found they were affected by the disease. He boiled some corn in weak lye made from ashes, used some soft soap in their slops from the kitchen and never lost one while all the remainder of the drove died. Another remedy is given, consisting of sulphur, two pounds, and spanish brown, three pounds; mix and give one and a-half pounds to each hog in doses of half a teacupful every two hours. The effects are immediate and permanent. Farmers should remember the the wood ash lye remedy, because it is simple and is always at hand, and can be easily obtained and given when to send for drugs would require time and so admit of death before the remedy could be applied.

Wintering Bees.

The farmer is not supposed to make a specialty in the line of bee-keeping or bee raising, and yet for home necessities it is a matter of convenience for each one to have a few colonies of bees. In order that these little workers should beat their best requires more attention than most farmers can give, but they can prepare the old fashioned box hive in which to place the coloring, and, after the old fashioned cruel mode, "take up" the worker colonies before winter sets in, to obtain a supply of honey for family uses. Colonies not so disposed of must be wintered, and the question presents itself: How can this best be done? So far as our own experience goes, in a latitude where the thermometer is liable to drop into the minus quantities, we have always allowed the hives to remain upon the summer stands, and if a strong colony with a well filled hive have never had any trouble in keeping them safely, and we know of many similar experiences. This avoids the trouble and annoyance of preparing special quarters for winter.

Western Rivals in Politeness.

From the Detroit Free Press.

They sat together in the smoking compartment of the sleeping car after breakfast, and were very quiet for a long time. At last the fat man remarked:

"It is curious how traveling affects some people. For instance, my feet are so swollen that I can only keep my boots on with positive agony."

"And how odd that I am affected just the opposite way," replied the other. "My feet shrink so that I could almost get both feet into one boot."

There was another long interval of silence, during which each stole cautious glances at the other.

"In such a case," said the third man, who sat opposite, "I should advise you to trade boots."

"Willingly," was the response in chorus.

As they were making the change the porter came up with the remark:

"I dun reckon I got dem ar' butes mixed 'tween you two gem'len, an' each of you has got on de wrong pa'r."

"I knew it all the time," said the fat man.

"So did I" added the other.

"But I'll be hanged if I let any Wisconsin man outdo me in politeness."

"And Wisconsin don't take no back seat for Missouri!"

Totally Blind When He Awoke.

Daniel Cain, a prosperous middle-aged farmer of Glenville, N. Y., went to bed Sunday night in excellent health and with perfect eyesight. Monday morning he awoke totally blind.

WHATEVER THE WEATHER MAY BE.

"Whatever the weather may be," says he—
"Whatever the weather may be,
It's the songs ye sing an' the smiles ye wear
That's a-makin' the sun shine everywhere;
An' the world of gloom is a world of glee,
Wid the bird in the bush an' the bud in the tree,
Whatever the weather may be," says he—
Whatever the weather may be!

"Whatever the weather may be," says he—
"Whatever the weather may be,
Ye can bring the spring, wid its green an' gold,
An' the grass in the grove where the snow lies cold,
An' ye'll warm your back, with a smilin' face,
As ye sit at your heart like an old fireplace,
Whatever the weather may be," says he—
"Whatever the weather may be!"

PERSONAL.

EX-SENATOR DORSEY has made a confession. He says that he only made $5,300 out of the Star Route business, and his trial, with all its annoyances, cost him $2,000,000.

MARQUIS OF LORNE has been nominated as a candidate from Bristol in the coming Parliamentary election. His lordship desires to reenter active political life. He is a stanch supporter of Mr. Gladstone.

MISS LOUISE IMOGENE GUINEY, the author of "Songs at the Start," is a blonde girl of twenty-three, graceful, accomplished and studious. She will soon, it is reported, bring out a volume of prose essays.

VICE PRESIDENT-ELECT HENDRICKS reached Cincinnati on Wednesday from New Orleans, was introduced on the floor of the chamber of commerce, made a brief speech, and left for Indianapolis in the afternoon.

ROSSA will not prosecute Mrs. Dudley. His paper, the United Irishman, says editorially: "The poor wretched woman Dudley is not worth noticing, and O'Donovan Rossa does not intend to waste any time or attention upon her."

CONGRESSMAN MCADOO, of Newark, New Jersey, was married on Wednesday at Bonsair, Chesterfield county, Va., near Richmond, to Miss Lee Tardy, daughter of Samuel C. Tardy, formerly a prominent merchant of Richmond.

SENATOR BAYARD is famous among the epicures of the national capital for his skill in preparing terrapin for the table. The senator always goes into the kitchen and prepares the terrapin with his own hands for his invited guests. He has the knack of imparting a peculiar delicacy and flavor to the dish which none of the professional cooks can imitate. He flavors it so as to render the dish more than usually entrancing to the palate.

DR. LEOPOLD DAMROSCH, Dr. F. L. Ritter and Dr. Louis Maas have been appointed judges in the matter of the one thousand dollar prize offered for the prize composition by the central committee of the "North American Sangerbad," in Milwaukee, Wis. The work is to be performed in July, 1886, at the great Song Festival in Milwaukee. The text is to be written for solos, men's chorus and orchestra. The text must be in German; the time occupied in the performance should be about an hour.

SLEEP.

Come, sweetest Sleep, to comfort me!
My weary eyelids long for thee;
How yearn they for repose;
Come, softly them to close?

But if thy closing, gentle friend,
Should come and never have an end
And these eyelids of mine
See no more mornings shine!

Well know I, one far fairer day
My cloud of sleep shall charm away;
Forever, ever bright
A day without a night!

—From the Liverpool Post.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Before Breakfast

always use SOZODONT and rub it in well. It gives pleasant relief from parched tongue resulting from sleep, promotes the healthful secretions of the mouth. It will cost more for meals and such things, but don't begrudge it.

And the medicines of its authors, but none who have used them doubt the efficacy of Burdock Blood Bitters. This splendid blood tonic is without a peer. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster, Pa.

Threw Away $350.

"Troubled with asthma for eight years. Not quite two bottles of Thomas' Eclectric Oil cured me completely after spending over $350 without the slightest benefit." A LAWYER'S OPINION OF INTEREST TO ALL.

J. A. Tawney, esq., a leading attorney of Winona, Minn., writes: "After using it for more than three years I take great pleasure in stating that I regard Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption as the best remedy in the world for coughs and colds. It has never failed to cure the most severe colds I have had, and invariably relieves the pain in the chest."

Trial bottles of this sure cure for all Throat and Lung Diseases may be had Free at Cochran's Drug Store, Nos. 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster, Pa. Large size, $1.00. (1)

How About the Doses.

Many people before commencing a medicine naturally inquire about the size of the dose and the strength of it. In using Burdock Blood Bitters a teaspoonful for the little ones and two teaspoonfuls for grown folks are all that is necessary at one time. This magnificent medicine is put up in concentrated form, very pleasant to the taste. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North queen street, Lancaster, Pa.

Letter from Cyrus W. Field, Jr.

No. 8 East 32d Street,
New York, May 6, 1881.

Several times this winter I have suffered from colds on my lungs. Each time I have applied ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS, and in every instance have been quickly relieved by applying one across my chest and one on my back. My friends, through my advice, have tried the experiment and also found it most successful. I feel that I can recommend them most highly to any one who may need to try them.

CYRUS W. FIELD, Jr.

Weak Back, Rheumatism, and all Local Pains are relieved and cured by ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS. One trial will convince you, but see that you get the genuine, as all other so-called Porous Plasters, without a single exception, are worthless imitations.

A Bad Breath

Is insufferable. We don't like it. A person with a strong breath must not make himself very familiar with us. An impure breath is caused by an unhealthy stomach. Burdock Blood Bitters will correct this evil. They are the best stomach medicine known. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster, Pa.

BRANDY.

Brandy as a Medicine.

The following article was voluntarily sent to MR. H. E. SLAYMAKER, Agent for REIGART'S OLD WINE STORE, by a prominent practicing physician of this county, who has extensively used the Brandy referred to in the regular practice. It is recommended to the attention of those afflicted with INDIGESTION AND DYSPEPSIA.

BRANDY AS A MEDICINE.

This now much abused Alcoholic stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be used as a medicine of greater potency in the cure of some of the destructive diseases which sweeps away their annual thousands of victims. With a purely philanthropic motive, we present to the favorable notice of invalids—especially those afflicted with that miserable disease, Dyspepsia, a specific remedy, which is nothing more or less than BRANDY.

The aged, with feeble appetite, and more or less debility, will find this simple medicine, when used properly,

A SOVEREIGN REMEDY

For all their ills and aches. Be it, however, strictly understood that we prescribe and use but one article, and that is

Regart's Old Brandy,

Sold by our enterprising friend, H. E. SLAYMAKER. This brandy has stood the test for years, and has never failed, as far as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the preference over all other Brandies—no matter with how many jaw breaking French titles they are branded. One-fourth of the money that is yearly thrown away on various impotent dyspepsia specifics, would suffice to buy all the Brandy to cure any such case or cases. In proof of the curative power of

REIGART'S OLD BRANDY

In cases of Dyspepsia, we can summon numbers of witnesses—one case in particular we will cite.

A hard working farmer had been afflicted with an exhausting Dyspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject almost every kind of food; he had sour eructations constantly—no appetite—in fact he was obliged to restrict his diet to crackers and stale bread, and as a beverage he used McGrann's Root Beer. He is a Methodist, and then, as now, preached at times, and in his discourses often declaimed earnestly against all kinds of strong drink. When advised to try

REIGART'S OLD BRANDY

In his case, he looked up with astonishment; but after hearing of his wonderful effects in the cases of some of his near acquaintances, he at last consented to follow our advice. He used the Brandy faithfully and steadily; the first bottle giving him an appetite, and before the second was all taken he was a sound man, with a stomach capable of digesting anything which he choose to eat. He still keeps it and uses a little occasionally; and since he has this medicine, he has been of very little pecuniary benefit to the doctor.—A Practising Physician.
