AN AMERICAN CITIZEN

HELD IN ECUADOR AND IN DANGER OF HIS LIFE.

The International Case of Julio Santos—Protecting a Naturalized Citizen—A Good Chance for President Cleveland to Win Timely Laurels.

Washington Correspondence Baltimore Sun.

The case of Mr. Julio Santos, a native of Ecuador, but now a naturalized citizen of the United States and a political prisoner at Bahia, has excited much interest from the fact that it has called forth two resolutions from the House of Representatives, and that the government has sent a war vessel to Guyaquil to protect him.

Mr. Santos came to this country as a boy in 1880, and was entered at school with Mr. Onderdonk at Medfield, near Woodberry, Baltimore county, Md His two cousins, Mr. Flavio Santos, now a merchant in London, and Dr. Elio Santos, now in New York on a visit, had preceded him in the school. The boy immediately attracted attention by his indomitable industry and wonderful quickness of apprehension, especially in mathematics. Otherwise he was remarkably quiet and retiring. When he had completed his preparatory education he entered the University of Virginia. He soon made his mark there and became assistant professor of applied mathematics. He was subsequently employed on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad as engineer in locating the Chicago division in Indiana He also occupied a professor's chair in a Southern college. While at the University of Virginia he became naturalized. He returned to South America and entered into commercial life with his brothers.

At Mr. Onderdonk's school he was followed by his brother Santos E. Santos, the present head of the house of Santos H. Exia Hermano, Bahia de Caraquez. This young man accompanied Mr. Onderdonk when that gentleman reopened the college of St. James in Washington county, Md.

ARRESTED AS A REVOLUTIONIST.

At the early age of sixteen, by the death of his father, Santos E. Santos was compelled to assume the care of the business and of the family. The family consisted of his mother, seven brothers and five sisters. By his energy and skill in ten years he had raised the house to a very important place in the commerce of Ecuador, in fact he built up the town of Bahia. He was in New York making arrangements to open a branch house there when the revolution broke out. The news of the downfall of the house and the arrest of his brothers was to him as a thunderclap in a clear sky, as he knew that the house had sedulously kept clear of any political complications. In November a regiment of the "fueras legitimas," or government troops, without any suspicion on the part of the Santos family, fell upon them, broke into the house, destroyed their furniture, took possession of their silver, arrested the two brothers who were at home, the remaining brothers being in New York, and drove out the mother and sisters and used the house for an armory. Whatever property could be converted into cash they sold at auction. The brothers, Julio and Antonio, were carried off to prison. The fact of the arrest was kept from the knowledge of their mother, as her daughters feared the consequences of her knowing it. The officer, however, who had arrested them learning this, immediately sent a messenger to inform her that her sons were in prison and would be shot the next day. The effect upon her was that she fell to the ground to be raised up a corpse.

Mr. E. Santos receiving a telegram announcing this sad news, sailed immediately for Ecuador, but found on reaching Panama that the whole family were under a ban and were not allowed to enter Ecuador. The sisters by borrowing enough money to get a third class ticket to Panama had, under the care of a stranger, reached the city, having been exposed by the deck passage to the tropical sun and rains.

TARDY ACTION OF THE UNITED STATES.

Before leaving New York Mr. S. E. Santos took the proper steps to prove the fact of his brother's naturalization and have the whole matter put in the hands of the state department. Upon arriving at Panama he learned that the interference of the department had as yet been ineffective, and he immediately wrote to Mr. Onderdonk that he feared that his brother would be executed before the United States had made its influence felt. Mr. Onderdonk immediately interested Representatives McComas and Findlay, of Maryland, and A. S. Hewitt, of New York, in the matter On January 28 the whole matter was laid before the state department and navy department. The last telegram that the state department had received had been to the effect that the president had refused to recognize Julio Santos as a United States citizen. This telegram had lain in the office something like a week without any action. A telegram was sent to the commander of the Pacific squadron to send a vessel to Guayaquil. On the same day the House of Representatives, by a resolution offered by Mr. McComas, requested to know what had been done by the state department in Mr. Santos' case. By a subsequent resolution offered by Mr. McComas the House empowered the state department to take any proper steps for the protection of Santos and his property, and, acting on this, the secretary telegraphed to the vice consul at Guayaquil to see Mr. Santos and to employ counsel at the expense of our government. The Wachusetts has arrived at Guayaquil and has made a demand for Mr. Santos, the American citizen, but the response has not yet been received.

It happened that about a month before the arrest the Wachusets was at Bahia, and the officers made the acquaintance of Mr. Santos. In fact, as they came ashore one of them recognized Mr. Santos as a college friend at the University of Virginia. All of the sons but one, Antonio, have been educated by Mr. Onderdonk. Two of them are now at St. James' college, Mr. Onderdonk having consented to provide for them until Mr. Santos has extricated himself from his present troubles.

THE SITUATION IN ELCADOR.

At the successful termination of the last revolution, by which the dictator Vientimilla was deposed, a concordat was made by the present government with the Pope of Rome by which, in return for the support of his Holiness, a tax of 10 per cent. for the support of the church is levied on all the income. The ultramontane party, which includes all the rustic population of the interior, is largest in point of numbers, and the government recruits its forces from the interior. The cities and the commercial population, which have all the wealth, industry, enterprise and intelligence, favor the liberal party, of which Alfaro is the military leader. But as their existence depends upon their conservative position, they are compelled to be at least apparent favorers of the existing government. The revolution has cost the state 500 lives and $500,000 in Ecuadorian money, or $400,000 of our money. Other merchants besides Mr. Santos have been arrested and their property seized for the purpose of raising money to pay the soldiers, under the pretense of the disloyalty of the sufferers, while the really disloyal, with arms in their hands but no money in their pockets, have been allowed to go scot free. The latest news from Panama says that the president has, since the United States has taken hold of this case, bribed men to testify to Mr. Santos' complicity in the revolution. His family insist that he was the first who endeavored to dissuade Alfaro from his step.

JUDGE NONE LOST.

Judge none lost: but wait and see
With hopeful pity, not disdain;
The depth of the abyss may be
The measure of the night of pain;
And love and glory that may raise
This soul to God in after days.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

When in the Wrong Channel

The bile wreaks grievous injury. Headaches, constipation, pain in the liver and stomach, jaundice, nausea ensue. A few doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will reform these evils and prevent further injury. It is a pleasant aperient, its action upon the bowels being unaccompanied by griping. The liver is both regulated and stimulated by it, and as it is very impolite to disregard disorder of that organ, which through neglect may culminate in dangerous congestion and hepatic abscess, the Bitters should be resorted to at an early stage. Failure to do this renders a contest with the malady more protracted. Fever and ague, rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles, are remedied by this fine medicine, and the increasing infirmities of age mitigated by it. It may be also used in convalescence with advantage, as it hastens the restoration of vigor. au3-lyeod&w

PNEUMONIA PREVENTED.

OYSTER BAY, QUEENS COUNTY, NEW YORK, April 11, 1883.

I believe I have been saved from a terrible illby ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

About a month ago I was attacked with a violent pain in my chest, accompanied by fever and great difficulty in breathing. I apprehended pneumonia, which is so prevalent at present; I went to bed and applied one of Allcock's Plasters between my shoulder blades and two on my chest. In an hour my breathing was much easier, in two hours the pain had left me, and the next morning I awoke perfectly free from fever, I went about my business as usual, and at the end of a week took the plaster off.

For the last ten years Allcock's Plasters have been used by my family with the best effect in colds, coughs and pain in the side and back.

HAVING DISSOLVED PARTNERSHIP and permanently closed the Chestnut Street Iron Works, I desire to inform my old patrons and the public generally, that I am still in the business, being located in the Penn Iron Company's Works, North Plum street, where I am making Iron and Brass Castings of every description, and will be pleased to serve all who may favor me with their patronage. From 40 years experience in the business and using the best material and employing the best mechanics, I am satisfied I can guarantee entire satisfaction. Castings made from a mixture of iron and steel which are more reliable for strength and durability than the best cast iron known. V teeth roll pinions, rolls and rolling mill work a specialty. Castings made of very soft iron, and brass castings of every description. I have all the patterns of the well and favorably known Mowrer Corn and Cob Crusher, refitted and improved, also on hand. Mills completely fitted up or in parts, to replace old ones which have been in use for years, guaranteeing them to give satisfaction.
