Wednesslap Evening—Jacob H. Bachman, of Strasburg township, was put on frial on a charge of forgery. From the testimony of the commonwealth's witnesses it appeared that Bachman was an agent in the employ of the Singer Sewing Machine company, and on October S. ISS, he returned to the company's office, in this city, a promissory note bearing the signature of Hannah Brown, of Strasburg township, stating that he had sold a machine to that lady. When the note was presented for payment to Mrs. Brown she pronounced the mark to ber name a forgery and the company's agent prosecuted Bachman for forgery.
The defense was that the note was genuine, that Mrs. Brown made her mark thereto and admitted that she had done so to a number of persons. Bachman also showed a good character for honesty. The jury rendered a verdict of not guilty and Imposed the costs on the prosecutor, A. J. Mitchell.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

4 Fire at the Almshouse Which Might Have Resulted in Great Disaster.

This morning a slight fire occurred in the new county almshouse, and had it not been for the timely discovery of it by Superintendent Brock, it might have proven very serious. Mr. Brock was awakened about 2 o'clock by smoke, with which the building was filled from cellar to roof. He quickly ran down stairs and began making an exami nation of the rooms.

He soon discovered that the cause of the trouble was in the shoemaker shop, which is situated on the ground floor in the eastern end of the building. Upon entering this room Mr. Brock found the wood work of one of the windows to be on fire. He attached the line of hose belonging to the institution to the plug in the yard and with the aid of Mr. Rohrer, who resides near by, had the fire extinguished in a short time. After the smoke had cleared away they found that one side of the sill had been badly burned. A spark from the frame fell upon the shoemaker's bench and, after burning through it, died out. Mr. Brock thinks the damage by fire will

Mr, Brock thinks the damage by fire will not be more than $15 or $20, and nothing was injured by the the water. When the inmates of the building discov-ered the smoke they were terribly excited. In a short time all were down stairs and many had their bundles packed ready to leave. Mr. Brock succeeded in convincing them that there was no danger and all were induced to return to their bads. None of the people are insane ; they are merely pappers. Mr. Brock gives his theory of the origin of the fire. He says that a number of matches had been left lying on the win-dow where the fire caught, and he thinks that one was carried under the sill by a mouse. It ignited in some way there, and the fire may have been slowly burning for some time.

LOW PRICES THE CAUSE.

The Opera House Jammed to See "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Last Evening. The administration, weather and everything eise may change as often as they please, but nothing seems to effect the popularity of that good old play of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," especially when it is given at low prices. A company of that kind, under the manage-ment of that popular old showman, S. Draper, struck Laucaster yesterday, and their recognition at the opera house has in light was almost as warm as that of Grover Cleve-land at Washington. Never in the history of Fulton opera house has a larger crowd been accommodated within its walls. At eight o'clock the lobby of the theatre was standing full, and probably two hundred people anable to gain admittance were unned away. To give the public some idea of the jam it is only necessary to give the figures. The building has a scating capacity of GIT down stairs, but hast night Si2 were put in. There are scats for 306 on the gallery, but almost from that high perch last evening. The administration, weather and everything the blocd-hounds from that high perch last evening. The company is about as good as those usually seen playing the piece, if not better, and the show is well worth the prices charged. The best person in the troupe is Miss Kato Partington, who comes from a well-known family of "Uncle Tomers." She acts the part of Topsy well and her singing, dancing and banjo playing were pleasing. Sam holter acted Uncle Tom yery fully, dying in the good old way. There was some "doubling" among the other members of the company, but they managed to get out all right. A feature of the show, is the singing of a colored quartette, who were loudly ap-planded. The blood-hounds were very here, looking, but did no damage. To-night Uncle Tom will be whipped to death for the Loog, couth time at the opera house.
